TRADE LEADERS MAY DEBATE ON POLICE DISPUTE

ATTEMPT TO STIFLE ACTION IS EXPECTED

Commissioners to Deal With Controversy Over Demotion Tomorrow.

The sympathies of the powerful public order committee of the Washington Board of Trade, which meets tonight in the Raleigh Hotel, seem definitely aligned with Chief of Detectives Frank S. W. Burke in his fight against the ouster move of Superintendent of Police Pelham D. Glassford.

That the Burke-Glassford controversy will be aired at the meeting seemed probable last night, although any formal action on the dispute appeared remote because prominent members of the committee desire not to seem prejudiced on either side.

The meeting, which will be presided over by Odell S. Smith, chairman of the committee, will be on the eve of adjudication by the District Commissioners of Gen. Glassford's recommendation that Inspector Burke be ousted from the Detective Bureau. Mr. Smith said last night:

"It has been the custom of the board to deal with principles and not with personalities. While some of the members may try to inject the controversy into the meeting I will have to try to hold it down if possible."

Sees Authority Exceeded.

"I know that the District Commissioners will decide this case on its merits. I am sure they will not remove Inspector Burke unless he has done something flagrant, and I don't believe he has."

"As I said last week, I believe Gen. Glassford exceeded his authority when he ordered Inspector Burke to retire or be reduced. Inspector Burke's application for retirement was certainly made under duress. Inspector Burke is beloved by his friends on this committee."

"The members of this committee are for Inspector Burke 100 per cent," said John Lewis Smith, a prominent attorney and an influential member of the committee.

Though efforts are being made to prevent the committee from taking any definite action on the dispute, it is known that influential members are desirous of passing a vote of con-

Ship Sunk by Berg, Crew Reaches Port

Crash With Huge Body of Ice Is Described by Rescued 29.

Churchill, Manitoba, Oct. 9 (A.P.). The crew of the Bright Fan, British grain carrier which sank in Hudson Straits last week after collision with an iceberg, came ashore here today from the steamer Pensilva, which picked them up. They said the Bright Fan struck a huge berg that towered 100 feet above the water.

Three and a half hours after the ship struck the iceberg at 4:30 a. m., October 1, lifeboats had been manned and the crew of 28 and her captain had left the boat.

Eight minutes after the last lifeboat had pulled away, members of the crew said, the Bright Fan dipped her bow, listed, and then dipped out of sight—first victim of shipping since the northern seaway was opened to commerce last summer. The crew was picked up by the ice breaker McLean a few hours later, then transferred to the Pensilva, inbound for grain.

Murder and Suicide Cause Street Jam

Crowd Gathers After Jealous Former Suitor Kills Husband and Self.

The fashionable upper Connecticut avenue section was thrown into a turmoil last night when a jealous suitor of a recently married colored woman shot her, killed her husband and then committed suicide in the janitor's quarters at 4707 Connecticut avenue.

More than 500 persons were attracted to the scene by the screaming police and fire rescue squad cars, and traffic was paralyzed by the crowds that filled the thoroughfare.

A man known only as Green, who was a suitor of Mrs. Clarence Rowan, the wife of the janitor, went into their quarters. He instantly killed Rowan, shot the wife several times and then killed himself. Mrs. Rowan is in a serious condition in Emergency Hospital.

Tammany Welcomes Walker at Ship Side

Tugs With Jazz Band Go Down Bay to Noisy Liner Greeting.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The stalwarts of New York's Democracy got up at 7 o'clock this morning, boarded two green tugboats, a jazz band in the bow of one, and chugged down the bay to bid former Mayor James J. Walker a rousing welcome home from abroad.

The orchestra played "Of Thee I Sing, Baby" and "Lover, Come Back to Me" as the organization leaders, puffing cigars, steamed down to quarantine, where the liner Europa loomed through the morning mists.

Tammany Leader John F. Curry, who had binoculars, spied Walker first. The former mayor, with George Collins, his secretary, was waving from the bridge.

The orchestra started to play "Happy Days Are Here Again." Curry frowned and motioned with his arms. "Play Tammany," he ordered.

John H. McCooney, the rotund Brooklyn leader, laboriously climbed a ladder to the top deck and waved his hat. Thomas Farley, the ousted sheriff, bellowed "hurrah!"

Curry seized a megaphone.

"Welcome home, Jimmy!" he bellowed up at the bridge.

Walker then found a megaphone, too.

"I wish you knew how good you look to me," he yelled back, and the politicians cheered and cheered.

"You look good to us, too," Curry called back.

"You were so wonderful, so marvelous—" the saxophones moaned.

"At last I've found out what the world looks like at 6 o'clock in the morning," came back from the bridge.

Curry sent his son Bernard, a freckle-faced boy of 14, for the alto

Terhune Dog Is Missing; Believed Racket Victim

East Orange, N. J., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Wolf III, a famous collie from the Albert Payson Terhune kennels, was missing tonight, and Maj. C. Roy Dickinson, publisher, reiterated a belief that the dog, valued at $2,000, had been kidnaped.

After a futile day of search and visits to five dog pounds, Maj. Dickinson said:

"I imagine there is a racket in dogs working around here. During the past four or five days several people in this neighborhood have had their dogs stolen, and all of them were valuable animals."

SOUTH SAFE, LONG TELLS ROOSEVELT

Border States Likely, He Says on First Meeting With Party Nominee.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Senator Huey P. Long, free-speaking advocate of Franklin D. Roosevelt during the Chicago Democratic convention, met the presidential nominee for the first time today and told him the Southern States were "in the bag."

Senator Long said that the South was sure to go Democratic this year and that Gov. Roosevelt had an excellent chance of carrying the border States as well.

Word of conditions in the South and East was brought to Gov. Roosevelt as he rested from the rigors of four weeks' campaigning that has taken him from one end of the country to the other.

His day began with worship in the Episcopal Church near his Hyde Park home. In addition to his talk with Senator Long, he conferred with Homer Cummings, former national committeeman for Connecticut, and went over the plans for his forth-

12 FILIPINOS KILLED IN MOROS' OUTBREAK

Constabulary Force Falls Into Outlaw Ambush on Island of Jolo.

Manila, P. I., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Twelve soldiers of the Philippine constabulary were reported killed, two were wounded and three were missing in an engagement today with Moro outlaws near Cull Cull, on the island of Jolo, in the southern Archipelago.

A dispatch received here from Col. Luther Stevens, commanding the Mindanao and Jolo department of the constabulary, said First Lieut. Vicente Alagan was among those killed.

A constabulary detail of 23 was ambushed by the outlaws, the dispatch said. A relief party of 50, led by Capt. Leon Angeles, captured the outlaw camp with a loss of two men killed and two wounded.

Col. Stevens said he was sending an army launch to Jolo and he was confident the department forces would care for the situation.

The dispatch did not give the number of Moro casualties, nor the names of the leader.

There has been no other trouble reported in Jolo recently.

One Slain, Several Hurt In Disorders in Germany

Berlin, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Political passions flamed over the week-end in scattered sections of Germany, and the casualties included one slain and three wounded at Lohrsdorf. In Berlin five persons were wounded in three clashes.

The political clashes usually found Nazis and Communists participating, in advance of the general election called for November 6.

Zoo May Board Animals Philadelphia Cannot Feed

Dr. Mann Studies Possibility of Taking Some of Its Animals to Prevent Slaughter Because of Lack of Funds.

To prevent slaughter of many of the rare animals of the Philadelphia Zoo the National Zoological Park may temporarily house some of the animals. The Philadelphia Zoo, second largest in the United States, may close its gates soon due to financial troubles, it was learned yesterday from Dr. William M. Mann, director of the zoo here.

Hearing the Philadelphia Zoo was in trouble, Dr. Mann telephoned C. Emerson Brown, its director, last night and learned of the dire straits into which it has fallen.

Mr. Brown told Dr. Mann that "we are living from hand to mouth up here" and that the Philadelphia Zoological Society, a private organization, has done everything possible to stave off the inevitable, but has reached the end of its rope.

The society is waiting anxiously for the convening of the city council soon, when the question of an appropriation for the zoo will be brought up.

"If there is no appropriation forthcoming," Brown said, "we are lost and the only thing we can do is close the gates and kill some of the animals, as there is no market for them, though some of the rarer specimens may be loaned to other zoos."

It was learned that Brown will come to Washington next week for a conference with Dr. Mann relative to the position of the Philadelphia Zoo.

Formerly the city government of Philadelphia appropriated $50,000 for the upkeep of the zoo, but was recently reduced to $25,000. In return for this children were allowed to visit the park free once each year. Ordinarily there was a 25-cent admission charge, but the reduction in the appropriation necessitated that to be

TRADE CHIEFS THINK LOWEST LEVEL PASSED

Majority of 100 Who Answer Quiz Are Optimistic.

SURE IMPROVEMENT BUT SLOW, FORECAST

New York Banking House Makes Public Results of Questionnaire.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Confidence that the extreme low point of the business depression has been passed and that revival, although it may be slow and irregular, is under way, was expressed by an overwhelming majority of more than 100 business leaders in replies to a telegraphic questionnaire.

The canvass of business sentiment was made last week by Lehman Brothers, private banking house, and the findings were made public today. The bankers' conclusions were that in all but a few industries there is ample evidence of definite improvement and return of hope for a slow but sure climb, during the winter and spring months.

The opinion that the low point was passed in the summer was described by Lehman Brothers as "nearly unanimous." It was explained that "the large majority were definitely of the opinion that the bottom had been seen, while the small number who voiced no definite conviction, were at least hopeful that this was the case."

Outlook for Employment.

Inventories were reported by nearly all as ranging from normal to very low.

The replies indicated, however, that there is not much likelihood of increased employment, except seasonal, until there has been an increase in business volume of around 15 to 20 per cent, the banking house found.

Following are expected from the replies of a number of leading executives, who were willing to be quoted:

Theodore Ahrens, president, American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation: "We believe the low point of the business depression has been passed."

Thomas A. Buckner, president, New York Life Insurance Co.: "Loans applied for during September are below figures for same month last year. Indications and outlook are for steady, but constant improvement."

John A. Bush, president, Brown Shoe Co., Inc.: "We look forward to

Kin of Lady Astor Hurt in Air Crash

Reginald Brooks Strikes Pole While Flying Upside Down.

Hicksville, N. Y., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Reginald Langhorn Brooks, 30-year-old stunt flier, nephew of Lady Astor and son of the former Phyllis Langhorne, hit a telegraph pole while flying upside down at the Aviation Country Club today, and was critically injured. He suffered a fractured skull, a broken ankle and numerous minor injuries.

The accident occurred as Brooks was attempting to perform his "upside down landing," in which he comes in for a landing upside down and then flips over. A crowd of society persons saw the crash.

Brooks, whose name is in the New York Social Register, has been interested in aviation for many years. He completed an 11,000-mile air tour of the United States and Mexico in 1930, and helped prepare the Columbia for its flight to Germany in 1927.

$40,000 Rum Load Seized With Ship

Crew of Four Also Taken by Coast Guard Off Massachusetts.

Woods Hole, Mass., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Coast Guard base here reported today the capture of the 50-foot speedboat Crusader, her crew of four and seized contraband liquor valued at $40,000.

The capture was made by Patrol Boat 237 after the speedboat had been detected running without lights off Falmouth in Nantucket Sound, the Coast Guard said.

The crew gave their names as George Scanlon, Francus Correia and Nels Christiansen, all of Newport, R. I., and Roger T. Regan, of Atlantic City. They were brought to New Bedford for arraignment tomorrow and the liquor cargo was taken to Boston. The Crusader, the Coast Guard said, is valued at $30,000 and is registered to Max Kramer, of the Dorchester section of Boston.

TITULESCU AGREES ON ROUMANIAN POST

Action in Accepting Foreign Ministry New Surprise in Tense Situation.

Bucharest, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Nicholas Titulescu injected a sensational note into the uncertain political situation in Roumania tonight with a telegram announcing his readiness to take over the foreign ministry.

M. Titulescu only recently resigned as minister to the court of St. James because he opposed negotiations of Premier Vaida Voevod's government for a nonaggressive pact with Soviet Russia, and tonight's message was the first the public had heard that Titulescue had been offered the foreign portfolio.

There followed a curt communique from the government protesting against M. Titulescu's action, but adding that the portfolio had been offered to him last Friday and flatly refused.

Nevertheless, Premier Vaida-Voevod said his government was still willing to make M. Titulescu the foreign minister if he were willing to take over the responsibility, but it was added that the cabinet was united and had the full support of King Carol. M. Titulescu was inferentially advised that the present foreign policy must be continued under all circumstances.

It was recalled that there were conflicting reports from this capital on Friday that the Vaida-Voevod government had resigned and others that it was not resigning.

M. Titulescu was expected to reach Bucharest on Sunday.

Army Pilot Lands Plane As Propeller Flies Off

Wheaton, Ill., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The propellor of his plane flying to pieces at a height of about 2,000 feet, Les Marriner, former pugilist and one-time University of Illinois football player, made a successful landing in a field near here late today.

Marriner and his companion, A. H. Harris, of Chicago, escaped injury, but a Wheaton police squad car, returning from an investigation of the accident, struck another automobile, injuring Ellis Hale, driver of the squad car, and 4-year-old Barbara Simpson, of Maywood, neither seriously. Marriner, a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Corps, had taken the plane up from the municipal airport here.

Boy Dies Wedged In Elevator Shaft

Scores Work to Extricate Youth, Caught Between Car and Wall.

Chicago, Oct. 9 (U.P.).—Scores of firemen, doctors and tenants worked frantically but in vain tonight to extricate a 10-year-old boy from an elevator shaft.

The youth, Robert Rogers, was crushed when he tried to jump into the slowly moving freight car in an apartment building. The elevator dragged him upward until he was so tightly wedged against the shaft wall that the car stopped. Gordon Witt, with whom he had been searching the neighborhood for bottles, screamed and a tenant in the 36-flat structure rushed to the shaft. The latter summoned police and firemen. A doctor also was called and succeeded in getting inside the elevator. From there he administered sedatives to the boy.

Using picks, axes and acetylene torches, the firemen labored for more than two hours to release the suffering lad. But he was dead, despite the first aid treatment, when they pulled him from the shaft.

Plane of Von Gronau Down in Indian Ocean

Distress Signals Sent Out by World Fliers Reach Manila.

Manila (Monday), Oct. 10 (A.P.).—Forced down by a broken water pump, the plane in which Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau, German flier, and three companions were flying around the world, was being tossed around in rough water about 200 miles south of Rangoon in the Indian Ocean, today, said radio messages from the plane received here.

The position of the plane as given in the distress signals was 14.20 north latitude and 97.10 east longitude.

Capt. von Gronau, a German flier, left here September 30 with his three companions in continuance of their leisurely flight around the world which started from Germany several weeks ago. They intended to complete the world flight in Berlin late this month.

Capt. von Gronau was accompanied by Second Pilot Gert von Roth, Fritz Albrecht, radio operator, and Franz Hack, mechanic, when he took off in his Greenland Wal seaplane on July 22.

CALIFORNIANS FLEE SERIES OF QUAKES

Crack Train Is Derailed as Record Rainfall Halts Auto Traffic.

Brawley, Calif., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A severe earthquake shock, the eighth in two days, shook Brawley and El Centro at 2:45 p. m. today at the height of an intense rainstorm which previously had resulted in the derailment of a Southern Pacific passenger train, flooding of highways and damage to irrigation canals.

The earth tremor, most distinct of the 48-hour series, sent residents of the towns rushing into the downpour. Insecure buildings were deserted for shelter in more substantial structures.

The storm, extending over most of southern California, seemingly centered in the Imperial Valley region.

The accident to the train, the Golden State limited, in which no one but an unidentified itinerant was injured, occurred at 1:30 a. m., 12 miles southeast of Niland, Calif.

Proceeding to Los Angeles from Chicago by way of El Paso, the train struck a stretch of 40 feet where the railroads had been undermined by

Score Hurt as Shots End Political Parley in Dublin

Dublin, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Nearly a score of persons were injured in a riot today at Kilmallock, County Clare, during a meeting of the oppositionists of former President William Cosgrave.

The partisan struggle developed among the audience, which was addressed by Gen. Richard J. Mulcahy. Police were outnumbered from the start. Members of the "white army" tried to eject a group of youths, apparently sympathizers of President Eamon de Valera, and a free for all developed during which revolver shots were fired. The youths finally were ejected.

INSULL IS REPORTED ON WAY TO GREECE

He Is Not Expected to Escape Extradition, However, by Latest Move.

Milan, Italy, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Samuel Insull, former utilities magnate who is wanted in Chicago on charges of embezzlement and larceny, purchased a ticket here last week for Athens, Greece, and was expected to arrive there late today.

His departure and that of his son, Samuel Insull, jr., who returned to Paris, was not learned until today. Authorities believed the father could not be extradited from Greece, under the laws of that country, for the offenses he is charged with.

The only evidence of his departure was his purchase of the ticket and sleeper reservation for a 50-hour ride across Italy, Jugoslavia and Greece. His son left Friday night and it was assumed he put his father aboard the Orient Express, which left for Athens at 10:20 a. m. Friday. Reports the father had fled by airplane were denied by airport officials.

Although registering under their own names at Milan and Turin hotels, the Insulls escaped inquiry since arriving in Italy Wednesday.

Soon after registering at the hotel here Thursday afternoon, the Insulls went to a travel agency and asked the manager for tickets to Athens and Paris.

"I am Samuel Insull; you know who I am," the father was quoted as saying.

The manager, an English-speaking Italian, said he knew of the financial

5 Huge Teeth of Mammoth Found on Jersey Golf Links

Bone Fragments Also Show "True Elephants" Roamed Eastern United States Some 25,000 Years Ago; Tusks 9 Inches Long.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Five huge teeth and several bone fragments of a mammoth believed to have roamed over this section about 25,000 years ago, the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia announced today, have been discovered at a golf course near Blackwood, N. J.

The relics, the announcement stated, "constitute the largest single find of their kind ever recorded in the Eastern United States."

The teeth, which range from 3 by 5 by 7 to 4 by 5½ by 9 inches in size and weigh from 3¼ to 6¾ pounds each, are in a good state of preservation.

They were found within a small radius in what was once the bed of a fairly wide creek on the golf course of the Hidden Lake Country Club. A steam shovel excavating for a water hazard uncovered them at a depth of 4 feet. A workman reported the discovery and a representative of the academy was summoned.

"Whether they represent one or more of these enormous prehistoric creatures which may have come for a drink only to sink in the soft mud at the creek bottom can not be determined," the announcement said. "But they do offer the most impressive evidence to date of the mammoth's existence in this region, where it fed on vegetation nourished by water from the melting ice-cap which covered northern New Jersey and extended across northern Pennsylvania and on to the North Pacific Coast."

Edgar B. Howard, of the academy's department of vertebrate zoology, identified the teeth and bones as belonging to one of three species of "true elephants" which lived in North America during the pleistocene epoch. Best authorities, the announcement said, believe this species crossed into Alaska from Siberia when a land bridge was supposed to have existed.

Man Is Slugged in New Attack on Highway.

District Tags on Car Recovered Close to Harper's Corner.

While terror-stricken residents of St. Marys County, Md., remained in their homes rather than venture onto the State highways after dark, an automobile, bearing District of Columbia license plates, and believed used by the dreaded "Blackshirt" gang, was recovered last night by State police after a running gun battle near Harpers Corner.

For more than four days a trio of men, dressed in black shirts and wearing either masks or goggles, has spread terror throughout the community, and obtained more than $500 from seven victims.

Several of the victims have been injured in attempting to resist the bandits. Their latest escapade was reported early yesterday.

Assailants Use Blackjack.

Harold Davis, of New Market, Md., was driving along the highway near Mechanicsville shortly after 1 a. m. Two men standing in the center of the road attempted to flag him down. When he refused to stop another machine drew up beside him and a black-shirted man, wearing a mask, stepped onto his running board.

The man threatened him at pistol point, Davis said, but he succeeded in knocking him from the side of the car. The other machine pulled directly in front of his car, forcing him to stop, he said.

The two men, who were standing in the roadway, jumped to his machine and started to pull him to the ground. When he put up a struggle, Davis reported, he was struck over the head with a blackjack and knocked unconscious.

Roads Are Patroled.

Recovering about 45 minutes later, Davis said his assailants had fled. Two State policemen discovered him lying beside his machine. A quantity of money he was carrying was still in his pocket, the bandits apparently having been frightened off before searching him.

An extra detail of State police was assigned to patrol duty. Bands of irate citizens, forming a posse of automobiles likewise scoured the roads throughout the day and late last night.

Policeman J. C. Gates, of the State police, patroling near Harpers Corner, sighted the car, which was recovered last night.

The driver of the car, he reported, turned off the lights when starting to pass him. Gates fell in behind, and the machine's lights remained dark as it roared down the highway, attempting to elude pursuit.

After several shots were fired at the fleeing car, Gates said, it suddenly came to a stop, and its two oc-

RITCHIE ADDRESSES BRIDGEPORT RALLY

Asks That Administration Be Not Trusted to Bring Nation From Slump.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland attacked the Republican farm, tariff, prohibition and fiscal policies in a campaign address at a Democratic rally here today, and asked "the American people not to trust the administration to bring us out of the valley of despair."

"If the Republican policies are unsound, as they are, let us change," said the white-haired governor, who was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

"Led by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has shown knowledge, integrity and breadth of experience, our party can lead the Nation out of the morass. The Republican policies brought us into this valley and should not be trusted to bring us to the heights of prosperity."

Gov. Ritchie told the guests at a dinner, for which more than 400 tickets were sold, that the Federal Farm Board was "foredoomed to failure because it ran into collision with the laws of supply and demand." At Des Moines, he said, "President Hoover admitted this great effort had blown up."

"The President said he had become convinced the price stabilizing feature of the board should be repealed," said Ritchie. "It took a costly three years of experience to the taxpayers to show him this."

Hits G. O. P. Wet Plank.

On the tariff the governor said:

"No nation can pay its debts unless the channels of world trade are kept open. The Republican tariff policy has deprived the nations of the benefit of American markets almost entirely and has practically ruined our own export trade."

Gov. Ritchie was applauded when he told his hearers that Maryland for ten years had been leading the agitation for prohibition repeal.

"When Mr. Hoover took office," he said, "prohibition already had broken down. He appointed the Wickersham commission, but in his message transmitting that report, he misrepresented the facts. He brushed aside the truth as his own commission had found it.

"The Republican prohibition plank will not cure the ills of the present system. It does not promise to take prohibition out of the Constitution. The Republican plank would still preserve the enforcement bureaucracy to harass the American people."

Forecasts Billion Deficit.

Gov. Ritchie, in discussing the Government's finances, charged that a "deficit is now being recreated and the prospects are that it will be well over the billion mark by the end of this fiscal year."

"We are taxed to the limit of our endurance," he said. "The Republicans can not be relied upon to guide us out. They argue we should not change horses in the middle of the stream.

"That does not apply, for we have already crossed the stream. Our ship of state has been rudderless, leaderless and off keel. Now we should scrap the ship and get a new one."

In opening his address, Ritchie appealed to independent voters to support the Democratic candidates.

"I have read that many people are going to vote the Socialist ticket as a protest," he said. "If you want to protest, make it a protest against the Republican policies, which brought us to this situation. A Socialist vote is really a halfway vote for the Republican candidates."

Gov. Ritchie was accompanied here by David C. Wine Brenner, Maryland's secretary of state, and Robert A. Sindall, chairman of the State Athletic Commission.

State Senator Fred Atwater, who recently precipitated a question as to entertainment of the visitor when he planned a reception for Gov. Ritchie at his home, greeted the guest at a reception at the home of National Committeeman Archibald McNeil prior to the dinner. Senator Atwater, who had scheduled his reception for the same hour as that to be given by McNeil, dropped his plans when Gov. Ritchie sent word he would be McNeil's guest.

Senator and Mrs. Atwater arrived at McNeil's home a few minutes after the governor. Gov. Ritchie, who had met him in Boston, recognized him immediately and greeted him in friendly fashion. Together with Mr. and Mrs. McNeil they talked several minutes before the governor's attention was occupied by other guests.

Gov. Ritchie left for New York shortly after the conclusion of the dinner.

Roosevelt Holds Lead In Polls, Farley Says

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, announced tonight that a tabulation made at Democratic national headquarters of polls taken throughout the country by newspapers, magazines and other agencies during the past week showed the following:

Roosevelt, 878,005; Hoover, 626,999; Thomas, 63,137; others, 16,372.

EIGHT QUAKES HIT 2 WESTERN TOWNS

flood waters pouring down from the Chocolate Mountains.

The locomotive, express car, baggage car, club car and a day coach were derailed, but remained upright; six Pullmans were detached and rerouted to Los Angeles through the Imperial Valley and all other trains were compelled to adopt that detour.

The itinerant was treated for bruises at an El Centro hospital.

The downpour approached record proportions after the quake. At 1 p. m., a reading by the Imperial Valley weather bureau showed a precipitation of 1.5 inches, greater than the entire preceding rainfall of the year.

No serious crop loss was reported, damage to irrigation ditches being confined, according to first reports, to the northern end of the district.

Drivers of motor stages plowing into Brawley through the water reported many tourists were stalled on the flooded highways. Water reaching to steering wheels was rushing across depressions in the roads, they said, and a 17-mile detour from the Imperial County line toward Indio was almost entirely under water.

Railroad officials estimated the washout would be repaired and the track cleared by midnight.

Action by Parties Should Candidate Die Explained

Second Convention Would Be Held on Smaller Scale and New Nominee Would Be Selected on Same Procedure as at Initial Gatherings.

What procedure would be taken if either or both of the leading presidential nominees should die before the election?

Several politically minded readers have directed this inquiry to The Washington Post recently, and with a view to settling the issue, The Post has passed it on to the authorities in the two main parties. They have supplied the following information:

At the close of the Democratic and Republican national conventions the final business transacted was a resolution to the effect that in the event of the death of any of their candidates the national committee of either party was empowered to hold another convention of that party in which the death occurred, but on a smaller scale than the regular convention.

Instead of the usual number of delegates allowed to take part in the convention representing the various States, Territories and possessions of the United States, only two delegates from each State, territory and possession would constitute the second convention to elect another candidate thus making a total, for either convention, of 108 delegates, instead of 1,100 or 1,500, as the case for the regular convention of either party.

The method of voting and electing the candidate would not differ in any way from the first election. The procedure of nominating and balloting would be exactly the same only with a more compact group of voters.

LONG INFORMS ROOSEVELT SOUTHERN STATES ARE SAFE

coming Southern trip. He was told that in Connecticut the decision of Alfred E. Smith to take an active part in the drive for votes was considered to have improved conditions.

Senator Long came to the Roosevelt estate shortly after the Roosevelts returned from church and waited for some time to see Mr. Roosevelt.

He told newspapermen he had just come to meet "the President."

"I've never seen him," Long said, talking to the group from one of the front steps of the Roosevelt home and moving away from a palm leaf that persistently jabbed into his neck.

"You see, I left Chicago before he came. My work was finished when he was nominated."

He was asked if he intended to invite the New York Governor to visit Louisiana during his Southern trip.

"We'd be glad to see him down there, but he's not needed," he replied. "We are more interested in seeing him go where he is needed more."

Senator Long said he had not been making any speeches in the campaign so far.

States "In the Bag."

"I've had plenty of politics of my own and am just through with them," he said. "I may go on the stump later, but not in the South."

The States he said were "in the bag" for the Democrats included the South and the border States—Tennessee, Missouri, Kentucky, Maryland, West Virginia and Oklahoma.

"I've been asked to speak in several places," he said.

Long said he would return to New York today to spend a day there during which time he would see James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and other party officials.

While he was talking, Mrs. Roosevelt arrived in an automobile and alighted at the front steps.

Long introduced himself and was welcomed graciously.

"You know," he observed as she passed into the house, "there's a striking resemblance between Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Coolidge."

Southern Trip Planned.

Plans for Gov. Roosevelt's southern trip are virtually completed. The tentative plans call for his departure from New York City on October 18, on an eight-day trip that will bring him back to Albany October 25.

Under the plans as they stand, he would visit Baltimore October 18; Raleigh and Atlanta, October 19; Warm Springs, October 20, leaving there October 21 for St. Louis on a route that might take him either by way of Birmingham, Nashville and Louisville, or through Chattanooga and Louisville, to arrive at St. Louis, October 22. From that point his route probably will take him to Springfield, Ill., and Indianapolis, October 23; Wheeling, W. Va., and Pittsburgh, October 24; Buffalo, Rochester and Albany, October 25.

Such a journey would take him into the border territory of Maryland, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri. It would bring him for the third time since he started his campaign with his acceptance speech at Chicago into Illinois. He made rear platform appearances in southern Illinois as he began his journey to the West Coast four weeks ago. He stopped at Chicago on his return from the West.

Carle C. Conway, chairman, Continental Can Co.: "The general belief is that the prices of food commodities have reached bottom and indications point to somewhat advancing prices."

F. L. Dame, chairman, the North American Co.: "I believe that the low point of the business depression has been passed."

A. R. Erskine, president, Studebaker Corporation—"Outlook is good for substantial improvement because new models and values will undoubtedly stimulate buying and obsolete cars are of unprecedented number."

Optimism for Next Year.

Clark Howell, editor, Atlanta Constitution—"We feel this year is undoubtedly the low point, and that next year will mark decided upturn."

K. R. Kingsbury, president, Standard Oil Co. of California—"In my opinion the first step toward definite recovery in business is to put the unemployed back to work through the plan now being advocated by the banking and industrial committees of the twelve Federal districts, which aims to divide the jobs that exist among those capable of gainful employment."

John McKinley, president, Marshall Field & Co.—"I believe that from now on business generally will improve. There will be fluctuations, of course, but the tendency will be for the better."

"Hope Displaces Despair."

Arthur W. Milburn, president, Borden Co.—"Hope has displaced despair. This must precede commercial improvement, as to which there seems to be slowly accumulating evidence of existence."

C. R. Palmer, president, Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc.—"We believe that the low point of the business depression was passed at the end of July."

B. A. Rowe, president, W. T. Grant Co.—"We feel sure that the low point of business has been passed and that we can look forward to steady improvement."

W. B. Storey, president, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co.—"Believe worst probably over, but recovery will be slow and will be determined largely by recovery of buying power by farmer."

R. E. Wood, president, Sears, Roebuck & Co.—"I believe that the low point of the business depression has been passed, though I can see little improvement unless there is a substantial rise in commodity prices."

Girl Who Knows History Expelled

Is Saved by Government Pamphlet Proving Her Wakefield Stand.

(Associated Press.)

A girl's insistence that George Washington was born at Wakefield, in Westmoreland County, Va., and not Mount Vernon, led to her expulsion from school, but a little Government pamphlet eventually saved her.

Horace M. Albright, Park Service director, recounted the story after the second visit of the girl to Wakefield National Monument this year. A year ago the girl and her mother visited the Virginia monument, and fortunately they took some Park Service literature home with them. Only a short time later the question of the first President's birthplace was in dispute in the girl's classroom, with the girl holding out for Wakefield and the teacher persisting it was Mount Vernon.

The girl's expulsion was ratified by the school board before the pamphlet was located to substantiate the child's correctness.

President Works On Speech to Bar

Delays Final Decision on Extending Program of Campaign Talks.

(Associated Press.)

After a strenuous week, President Hoover spent a quiet Sunday mostly within the confines of the White House and its extensive grounds. The Chief Executive, with Mrs. Hoover, attended Quaker services in Friends' Church on S street yesterday morning, and returned immediately to the Executive Mansion.

The President spent part of the afternoon in the Lincoln study of the Executive Mansion, working on the rough outline of an address he will deliver Wednesday night before the American Bar Association convention.

The Chief Executive reached no final decision upon various suggestions that have come to him from political and governmental lieutenants that he expand his campaign plans beyond the originally scheduled three addresses, two in the West and one in the East, to include a tour across the continent to California during the closing days of the campaign.

Otto H. Kahn Reported To Be Out of Danger

ROOSEVELT THANKS CHILD FOR SUPPORT

Head of "G.O.P. Democrats" Group Reveals Letter From Nominee.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Richard Washburn Child, as chairman of the Republicans-for-Roosevelt League, today made public a letter from Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in which the Democratic presidential nominee said he was gratified to know he was to have "the aid of progressive thinkers regardless of party affiliations."

Child, former Ambassador to Italy, said he had sent a telegram to Gov. Roosevelt recently in which he said, in part:

"You are furnishing and in office will furnish hope to the millions who have found neither the human understanding nor the efficient results that we Republicans expected during the past four years. Yours will be an administration of cohesion and of cooperation with a Democratic Congress. You may not realize that your election will do more to restore and reorganize the Republican party than anything else could do, but this is so."

The reply, written from the executive mansion at Albany, on October 7, follows:

"I am glad that the Republicans-for-Roosevelt League has pledged its support of my candidacy. This is not because of any selfish interest, but because it is gratifying to know that I am to have the aid of progressive thinkers, regardless of party affiliations, not only before, but after, election.

"The times are adapted to a minimum of partisanship. The day is one for cooperation drawn from all the elements, economics, social and political, in our national life, and I recognize this, just as you have recognized it.

"Had I not been certain that I could promise a better cohesion of all elements in working out a program of liberalism and stability under American traditions, I would not have accepted the nomination of my party.

"Were I not now sure that I can promise a more united effort to meet our national need, I would not accept, as I do in the spirit of the American fellowship, the support you and your Republican associates will give me."

Birth Control Held "Pagan" by Prelate

Archbishop Opens Session of National Council of Catholic Women.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Delivering the sermon at a solemn pontifical mass which opened the annual convention of the National Council of Catholic Women here today, Archbishop John T. McNicholas, of Cincinnati, said birth control is "a pagan practice of the modern world." He urged women of the council "to stand as a body against this evil" and stand apart from "all others who do not condemn this subversive doctrine."

The mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. Pietro Humasoni-Biondi, apostolic delegate to the United States. Approximately 500 women from throughout the country are attending the conference, which will extend through Wednesday.

The Rev. Dr. John A. Ryan, director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D. C., spoke on the Pope's plan for reestablishing social order by organizing men into occupational groups, similar to medieval guilds, rather than into "employes." This plan was contained in a recent encyclical of Pope Pius XI, which Father Ryan reviewed.

Carolina Indians Vote Ban Charged

G. O. P. Senate Candidate Sends Protest to Gov. Gardner.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Jake Newell, of Charlotte, Republican candidate for the Senate, charged tonight that many Cherokee Indians on the reservation in western North Carolina who are eligible to vote are not being allowed to register.

Newell made public letters he has written to the State board of elections and to Gov. O. Max Gardner protesting against what he described as a "crime against an industrious and peace-loving people to whom we have guaranteed the full rights of citizenship."

Although disclaiming any partisan motives in lodging his protest, Newell said most of the Indians are Republicans. The Republican senatorial candidate said he had made an investigation personally and had found that "several hundred Indians of considerable schooling, quite a number of them being college graduates, are absolutely barred from registration by registrars who themselves have had scant schooling."

Sao Paulo Democratic Chief Prisoner at Rio

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Francisco Morato, leader of the Sao Paulo Democratic party and one of those who proposed the recent revolt against the federal government, was brought to the capital tonight with a group of rebel prisoners. There was no announcement as to the government's procedure. Sao Paulo, Brazil, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The banks of Sao Paulo plan to reopen this week after having been closed by orders of the government to aid in returning conditions to normal in the former rebel state. The government proceeded today with its plan to bring complete order out of the chaotic conditions that followed the end of the three-month civil war.

Ambassador Sackett Arrives to Help G. O. P.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Frederick M. Sackett, American Ambassador to Germany, arrived on the Europa today saying he had come to look over the political situation.

Mr. Sackett said he was making the trip at his own expense, adding "I feel free to do as I please, and one thing I please to do is to do what I can to help in the election." He said there was little apparent difference between economic conditions in Germany and the United States, both of which were showing signs of improvement. During the past month he has been in Geneva attending the world economic conference.

Auto Jolt Fails to Part Girl, 8, and Her Candy

Dover, Ohio, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—June Vanalstyne, 8, retained her interest in a stick of candy today under circumstances generally considered adverse.

The child, while licking the candy, was struck by an automobile and bowled along for nearly 30 feet in front of the car, rolling over and over. Her hazardous progress halted, she arose, brushed off her dress and darted as fast as her legs would carry her to her brother across the street.

A slight abrasion to the back of her head was her only injury and through it all June clung grimly to the stick of candy, the consumption of which was interrupted but briefly.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Representative McReynolds to Start Carnival on Georgia Avenue.

Final preparations for the crowds expected on the carnival lot at Alaska and Georgia avenues tonight for the opening of the Democratic rally and first performance of the show and other exhibitions were completed last evening.

The finance committee, presided over by E. Roy Lewis, vice chairman, voted to send an expression of the committee's appreciation to Maj. E. Brooke Lee, on whose estate space was provided for this assemblage, and for his other services to further the success of the project.

Representative Sam D. McReynolds (Democrat), of Tennessee, will open the rally at 7 o'clock, and the various entertainment features will open their tent doors shortly after. Many diversions will be given the crowd whether they patronize the tent shows or not, including a free fireworks spectacle with its set pieces of Roosevelt and Garner; free band concerts and other displays.

The finance committee also discussed plans for putting on a week of stock company performances after conclusion of the carnival, October 22, for which one of the local theaters, now dark, will be reopened. Those attending included Mrs. Benjamin L. Dulaney, Arthur S. Browne, Daniel F. Hickey and E. Hilton Jackson.

Soldier Given 4 Years For Killing Cabaret Girl

Panama City, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Sergt. Bennie Langstein, of the United States Army, today was under sentence of four years imprisonment for the slaying of Judith Arango, a Panama City cabaret girl April 9.

Sergt. Langstein was found guilty of murder yesterday. He attempted unsuccessfully to take his own life after slaying the girl. His home is in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Curtis Is Taking Brief Rest in Billings, Mont.

Billings, Mont., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Feeling a want of rest at this point of his journey, Vice President Charles Curtis, who was scheduled to arrive tomorrow morning, slipped into Billings unheralded today.

The lull afforded the vice president some opportunity to attend to correspondence, but as news of his arrival spread he was greeted by many citizens at his hotel room. With Judge O. F. Goddard and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dillavou, all of Billings, Vice President Curtis attended services of the Methodist Episcopal Church tonight. Tomorrow evening he will speak at a Republican rally here.

Huge Soviet Power Plant Opens Today

American Engineer Expected to Get Order of Red Star at Ceremonies.

Dnieprostroy, U. S. S. R., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Government officials and Communist party leaders were among thousands of persons arriving here today for the formal opening tomorrow of the world's largest hydroelectric plant.

Newspapers of the nation hailed the construction of the plant as the most brilliant achievement of Soviet industry and outstanding proof of the ability of the Socialist system to achieve its aims.

Tomorrow's ceremonies are expected to include the bestowal of the Order of the Red Star on Col. Hugh L. Cooper, of New York, who designed and supervised the construction and who is already here. He would become the first foreigner to receive that decoration, given only for outstanding achievements in defense of the country.

Six members of his staff are expected to receive the Order of Lenin.

The gigantic plant is equipped with American machinery. It is being opened nearly two months ahead of schedule and is the major project of the five-year plan which is to be concluded by the first of the year.

Aimee McPherson, 42, Is Honored

Leaves Hospital to Thank Temple Congregation for "Love Offering."

Los Angeles, Oct. 9 (U.P.).—Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton celebrated her forty-second birthday today, by leaving a hospital to preach a sermon at her Angelus Temple. Jubilant over a "love offering" by her congregation and a shower of gifts from friends, the evangelist admitted her celebration had only one disappointment—the failure of her first grandchild to arrive as expected.

Mrs. Hutton was confined to the hospital for several days by an infection which followed an operation to remove a boil on her left elbow. She was weak and exhausted, and preached only a brief sermon.

Meanwhile Mrs. Rolf McPherson, daughter-in-law of the revivalist, entered a maternity hospital to await the arrival of her baby.

REED'S DEMOCRATIC LOYALTY QUESTIONED

G.O.P. Says Former Senator Was "Implacable Foe" of Wilson.

(Associated Press.)

The Republican national committee in a statement yesterday said Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt has enrolled "one of Woodrow Wilson's most implacable foes—James A. Reed, of Missouri—to perform for him one of the big chores in this campaign."

This has been done, the statement said, "scarcely three months" after the Democratic presidential nominee said in his acceptance speech at Chicago:

"Let us feel that in everything we do, there still lives with us, if not in body, the great indomitable, unquenchable, progressive soul of our commander in chief, Woodrow Wilson."

"It was James A. Reed," said the committee's statement, "who stood out as the most bitter opponent of the ideals of Woodrow Wilson. It was James A. Reed of whom Wilson wrote that he would 'not willingly consent to any further association with him.' * * *

"Why has Franklin D. Roosevelt so far forgotten the spirit of Woodrow Wilson as to pick the most deadly enemy of the living Wilson to reply for him to the great speech which President Hoover delivered at Des Moines last Tuesday?"

"The history of the World War period supplies the answer," the committee said, asserting that Reed, while in the Senate, fought President Wilson's appointment of Herbert Hoover as food administrator. It added:

"Failing in that, he conceived for Herbert Hoover one of the great hates which have been the ruling passions of his life. In the Senate he conducted a campaign of vituperation against Mr. Hoover that has had few parallels. * * *"

Saying Reed had been selected to speak to the farmers, the committee commented, "It will be interesting to the farmer to recall that Mr. Reed was one of the bitterest enemies of farm relief after the war."

Bridge Test Ends In Pennsylvania

Clevelander and Partner From Philadelphia Are Winners.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—William E. McKenney, of Cleveland (Ohio) Whist Club, and Dr. Joseph W. Shallcross, of this city, won the Pennsylvania State pair contract bridge championship, defeating 40 Eastern experts in play that lasted until early today.

Their grand total for the event, third and last of the annual tournament which opened last Wednesday, was 1,751. They won the first round, were runners-up in the second and finished with an average score in the final.

P. Hal Sims, of Deal, N. J., former member of the "Four Horsemen" bridge team, and his partner, Philip Coffin, jr., of New York, got off to a bad start in the last event and finished far behind the leaders. The Sims team of four, including Sir Derrick Wernher, of Deal; Johnny Rau, of New York, and Cyril E. Hepburn, of Philadelphia, captured the team of four championship.

Way-Maintenance Wages Found Low

Federal Bureau Finds Pay Insufficient to Support Families.

(Associated Press.)

In a report issued yesterday on "Welfare of Children of Maintenance-of-way Employes," the Children's Bureau of the Labor Department said none of the 469 section hands studied received what is considered the necessary minimum for supporting a family of four or five.

The bureau said this is in spite of the fact that the study was undertaken during the period from October, 1927, to June, 1929, "in what is now looked back upon as a period of prosperity."

The bureau found that the majority earned less than $1,000 per year.

WATSON AVERS GOLD WARNING WAS GIVEN

Asserts Senator Glass Was Present When Hoover Described Peril.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Watson (Republican), Indiana, in a statement last night said President Hoover told members of Congress, including Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, last February that legislation was necessary to prevent danger to the gold standard in the United States.

The statement issued by the Senate majority leader through the Republican national committee followed an assertion by Senator Glass last week that "at no period of the deliberations last spring and summer did any spokesman for the administration privately or publicly express the slightest concern for the gold standard."

Glass made this comment after President Hoover in Des Moines had said the United States was at one time within two weeks of going off the gold standard had not preventive measures been taken.

"The senator will perhaps remember," said Watson's statement, "the two-hour confidential conference of Senate leaders, including Senator Glass, called in February of last winter by the President, together with officials of the Treasury, the Federal Reserve system and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. In that conference the President and these gentlemen urged the great gravity of the situation and the necessity for immediate enactment of the legislation recommended by the President for extension of authority to the Federal Reserve system to enable them to prevent imminent jeopardy to the gold standard in the United States.

"I will recall that it was pointed out by these officials that under the foreign drains of gold and the hoarding then current, together with the inflexibility of the Federal Reserve laws, and despite our nominal gold holdings, we had at that time only about $350,000,000 of free gold and that losses to foreigners and hoarders were going on at the rate of $150,000,000 a week."

Watson added that Glass subsequently introduced the legislation proposed.

Senator Reed Back Here From Europe

Will Report to President Today on Paris and London Parleys.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, returned to the Capital last night from Europe, where he conferred with governmental executives of France and England as an unofficial envoy of the administration.

Pending a conference today with President Hoover, the Pennsylvania senator declined to comment on the result of his European parleys, which related principally to the Manchurian controversy.

Senator Reed, who is an opponent of war debts cancellation, was asked by the Government to undertake his European conferences after he had gone abroad for a rest. The Pennsylvanian will go immediately into the campaign for the Republican ticket. He is a member of the Senate foreign relations and finance committees and chairman of the committee on military affairs.

4 Famous Football Stars To Call on Hoover Today

Albie Booth (left), famous Yale star, and Chris (Red) Cagle, former West Point football ace, who will be among a noted group flying here to meet the President.

Booth, Cagle, Mays and Kelly Fly Here to Pledge Support.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A party of football stars and aviators will fly to Washington tomorrow to meet President Hoover and pledge him their support.

Albie Booth, the famous Yale player, who is to take the stump for the Republican party, issued a statement tonight on the eve of departure.

"As a representative of vast crowds of college men, and particularly those casting their votes this year, I am volunteering my services to play ball for the greatest quarter back the country has ever had," Booth said.

Other football players who will make the trip are "Red" Cagle, of the Army; "Shipwreck" Kelly, of Kentucky, and Eddie Mays, of Harvard.

Clyde Pangborn, round-the-world flier, is to be one of the pilots. Harold I. June, one of Admiral Byrd's South Pole pilots, will alternate at the controls, taking the place of Bernt Balchen, who was to have been included in the party but who is now in Los Angeles.

The stars plan to leave New York in their plane, The Forward Pass, this morning at 9:30.

They will be met at the Hoover field by John K. Hopkins, secretary to Ogden Mills, and will be conducted to the White House to meet the President at 12:30 p. m.

saxophone from the orchestra, and his secretary, Jim McInerney, for the tenor sax. The two then mounted to the upper deck, where McCooey was waving, and played together "East Side, West Side."

"Look, Jimmy!" the beaming Curry cried.

Jimmy looked, grinned and waved his yellow gloves. He picked up Admiral Togo, his dog, and held him up to look, too.

Large News Delegation.

"Where is Kerrigan?" Walker asked through his megaphone.

"He's on the cutter," came the reply.

"What did you say?"

"He's on the cutter."

"Oh, I thought you said he was under cover."

Charles Kerrigan, assistant to the mayor, was one of the first to greet Walker later and they conversed at length.

The Coast Guard cutter, loaded to the gunwales with reporters, photographers and newsreel men, came alongside then and the Tammany tugs steamed back to the wharf to prepare another greeting there.

On the cutter with the newspapermen, in addition to Kerrigan, were Morton Downey, the singer; State Senator John A. Hastings, Dudley Field Malone and Dr. William Schroeder, the former mayor's physician, among other of his friends.

A. C. Blumenthal overslept, but he came roaring up in a seaplane, landed alonside the cutter and scrambled aboard, his green suit somewhat wet.

Praises Nominee for Mayor.

Receiving the newspapermen on the sundeck, Walker's first words were an enconium for Surrogate John P. O'Brien, nominated as the Democratic mayoralty candidate last Thursday after Walker, in a radiogram from the liner, declined to run again. O'Brien was not among those who met the returning traveler.

"I can't say enough for Surrogate O'Brien," Walker declared warmly. "He is an excellent character and will always have the interests of the city at heart."

Walker said he was "profoundly happy to be home again," that he had made no plans for the future and said he expected to "go off and relax" for a while.

He looked well, and as dapper as ever. He wore a double-breasted grey plaid suit, with lapels on the vest and no cuffs on the trousers; a cream-colored shirt, with tab collar; black cravat in a small knot and the inevitable gray felt hat, with brim snapped down on the side.

The former mayor bade good-by to the turbaned Maharajah of Mysore, whom he had promised to visit in India, and to Ina Claire, the blonde actress.

Thousands Throng Pier.

There was an ovation as the liner came abreast of her Brooklyn pier, on which thousands were packed. A dozen tugs let go their whistles at once and kept them going for a full two minutes. The din was deafening.

On the pier Walker embraced the Tammany leaders to whom he had shouted off quarantine and some who had not gone down on the tugs. Bands played. Crowds cheered. Photographers' lamps flared.

At the head of one band—Hillside Boys School, of Troy, N. Y., caparisoned in blue and gold uniforms—the leaders of the Fifteenth Assembly District carried an ornate banner with the former mayor's picture: "Re-elect Mayor James J. Walker."

"We had it made thinking he was going to be nominated," explained Jack Morrisey, who bore it, "so we brought it along anyway."

It was a full hour after he stepped ashore before Walker got away from the pier. He left in a taxicab, joined Mrs. Walker in a waiting limousine a block away, and the two rode home alone.

Residents of the Bay Ridge section lined the streets for blocks in the vicinity of the pier.

Japanese Again Try To Rescue Two Britons

Newchwang, Manchuria, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A fresh effort to rescue Mrs. Kenneth Pawley and Charles Corkran, British citizens, who were captured by bandits and held for ransom on September 7, was made by Japanese authorities today.

A Japanese army captain and a detail of 30 men left for Panshan under orders to open direct negotiations with the bandits and to cooperate with the British authorities. Go-betweens have brought several letters from Mrs. Pawley and her companion asserting that the bandits plan to kill them unless heavy ransom is paid.

raised to 50 cents, consequently causing a reduction in the number of visitors.

Dr. Mann said last night that "it would be a crime to abolish the zoo."

Asked if he could house any of the animals for any length of time, Dr. Mann said his own zoo was pretty full, but that he might be able to find room for some of them.

The zoo in Philadelphia has the finest collection of anthropoid apes in the world and is the possessor of one of the four Indian rhinoceroses in captivity. This alone is valued at $20,000. The New York and London zoos each have one, and the other belongs to a circus in Europe. The society also is the possessor of one of the few pigmy elephants in captivity, only 6 feet high and worth more than $15,000.

WET 73D CONGRESS IS INDICATED BY QUIZ

Women's Poll of Nominees Shows Trend for Repeal by Demcorats.

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform today made public a preliminary report on the questionnaires sent candidates for the United States Senate and House with the comment by Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national chairman, that "a large wet Democratic majority in the Seventy-third Congress" was indicated.

The organization, which set out to query all candidates for Congress, announced it had received 228 replies from Democrats thus far and 170 from Republicans; that 227 Democrats favored outright repeal and one opposed it; that 105 Republicans favored repeal, 23 were opposed to it, and 42 gave answers which the organization statement listed as "evasive."

There was no announcement as to what percentage of the questionnaires sent were represented in the early returns.

The candidates were asked if they would support a resolution for straight repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the restoration to each State of its power to regulate liquor traffic.

Replies were tabulated from 23 States as follows:

California—Republicans, 3 yes, 1 no, 1 "evasive;" Democrats, 10 yes.
Idaho—Republicans, 1 no.
Illinois—Republicans, 1 yes, 1 "evasive;" Democrats, 9 yes.
Kentucky — Republicans, 3 no; Democrats, 9 yes.
Maryland—Republicans, 2 yes, 4 "evasive;" Democrats, 6 yes.
Massachusetts—Republicans, 12 yes, 8 "evasive;" Democrats, 15 yes.
Michigan—Republicans, 13 yes; Democrats, 17 yes.
Minnesota—Republicans, 2 yes; Democrats, 8 yes; Farmer-Laborites, 5 yes.
Mississippi—Democrats, 1 yes.
Missouri—Republicans, 8 yes, 3 "evasive;" Democrats, 11 yes.
New Hampshire — Republicans, 3 "evasive;" Democrats, 3 yes.
New Jersey—Republicans, 13 yes; Democrats, 15 yes.
New York—Republicans, 18 yes, 5 "evasive;" Democrats, 34 yes.
North Carolina—Republicans, 5 no; Democrats, 2 yes.
North Dakota—Republicans, 1 no; 1 "evasive;" Democrats, 3 yes.
Ohio—Republicans, 8 yes, 2 no, 7 "evasive;" Democrats, 24 yes.
Pennsylvania—Republicans, 17 yes, 8 no, 4 "evasive;" Democrats, 25 yes, 1 no; Republican-Democrats, 3 yes, 2 no.
Tennessee — Republicans, 2 no; Democrats, 2 yes.
Utah—Republicans, 1 "evasive."
Virginia—Republicans, 2 "evasive;" Democrats, 5 yes.
West Virginia—Republicans, 1 yes; 1 "evasive;" Democrats, 4 yes.
Wisconsin—Republicans, 6 yes, 1 "evasive;" Democrats, 23 yes; Progressives, 1 no.
Wyoming — Republicans, 1 yes; Democrats, 1 yes.

"It is apparent," said Mrs. Sabin, "that the members of the Democratic party are taking their plank far more seriously than the members of the Republican party as thus far only one of the 228 Democrats that we have heard from refuses to commit himself for straight repeal of the eighteenth amendment, while 105 Republicans repudiate the national plank and come out for straight repeal, 23 are apparently opposed to any change in the prohibition law and 42 Republicans evade an answer by noncommittal statements.

"As I am convinced that the majority of the people of the country want to be rid of prohibition, it seems to me that these returns indicate a large wet Democratic majority in the Seventy-third Congress."

POLICE ROW AIRING DUE IN TRADE GROUP

Burke Saw Waste of Men.

However, the subject of the meeting, "The Crime Prevention Bureau," may provide the opening wedge for a discussion of the dispute. When this bureau was proposed by Gen. Glassford, Inspector Burke approved of the creation of a squad to handle this work, but informed Gen. Glassford that it was his honest opinion that the use of from 25 to 40 men in this bureau was a waste of men and money.

It was Inspector Burke's opinion that this work could be handled adequately by four or five men. Gen. Glassford, however, placed an inspector, a captain, a lieutenant and about 25 men in the bureau. Since that time, however, he has cut it down so that there are now sixteen men in the bureau, and he has withdrawn the inspector.

While this subject is under discussion, it is believed, the Burke-Glassford controversy may be aired.

The climax of the fight is expected to be reached tomorrow when the Board of Commissioners is scheduled to decide on the recommendations of Gen. Glassford for the demotion of Inspector Burke from the rank of assistant superintendent to inspector and the reduction of Inspector O. T. Davis to the rank of captain.

Known to Business Men.

If any action is taken by the Board of Trade in the dispute it is believed that it will be favorable to Inspector Burke, who has been an active member of the committee for some time and who is highly esteemed by the business and professional men of the Capital.

He was in intimate contact with the more prominent business men while he was in command of the First Precinct, and he was universally admired for his honesty, good nature and his devotion to his job.

Inspector Burke has not been informed of the nature of the allegations made against him to the District Commissioners by Gen. Glassford, but they are understood to be instances of supposed noncooperation and temperamental incompatibility.

John Joy Edson, chairman of the board of the Washington Loan & Trust Co., one of the older members of the Board of Trade, will be the guest of honor at the dinner.

WAGNER CONDEMNS 'RED TAPE' OF R.F.C.

Says Delay in Relief Work Is Depriving Many Idle of Employment.

New York, Oct. 9 (U.P.).—That the Reconstruction Finance Corporation ties up the relief disbursements with "mile upon mile of red tape" was charged by Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York, speaking here today.

He declared the relief and construction program appropriating $2,000,00,000 for use of the R. F. C. and the Federal Government in providing relief for the destitute and work for the unemployed "will be worse than useless" unless such alleged "red tape" is eliminated.

Wagner, author of the relief legislation, which was enacted at the last session of Congress, said that already there has been too much procrastination by the Federal Government and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"It is a certainty that this fourth winter of unemployment will witness the most widespread and serious destitution that we have ever experienced in this country," he declared.

"Most of the unemployed, who in previous years were able to secure aid from their immediate friends and relatives will find them likewise among the unemployed or at least badly crippled.

"The failure of the Government and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to rush the construction authorized by Congress, and the delay by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in lending every possible aid to hasten the launching of self-liquidating undertakings is depriving unemployed workers of jobs and is cruel and dangerous," he said.

Urging the need for official information on unemployment, Wagner said the Federal Government had statistics on the production of factories, on the traffic of railroads, on bank loans, on the status of wheat, prune, cherry and apricot crops; on the cold storage holdings of cheese and pickled pork.

"But when I made inquiry of the Department of Labor as to how many people were unemployed, I was told they did not know," he asserted.

Opposition to Bonus Urged by Civil Legion

Chicago, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—National officers of the United States Civil Legion today adopted a resolution requesting their president, Charles Edward Russell, to communicate with all candidates for Congress and the Senate urging that they refrain from committing themselves to immediate payment of the soldiers bonus.

The resolution also asked that the Civil Legion oppose "in every honorable way any national legislation having for its purpose the payment of the soldiers' bonus until the same is due in 1945." The Civil Legion is composed of World War members of the draft boards, minute men, councils of defense, and other civil organizations.

AUTO OF BLACKSHIRT GANG IS CAPTURED

cupants jumped and ran in opposite directions.

Gates again opened fire, but was unable to say whether either of the men was hit. Telephoning for assistance, Gates was soon joined by Deputy Sheriff John T. Smith and a large posse. The woods were searched for several hours in a futile attempt to apprehend the men.

Believed First Clew.

The capture of the car was believed by police to be the first clew in the search for a gang of masked and armed bandits, who since Wednesday have terrorized motorists and isolated store owners. Citizens, armed with shotguns and revolvers, have formed a watchful guard in outlying sections.

A number of suspects have been seized, but in each case proved an alibi. Three Washingtonians, in Maryland on a fishing trip, were among the first arrested.

A "John Doe" warrant was sworn out yesterday for the arrest of a suspect who is believed to be acting as a lookout.

Police refused to divulge his name, but stated he entered the store of Joseph Hancock at Helen, Md., a short time before the place was held up Friday night. He is believed to be an advance guard for the "Blackshirts," and locate the best means of gaining entrance to places if the first attempt of robbery fails.

Linked in Summer Incident.

Descriptions of members of the gang tally with those of a gang which last July shot and seriously wounded several employes of a carnival near Mechanicsville. Three men were wounded as they dismantled a number of tents late at night.

During the daytime the gang remains in hiding in one of the numerous thickly wooded sections of the county, police believe. Their depredations are made under cover of darkness.

Reports of the boldness of "Blackshirts" have prompted banks and merchants in the vicinity of Leonardtown to set up armed guards.

U. S. Delegation Contends For Cable News Freedom

New York, Oct. 9 (U.P.).—The American delegation to the International Telegraph and Radio Congress now in session in Madrid is fighting to prevent further restrictions being imposed on news gathering abroad, according to J. H. Furray, vice president and general foreign manager of the United Press, who returned from Europe today on the Europa.

Furray, who attended the congress during his stay abroad, reported efforts of the Japanese, Austrian, Czechoslovak, Chinese and other delegations to erect further barriers against transmission of objective news dispatches.

Controversy now centers about a section of existing regulations which provides that a government may retard or suppress news dispatches that are dangerous to the security of the state involved. The Japanese delegation urges that amendment of this to provide for retardation or suppression of dispatches "which could be considered" dangerous. The Austrian delegation, supporting this view, further holds that the correspondent transmitting the dispatch need not be notified of such suppression. The Czechoslovakian delegation would further amplify the existing rules to cover news which might injure "the good reputation" of a nation.

Holding that such latitude of discretion and definition would permit censors a virtually free hand in retarding or suppressing any dispatches, however true, publication of which they might consider inexpedient, the American delegation is opposing all such moves for barring the free interchange of unbiased and accurate news dispatches.

Fifty nations, with 800 delegates, are represented in the conference which began on September 3 and will continue until some time in November.

south has flared into warfare frequently in the past.

The Christian Filipinos control the island government under American auspices, but have found difficulty in keeping some 800,000 warlike Moros in order.

The Moros, many of whom have expressed opposition to American withdrawal from the islands, for hundreds of years preyed on the northern islanders, indulging in slave raids and frequent piratical forays.

From time to time, even in recent years, Moro chiefs have retreated to strongholds in protest against the northern island government and issued challenges to the constabulary. The Moros were disarmed some years ago, but many found means of furnishing themselves with rifles, shotguns and small cannon.

2 SWEATBOX TRIAL WITNESSES ESCAPE

Pull Plumbing Out of Jail Cell Wall and Flee Through Opening.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Two long-term convicts, quartered in the county jail as witnesses at the trial of two former prison guards for the sweatbox death of Arthur Maillefert, New Jersey youth, escaped today.

Cleo Drew and James Wofford pulled a plumbing fixture out of their cell and crawled through the hole to get to a window, where they sawed a bar and slid to the ground on a rope made from bedclothes.

They, with fourteen other convicts who were at Sunbeam Camp, near here, on June 3, when Maillefert was found strangled to death at the end of a heavy chain in a sweatbox, had been called by the State to tell what they knew of the youth's death.

Drew Described Torture.

George Courson, former acting captain at Sunbeam Camp, and Solomon Higginbotham, a guard, are on trial for first degree murder in the case.

Last week James Travis, one of the convicts, had testified at the trial that he would not attempt to escape because "we are men of honor."

Drew also had testified at the trial, describing torture methods he said were used against unruly prisoners. Wofford, who had served only two years of a 33-year term for armed robbery, was to have been called later. Drew recently had started a 15-year sentence for breaking and entering.

Stories of alleged brutality were told during the past week by a number of chain gang convicts testifying at the trial.

Men Testify in Stripes.

Grim-faced and sun-tanned, wearing the stripes of their servitude, the men who had known Maillefert—"Jersey," they called him—during his incarceration at Sunbeam were summoned by the State.

Maillefert was found dead in the sweatbox, hanging from a trace chain, his feet in heavy wooden stocks. The State charges he was murdered. The defendants say he committed suicide rather than submit to prison regulations.

"Jersey," his fellow convicts testified, was a high-strung youth who was homesick and wanted to "get away." He made numerous attempts to escape, and only shortly before his death he had made an unsuccessful dash for freedom after getting out of a heavy barrel in which he had been confined because of infraction of rules.

Father Dies in Attempt To Save Baby in Blaze

Chicago, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Dreiske family's first night in their suburban cottage came to a premature and tragic end when Robert Dreiske, 28, and his 18 months' baby were burned to death early today.

Aroused by fumes and smoke when a fire broke out, apparently from an overheated stove, Dreiske and his wife rushed outside to safety. Then Dreiske remembered the baby was inside, sleeping. He entered the house, now a whorl of flames. He did not come out. Firemen, summoned by Mrs. Dreiske, extinguished the fire, entered the house, and found Dreiske's body on the threshold of the child's bedroom, the body of the child in the crib.

New York Police Quell Riot of Ship Visitors

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—More than 200 policemen rushed to the pier at the foot of Forty-sixth street today when thousands of persons waiting to inspect the new Italian liner Rex staged a near-riot.

Between 30,000 and 40,000 persons tried to inspect the giant ship during the day. Late in the afternoon, when there was a line six blocks long waiting to buy tickets and when those inside the ship showed an inclination to stay awhile, the waiters started pushing through police lines. Several emergency squads were called before order was restored.

American-Greek Group To Support Roosevelt

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A delegation from the American Greek Democratic Association, representing Americans of Greek descent in Greater New York, called on Franklin D. Roosevelt today to promise him their support in November. The delegation was headed by Socrates Angelson, executive member, and Nicholas Varionis, general secretary.

Gov. Roosevelt is a member of Ahepa, a national Greek society. He told the delegation he would attend the rally of American Greek Democrats at the Pennsylvania Hotel on October 27 if he is in the State at that time.

Iowans May Burn Grain As Fuel; Huge Crop Blamed

13-Cent-Bushel Corn Found Cheaper Than $5.50 to $19 Ton Coal in Tests; Scheme Considered as Antimarket-Glutting Measure.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Prices are low and the harvest plentiful, so many Iowa farmers are considering the use of corn for fuel.

Corn from ten acres will keep an average farm house warm throughout the winter.

Iowa's corn crop is one of the biggest in history. There is a market-choking surplus of well-matured corn.

"There may be some question about using a food for fuel in times like these, but the economic aspect can not be ignored," said Charles D. Reed, senior meteorologist in the Iowa Weather and Crop Bureau.

"Anything that will remove the surplus should be desirable. Maybe by burning it in place of coal, the excess can be prevented from breaking the market."

Farmers are offered 13 or 14 cents a bushel for corn, the lowest prices in years.

Iowa coal sells for about $5.50 a ton; Illinois coal at about $7.75, and anthracite at about $19.00.

Engineers at Iowa State College interpret a series of tests as indicating that Iowa farmers can burn corn as cheaply as they can Iowa-mined coal, and much more cheaply than they can anthracite at present prices.

They found that 141 pounds of ear corn, with 8 per cent moisture, has the same heating value as 100 pounds of Iowa coal, and that 40 bushels of corn equal a ton of Iowa coal, while 47 bushels are equivalent to one ton of Illinois coal, and 57 bushels have the same heating value as a ton of anthracite.

"This, however, is not the whole story," say Iowa State College economists.

"It may be more profitable to feed corn and market it as meat. It may seem advisable to hold it for higher prices. There may be sufficient mouldy and unmarketable corn on the farm for winter fuel. It may seem desirable to sell corn and buy coal because of the greater convenience in buying coal."

During a recent parade of farmers' holiday adherents here, one float that attracted much attention depicted a farmer firing a cook stove with corn. The slogan read, "Why burn corn and throw Iowa miners out of work?"

Dry cobs have been found to equal ear corn for fuel purposes. The smaller and more frequent the charge, the greater the efficiency of burning.

In one Iowa community, for example (Schisselville, in Cherokee County), farmers who have no wood lots are unanimously turning to corn for fuel.

Meanwhile, the husking of corn is in full swing in Iowa. Mikel O. Helgerson, who lives near West Union, claims that one of his fields yielded 80 bushels an acre. One authority declared that this mark has not been exceeded in authentic records.

TWO DYING, VICTIMS OF ROBBERS' CHASE

Cleveland Jeweler and Girl Critically Shot; One of Bandits Is Slain.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Physicians at Charity Hospital battled tonight for the lives of two persons, one a 14-year-old girl, who yesterday were made victims of a spectacular attempt of two desperadoes to hold up a downtown jewelry house.

Four other persons were shot or slugged before an automobile commandeered by one of the two robbers crashed into a stone wall at the end of a wild 3-mile chase through traffic and the bandit-driver, Norman Townsend, 34, was shot to death by officers. Townsend's accomplice, Francis Bush, 32, also of Detroit, was captured when he fractured an ankle in flight from the store.

Beverly Martin, 14, who leaped from the careening automobile commandeered by Townsend from her mother, Mrs. Florence Martin, remained unconscious at the hospital, her skull fractured and suffering from severe contusions about the body.

Herbert Quinlan, 38, a jeweler, son of Edmund S. Quinlan, 65, whose jewelry store was the scene of the attempted robbery, and who was shot in the abdomen when his aged father tried to battle the robbers, underwent a second blood transfusion. Physicians held out small chance for his recovery.

Meanwhile, preparations were made to set in motion the machinery of the city government to make voluntary reparations to Mrs. Martin and her daughter, innocent victims of the affair. Legislation to that purpose will be introduced at city council meeting tomorrow.

SAMUEL INSULL IS REPORTED EN ROUTE TO ATHENS, GREECE

difficulties of the Insull enterprises, but was ignorant of the fact that charges had been brought against the father. Their casual manner and frankness were amazing, he said today.

He said they remained in the office only a few minutes and paid for the tickets and reservations from what seemed to be a large supply of cash.

The elder Insull seemed entirely calm, spoke slowly and quietly and asked no pledge of secrecy, the manager said. The father was wearing a gray suit.

The Insulls had no trunks and only two suitcases, the same baggage they had at the Palace Hotel in Turin, their first stop after their hasty departure from Paris.

The father left the hotel here without notice to the management, the son remaining to pay their bill, which was $13.

On their arrival, they asked the manager of the hotel if he would guarantee their presence would be kept secret. The manager said they would be required to fill out the usual registration forms required by police, but he would not reveal their presence otherwise.

They took separate rooms, moderately priced, and remained in the hotel except for short walks.

Request for Extradition.

Rome, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The American Embassy today received a cabled request for the extradition of Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities magnate under indictment for embezzlement and larceny.

The request was immediately transmitted to the foreign office.

(This request presumably arrived in Rome nearly 24 hours after Samuel Insull had left Italy for Greece.)

Chicago, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Lack of an extradition treaty between the United States and Greece where Samuel Insull, former utilities magnate, was reported to have fled from Italy, will not save him from being returned to the United States to face charges of embezzlement and larceny, Assistant State's Attorney Charles E. Bellows said tonight.

Mr. Bellows said he had requested Gov. Louis E. Emmerson to forward to the Secretary of State a request that Greece deport Insull to Italy, where State Department officials already have asked Italian authorities to arrest him.

Mr. Bellows cited to the governor the case in 1911 of Pembroke W. Pitt, millionaire grain broker, accused of fleecing banks of nearly $500,000, who fled from Baltimore to Naples, Italy, and thence to Athens.

In accordance with the request of the United States Government, Mr. Bellows said, Greece deported Pitt to Italy where he was seized and brought back to this country.

(Associated Press.)

While State Department officials maintained an absolute silence, it was indicated in an authoritative source yesterday that whether Samuel Insull can be returned to this country from Greece is a question that can be settled only by the Greek government.

The question centers on whether an extradition treaty with Greece, signed by this country and ratified by the United States Senate, is in force in Greece, where it has been published in the official journal, a step ordinarily making an agreement or domestic legislation the law of the land.

Ratification Delayed.

However, for some reason as yet unexplained, Greece has never exchanged with this country the documents of ratification of the treaty, a part of diplomatic procedure usually gone through before an agreement becomes effective.

After this exchange, the customary action is for the chief executives of the countries to proclaim the agreement in force.

Members of the staff of the Greek Legation here could not be reached for comment.

Orillia, Ontario, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Martin J. Insull, former Chicago utilities magnate, under indictment there for embezzlement and larceny, made a brief trip to Toronto today to consult Ely Aaron, his Chicago attorney, who will lead his fight against extradition to Illinois.

The 74-year-old British citizen, who was associated with his brother Samuel in the Middle West utilities enterprises, was released on bail of $50,000 yesterday to appear at Barrie, Ontario, for an extradition hearing on November 4. The technical charge is that he is a fugitive from justice.

Insull declined to talk to reporters again today, but told them he was going to take a long rest.

Huge "Bone Pit" Found in Bayou

Big Deposit of Fossilized Animal Remains Probed in Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A huge "bone pit" apparently hundreds of square feet in area, which scientists here believe may contain a large deposit of fossilized animal remains, has been discovered in Bayou Manchac.

Pieces of bones were brought up from the Bayou core by a geological party making excavations in the area as a result of the recent finding of several remnants of skeletons by a 12-year-old boy.

Dr. H. V. Howe, head of the geology department at Louisiana State University, said the objects the boy found were mastodon teeth and he expressed belief that mastodons may have roamed Louisiana as late as 5,000 years ago. The latest survey indicated, he said, layer on layer of prehistoric bones bedded deep in clay.

Suggests $150,000,000 For Mine Development

Roseburg, Oreg., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A Federal appropriation of $150,000,000 to be divided among ten western States for mining development is suggested in a resolution adopted by the Western Oregon Mining Congress in session here.

The resolution proposed that the money be lent for installation of ore reduction equipment. The money would be handled, according to the outlined plan, by a commission appointed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with ore as the security.

He-men like 'em Mild

YOU might think that a two-fisted fellow like the steel jack in the picture would like his tobacco strong. Not at all.

He wants his cigarettes mild and that's why he picks Chesterfields.

Mildness doesn't mean a smoke that's weak or flat or insipid or anything like that. In fact it's just the reverse. Two-fisted fellows as well as anyone else—men and women—want a cigarette that's mild . . . one that satisfies—and that's Chesterfield.

We believe that every smoker is looking for a cigarette without any "bite" or bitterness, and a cigarette that has a pleasing taste—and that's Chesterfield.

BLIZZARDS SWEEP 2 WESTERN STATES

Winter's Preamble Grounds Planes in Montana and Wyoming.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Winter made its first general invasion of Montana and Wyoming today, mantled most of the two States with snow and tumbled the mercury below the freezing mark.

Depth of the snow averaged 3 inches, but in the higher altitudes a much heavier fall was reported. Winter maintained its schedule in this area, as the first heavy snow fall usually has been early in October.

Transportation was not hampered by the snow blanket except for transcontinental air service. Planes were grounded over part of Wyoming because of a low ceiling at Sherman Hill, west of Cheyenne. Passengers and mail were being transported between Cheyenne and Laramie by bus, but planes were progressing west of Laramie and east of Cheyenne.

The storm ended a dry period of more than 30 days in Montana, and was welcomed by stockmen and the farming industry.

While the snow was melting rapidly in Montana under clearing skies, it was snowing heavily in southwestern Wyoming on the heels of a fog and mist which shrouded the area 24 hours.

Montana recrods show snowfall in every month of the year at some time during the last half century, and a destructive snowstorm was recorded September 19, 1925.

Uniform Absentee Vote Laws Urged

Costello Makes Appeal to Conference of State Groups Here.

A plea for consideration of uniform State laws governing absentee voting in the United States has been made by John F. Costello, Democratic national committeeman for the District, to the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, in session at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mr. Costello said he was particularly concerned with the 70,000 potential voters in the District who have no franchise right in the National Capital, 20,000 of whom, he said, have applied to his office for help and advice in trying to vote in their home States.

M. Costello declared that many of these potential voters were turned away disappointed because of the lack of uniformity in the absentee laws in 25 States which require personal appearance for either registration or voting, or both.

Judge William L. Hargest, of Harrisburg, Pa., president of the Uniform State Laws Conference, said last night that Mr. Costello's appeal would have to be tabled until next year in view of the fact that the conference will close today.

Kidnaped by Armed Priest, Girl Avers

Teacher Reappears With Story of Being Held Captive by Five Men.

Streator, Ill., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Sheriff E. J. Welter, of La Salle County, tonight said Miss Colette Haley, 22, missing rural school teacher, had returned to her home here with a story accusing the Rev. William Courtney, Alexis, Ill., Catholic priest, of kidnaping her at the point of a revolver.

Miss Haley disappeared on September 6. She telephoned her mother from Chicago last night saying she was unharmed, the sheriff said, but that she had been held prisoner by the priest and four other men. Father Courtney several weeks ago was named in a warrant sworn out by Miss Haley's brother, James F. Haley, charging kidnaping.

The sheriff quoted Miss Haley as saying the clergyman had forced her into his automobile, which later was abandoned. The other men, she said, were met in Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich., two in each city. She said they also had visited in St. Louis where she escaped last Wednesday and hitch-hiked to Chicago.

Mrs. S. C. Shattuck To Be Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Susan Cogswell Shattuck, who died last Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Bradley, at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Arlington National Cemetery.

Mrs. Shattuck had been associated with Army life throughout her life. She was the daughter, wife and mother of West Point graduates. She was born in New York City in 1861, the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Milton Cogswell. In 1894 Mrs. Shattuck married the late Maj. Amos Blanchard Shattuck. Her father was at one time governor of the United States Soldiers Home here.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Shattuck is survived by two sons, Lieut. Milton C. Shattuck, stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, and Lieut. A. B. Shattuck, stationed at Fort McIntosh, Tex.

Dairymen in Ohio Plan Milk Strike

Belmont County Producers Seek $2 Per 100 Pounds "To Break Even."

St. Clairsville, Ohio, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Belmont County dairymen have been called to meet here tomorrow to map plans for a nonselling campaign to raise milk prices.

Protesting against the prevailing quotation, $1.25 a hundred pounds, they are demanding "at least $2 a hundred, to break even."

Three hundred dealers and dairymen in eastern Ohio were said to be involved. The movement tsarted at a meeting here Saturday when they agreed not fill the usual cans for the Sunday morning delivery. Much of the dairy products shipped from here are turned into the Wheeling, W. Va., market.

FRANCE COMPLETING NEW PLAN OF PEACE

Herriot to Present Scheme at Geneva as Soon as It Is Approved Definitely.

Kembs, France, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Premier Edouard Herriot, speaking at the opening of a power plant in this upper Rhine town, said today that a new French plan for world "organization for peace" and progressive disarmament will be presented at Geneva as soon as it is approved definitely by the government.

"France, constantly represented at Geneva, is completing a constructive plan for organization of peace and progressive disarmament which will be presented at the (disarmament) conference as soon as indispensable opinion has been received and the cabinet has deliberated," he announced. The premier did not go into details of the plan.

(Dispatches from Geneva last night said the French delegation there had formulated a plan linking the ideas of universal security and progressive disarmament over a ten-year period. This followed upon statements in the Paris newspaper Le Temps that the Hoover proposal of a general one-third cut in arms "offers grounds for a possible undertaking among all nations.")

French Attitude Affirmed.

President Lebrun presided at the opening of the power plant, part of the Alsace Canal development. The plant is the first of the works which France has undertaken since its recovery of Alsace to utilize the motive power of the Rhine and improve navigability of the river between Strasbourg and Basel, Switzerland.

"This France, of which you are beloved sons, asks only to live in peace with its neighbors as with all peoples," said the premier. "It would be agreeable to us—as we affirmed in a recent note—to associate our efforts in the work of civilization with those of a great hard-working people, who, like us, is interested in the restoration of European and world economy."

In view of American disarmament proposals, his reference apparently was to the people of the United States.

"A difficult problem presents itself on which is concentrated the present attention of all peoples," he said:

Attachment for Alsace.

Announcing the French plan, he added:

"We ask only the delays necessary for methodical action and good faith. How can one suspect a government, which since its constitution has not ceased to work day by day for peace, or question that we wish agreements, but sincere and loyal ones?"

M. Herriot stressed the attachment of France for Alsace and decried what he called propaganda "whose source we know," seeking to show Alsace is not French.

Paris, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Paris newspapers viewed the new French progressive disarmament plan today as both demanding concessions by United States and fitting in with American proposals.

The Petit Parisien said the maximum French plan appeared to involve an effort to bring the United States, by concessions under the Hoover plan for disarmament, to accept reinforcement of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact and to renounce "benefits and privileges" of neutrality toward belligerents.

Geneva dispatches said the plan, as drawn up by the French delegation there, included a so-called maximum proposal setting forth the extreme limit to which France is willing to disarm providing the powers submit to armament control and engage themselves to enforce sanctions.

Wants U. S. to Change.

The Petit Parisien said if the United States was unwilling to abandon its "traditional conception of neutrality" it remained only for France to fall back on its minimum plan, which was described as the point beyond which France feels unable to disarm providing conditions of security are no greater than those believed by France to be indispensable.

The maximum plan, it said, would obtain from Great Britain, "which thus would no longer fear complications with America in policing the seas," participation and mutual assistance in limiting armaments in Europe with sufficient guarantees of security.

The newspaper Le Temps said the plan no doubt would "take account of tendencies marked by efforts of American diplomacy and the necessity to organize practically veritable European solidarity for the consolidation of peace within the frame and under surveillance of the League of Nations."

It predicted progressive disarmament would be accompanied by guarantees of security to all peoples equally.

High Court to Consider Von Papen Coup d' Etat

Leipzig, Germany, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The supreme court tomorrow will begin its hearing on the decree under which chancellor Franz von Papen seized the power of Prussia, July 20, and ousted the regular government of that largest province of Germany.

The appeal was filed by three states Prussia, Baden and Bavaria—and the legality of the chancellor's coup d'etat was questioned, despite that he acted under an emergency decree signed by President Paul von Hindenburg. The arguments are expected to last for two or three days. No decision is expected before next week-end.

JUGOSLAV REVOLT LEADER ARRESTED

Renewed Violence in Croatia Is Reported as Pernar Is Seized.

Vienna, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The arrest of Ivan Pernar, second in command of the Croatian independence movement, was revealed today simultaneously with Croatian reports of renewed violence in this long and bitter struggle.

Pernar is the right-hand man of Vladko Machek, successor to the slain Croatian leader, Stefan Raditch, who was shot down in Parliament in Belgrade in 1928. Pernar himself still carries a bullet in his lung as a momento of that shooting. He was arrested with eight others in Belgrade yesterday.

The charge against the Croatians is that they were circulating leaflets inciting to revolution. The arrest was confirmed in official communiques from the Jugoslavian capital.

Disorders Increase.

Messages reaching here from Croatian sources at Zagreb today said unrest and disorders on an increasing scale had appeared in parts of Croatia and Dalmatia.

According to these reports, revolutionary Croatian volunteer troops known as "the Ustasi," who have been harassing gendarmes and other representatives of the Belgrade authority in the Lika district, have extended their operations into northern Dalmatia.

Between Benkovach and Sebeniko, four gendarmerie barracks were reported bombed, while skirmishes in Lika resulted in the capture of five Serbian gendarmes, who were being held as hostages.

Bitter Struggle.

Since the patriot Raditch and two other Croatian deputies were shot down, several deaths and many acts of violence have marked the trial of Croatian efforts to gain their independence from the united Jugoslavia of King Alexander, which is composed of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes.

Violence this year began with the attempted assassination of Mile Budak, a Croatian patriot, in the streets of Zagreb on June 7. Riots accompanied demonstrations in Croatia on June 20, the fourth anniversary of the slaying of Raditch.

But the Croatian movement is not the only trouble that the dictatorship of King Alexander has confronted recently. A group of Serbian Democrats have bitterly opposed the dictatorship, and communism has caused rebellion in a section of the army. Two army officers were sentenced to death for a military revolt at Marburg in July.

Gen. Milovanovic Dies; Was World War Leader

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Gen. Milan Milovanovic, who for a while during the World War was chief of the general staff and secretary of the secret organization "Unity or Death," and whose name was linked with the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga in 1903, died here today. He was 57 years old.

King Alexander Obrenovich ruled Serbia from 1893 until his death. While Alexander's father was at Carlsbad making arrangements to obtain the hand of a German princess for his son in 1900, the king suddenly announced his engagement to Mme. Draga Mashin, a widow and former lady in waiting to Queen Natalie.

The father, who had abdicated in favor of Alexander, gave up his post as commander in chief of the Serbian army, and a crisis developed.

King Alexander introduced a liberal constitution for Serbia, but suspended it long enough to perform monarchial functions in March, 1903. It was feared that the new queen's brother might be proclaimed heir to the throne.

A military conspiracy was organized to place Peter Karagjorgvic on the throne. The conspirators gained access to the palace and savagely murdered the king and queen early in the morning on June 11, 1903.

The Republican Party will be represented in the form of a small elephant, while a member of the club will impersonate John Barleycorn. Proceeds from the dance are to go to the campaign fund of the central Democratic committee.

MANCHURIA REPORT ACCEPTED BY CHINA

Wellington Koo Announces Nanking to Stand By Lytton Findings.

Geneva, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Wellington Koo, China's representative before the League of Nations, today announced that Nanking has accepted the Lytton report as a basis of discussion in the council of the league assembly for settlement of the Manchurian issue.

Dr. Koo announced the Chinese would make comments and observations on the report when the council considers the document.

The Lytton report was made public October 2 in Geneva and was the result of several months of study by League of Nations and American experts in China, Manchuria and Japan for the League of Nations.

The report recommended the establishment of a special autonomous state for Manchuria and declared Japan was in the wrong when her troops invaded Manchuria and protected the etsablishment of the so-?called independent State of Manchukuo.

The report was received with reservations in China, with strong objections in Japan, and with approval in Washington. League of Nations circles in Geneva generally approved the tenor of the observations in the report.

The latest Manchurian crisis began in September, 1931, when the Japanese charged Chinese agitators had molested the right of way of the South Mancruria Railway. Soon there developed a formidable military campaign in which the Chinese forces were finally driven off the principal cities and areas of Manchuria.

The Chinese retaliated with an anti-Japanese boycott in various large cities of China, and this led to the small Shanghai war early in this year.

China demanded an investigation of the Manchurian crisis and the League finally decided to send a commission headed by Lord Lytton of Great Britain.

Quiz Set in Death Of Society Woman

Daughter of Gen. Hagood Is Dead After Omaha Crash; Man Hurt.

Omaha, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—County officials today began an investigation of the automobile accident last night in which Mrs. Kathleen Hagood Gambrell, daughter of Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, Seventh Corps Area Army commander, was fatally injured, and W. W. (Bill) Hoagland, jr., Omaha society man, was seriously hurt.

Mrs. Gambrell died early today. She suffered a crushed chest and a broken back. Hoagland, who received a broken back, was in a serious condition tonight. Mrs. Gambrell was the wife of E. Smythe Gambrell, Atlanta, Ga., attorney.

James Jasa, of Wahoo, a witness, said that Hoagland, driving at high speed, swerved around and passed another car. The Hoagland car, he said, rocked back and forth, then shot across the road, grazed Jasa's car and overturned.

League to Discuss Attitude Of Kuomintang on Conquest

Lytton Report Laid Stress on Part Played in Anti-Japanese Boycott by Political Party Established by Sun Yat-Sen.

(Associated Press.)

Where the will of the Kuomintang ends and the power of the official Chinese government begins is a question that promises to figure extensively in League of Nations discussions of the Lytton report on the Manchurian controversy.

The Kuomintang and the part it plays in the anti-Japanese boycott is given considerable attention in the report of the Lytton Commission, as made public a week ago and studied intensively since by diplomats here and abroad.

Established by Sun Yat-Sen to dominate Nationalist China and educate the hundreds of millions of Chinese in political freedom, the Kuomingtang has upset government after government in Nanking.

The dividing line between the Kuomintang and the Nationalist government is indistinct. The Kuomintang tolerates no other party in China. It is monopolistic in accordance with the decrees of Sun Yat-Sen, who ordained that one strong revolutionary group must hold China's millions under political tutelage.

Whether the anti-Japanese boycott is officially supported by the Nanking government is an all-important question for the League of Nations. Japan's contention that the aggressive action in Manchuria and in Shanghai was a movement in self-defense rests in part on the claim that the boycott as practiced in China of recent years is really war.

The Chinese contend that the boycott against Japan is spontaneous, that the government has not inspired it and can not control a public which is fired to action by Japan's aggression.

This view clearly was not accepted by the Lytton commission, which found the Kuomintang had played an important part in organizing the boycott and suggested that the movement was at least semiofficial in its character and should be the subject of thorough investigation.

No pretense is made in China that the Nanking government is a constitutional government. Sun Yat-Sen held that China is not ready for constitutional government and entrusted to the Kuomintang the task of tutoring the masses until such time as they might be ready to exercise the franchise.

The Kuomintang had a membership of less than 700,000, according to Chinese official figures of 1930, and it is this minority which guides the destiny of approximately 450,000,000 Chinese.

Town Escapes Flood in Texas

Raymondville Safe After Levee Withstands Rio Grande Waters.

Raymondville, Tex., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Flood waters from the Rio Grande which had threatened to overflow this city of 2,000 population, turned and cut a channel to the east tonight after pouring futilely at a levee near the city limits hastily constructed by volunteer workmen.

As a result of this development, water was reported receding slowly at both Lyford and Sebastian, villages to the south of Raymondville, which were inundated earlier in the week.

Small motorboats, obtained from sportsmen, took food and other supplies to isolated families. Seventy-five thousand acres of land, 2,500 of which was in cultivation, already had been inundated. The area produces a large part of the early onion crop of the United States and planting has been delayed seriously.

SCOTTSBORO APPEAL MAY BE HEARD TODAY

Return to Lower Courts Faces Many Cases Up Before Supreme Bench.

(Associated Press.)

A good many of the cases laboriously prepared for presentation to the Supreme Court probably will be sent back where they came from today by a brief printed announcement that the court has refused to review them.

Approximately 370 suits accumulated on the docket during the summer recess. Since court preliminaries were over last Monday, indications are that a docket overhauling is in order.

Figuratively, that is a separation of sheep and goats, the former being cases sufficiently important to be decided by the court and the latter those the justices feel were settled by the lower courts. The goats far outnumber the sheep.

Today also will see the beginning of oral argument on suits which already have been on the docket for decision. Third on the list are cases covering the plea of the seven Negroes condemned to death in Scottsboro, Ala., for assaults on two white girls.

Two prohibition cases involving oft-heard arguments about search and seizure precede the Scottsboro case but they are not expected to take any extended time. The Scottsboro argument may begin before today's session is over. The Negroes contend they were denied a fair trial.

Following closely on the Scottsboro case is the tangle from Mississippi growing out of that State's redistricting law.

Moving swiftly, the court last Monday granted a review and oral argument will begin Wednesday. The decision probably will come in time for Mississippi to make the necessary arrangements for holding congressional elections in November, although if a lower court injunction against the law is upheld all candidates for representative will face running in the State at large.

Mr. Davis complained of indigestion yesterday and a physician was called. His death today was ascribed to heart disease. With him were E. I. Oswald, John McGruder and Miles H. Fairbanks, all of the extension department of the University of Maryland. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Fuller had become despondent over failure to halt a foreclosure sale of his home, his wife, the former Florence Ely, of Broadway stage fame, told police. He was reported to have shot himself Friday night and was not given any chances of recovery. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

MANCHURIA WEALTH SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Prof. Finch Describes Vast Possibilities in Area Japan Has Taken.

The vast industrial empire of Manchuria that has commanded world attention as a result of Japan's effort to carve out of it a new protected state was the subject of an illustrated lecture last night by Prof. George A. Finch, director of the international law department of the Washington College of Law and assistant secretary of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The lecture, tendered by the Washington College of Law in honor of the delegates to the annual meeting of the American Bar Association, was given in the main auditorium of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The auditorium was packed by Government officials, members of the Diplomatic Corps, Bar Association delegates and others interested in the fight Japan is making to consolidate its claims in Manchuria, recently proclaimed the state Manchukuo under Japanese protection.

Prof. Finch illustrated his lecture by motion pictures obtained during a tour of the province with American newspapermen. The pictures showed the audience the vast industrial enterprises sponsored by Japanese interests in the territory. He took his audience through such strategic centers as Mukden, Darien and Harbin, where sporadic fighting still is in progress between Chinese and Japanese troops.

Prof. Finch carefully veered from showing partiality to either side in the present conflict for control of Manchukuo, describing to his audience the industrial and natural wealth of the territory and leaving for their personal decision the strength of Japan's claim to its control.

Norwegian Ship Sinks After Crash in Channel

London, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Blue Star steamer Africstar, which left for Buenos Aires yesterday with a cargo and six passengers, returned to her dock here today with damaged bows as a result of a collision with the Norwegian steamer Charente off Kent in the English Channel during the night.

The Africstar took off the eighteen men comprising the crew of the Charente and transferred them to a Dover tug which attempted to tow the Charente to Dover. The Norwegian craft sank, however, 7 miles off Dungeness, near where the collision occurred. The crew was taken to Dover.

Seattle Ferry Rams Anchored Boat in Fog

Seattle, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The ferry steamer Iriquois, feeling her way into Port Townsend harbor through a dense fog, was reported to have collided with the anchored steamship San Vincente at 3 a. m. today.

P. D. Pinneo, Northwest manager of the Quaker Steamship Co., said he was informed a hole had been driven in the side of the San Vincente, a Quaker Line ship, flooding her No. 1 hold. She is being towed to Seattle for repairs. Pinneo said he was told the Iriquois escaped with only slight damage to her bow ports.

DICK PERRY TALKS HIMSELF INTO SAVING $15.80 On His Car Insurance

"MY NEIGHBOR insured his Cadillac in Liberty Mutual and saved $15.80 last year. Why didn't I do that? Why did I give my car insurance to Jim B....., my broker, when I could have bought it direct and saved $15.80?

"Of course, Jim's a friend of mine and I like him, but what did he and his company do to earn that $15.80? Nothing except to promise me personal service, quick settlements and strong protection, and I could have gotten all that from Liberty Mutual. My neighbor tells me that in case of accident, Liberty Mutual takes the matter out of your hands and you seldom ever hear of it again until it's all over. He says they settle 99% of their cases without court trial. That shows fairness and promptness and keeps you out of court. Jim can't do any better than that.

"Liberty Mutual is the largest mutual liability insurance company in the world, with Assets of $23,154,675; Reserves for Liabilities of $19,215,036; and a Surplus of $3,939,639 (June 30, 1932). Well-managed, too. Its directors are conservative business men—all policyholders in Liberty Mutual. They hold down expenses and watch the company's investments with experienced financial judgment.

"And since Liberty Mutual sells you your policy direct, it pays no commissions to brokers or agents. The average insurance company spends three times as much as Liberty Mutual spends to sell an automobile insurance policy. And, Liberty insures only one careful driver out of every four car-owners—avoiding many ruinous losses from reckless driving.

"No wonder Liberty Mutual has been able to set aside large surplus and reserves and return large dividends off standard rates to policyholders every year for 20 years! It pays you its savings, plus the dividends that go to stockholders in other companies. This would have amounted to $15.80 off standard rates on the insurance on my Cadillac car.

"Of course, Jim would get no commission from the Liberty for they pay no commissions. Too bad, but $15.80 will buy a lot of things I want. I'm not going to just hand it over to my broker and his company on a silver platter. Liberty has over 100,000 satisfied policyholders and I am going to join them. I'll call up Liberty Mutual right now before I forget it."

Call up or call at the Liberty Mutual's Washington office today. A trained representative will give you all the details about insuring your car and will not annoy you with high-pressure selling.

Or, send coupon below for information as to how you could have reduced the cost of your car insurance as shown above.

TARIFF INCONSISTENCY.

The involutions of politics are an everlasting source of amusement. It is too much to expect consistency from a party or even a single candidate in these days of complicated issues, but it does seem that agencies which are working toward the same end would avoid open clashes within the public view. Citizens are disconcerted when the Democratic New York Times takes the same facts on which Gov. Roosevelt must have based his tariff arguments, and arrives at just the reverse conclusion.

Gov. Roosevelt's thesis running all the way through his talks on the tariff is that the foreign markets of the farmer have been cut off by countries retaliating against the Smoot-Hawley act. He therefore demands reduction of industrial tariff rates, on the theory that such action would restore "lost" foreign markets to the farmer.

Now the Times cautiously recognizes the fact that the foreign market for the chief American agricultural exports has been greatly extended since the last tariff act became effective. Cotton exports during the first half of this year were 29 per cent above the five-year average. Wheat exports were 22 per cent above the five-year average. The only logical deduction from these facts is that the farmer has not lost his foreign market for his surplus crops but is selling larger amounts of these staples abroad at disastrously low prices.

What is Gov. Roosevelt's remedy for this situation? It is a sacrifice of protection to industry so that the American farmer can sell more at a loss. That is inconsistency enough, but the New York Times adds another chapter to the entanglement.

"It is significant", says the Times, "that gains in volume (of exports) are chiefly in raw materials rather than manufactures". Before the tariff act of 1930 was passed industrial exports were making steady gains over agricultural exports. Now the trend has been sharply reversed. Foreign demand for automobiles, machinery and electrical equipment has shrunk to a small part of what it was in 1929. This leads the Times to advocate anew the revision of "fiscal policies that have cost us so much in foreign markets". What are those fiscal policies? Chiefly the Smoot-Hawley act, giving greater tariff protection to agriculture.

On one hand, Gov. Roosevelt is demanding reduction of the industrial tariff so that farmers may have the benefit of more extensive low-price foreign markets. On the other hand, his supporter, the New York Times, is calling for revision of the agricultural tariff so that industrial exporters will be benefited. Why do both of these champions of tariff revision cling to the notion that it is necessary to harm one great branch of Americans if another branch is to be helped? Why not try to help both industry and agriculture by protecting both?

MUSICAL ADVANTAGES GROW.

The last few years have seen an increasing tendency to attach greater importance to the study of art in schools. The demand for the inclusion of music in the curriculum is one of the interesting features of the movement. Following study covering a period of ten years, a committee appointed for the purpose in New York has issued its report on the value of music as a subject in secondary education.

Music can be made the most useful unifying influence in the entire educational fabric, in this committee's opinion. Great music, it is urged, should be presented to the pupils in secondary schools, just as they are made familiar with great literature, and entrance credits for music should be given by colleges and universities as well as by high schools. It is also recommended that whenever possible schools should grant time allowances for pupils taking music courses to give them the hours necessary for study and practice, and to lend encouragement by official recognition of their special talents.

Another movement which hopes to encourage widespread interest in music is the Cosmopolitan Opera Association of New York. This cooperative project to aid both artists and musicians was formed with the idea of producing opera at popular prices. Under the direction of Max Rabinoff, former impresario of the Boston Opera Company, the artists were trained during the summer at Stony Point-on-the-Hudson, where the Government made it possible to house them in tents. The performers were rehearsed in operas of various schools in the original languages, including the native American works. Nationally and internationally known experts cooperated in the enterprise to the end that this country may be able to hear much of the world's best music at nominal cost. The success of the first season this year, it is hoped, will be such as to make possible the continuance of the studies and productions in the future.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK.

The sudden denouement of the New York mayoralty tangle is a stroke of good fortune for the Democratic party. Strangely enough, the man to whom the party seems to owe this extrication from chaos is former Mayor James J. Walker. Tammany Hall, with its characteristic stubbornness, was ready to offer Mr. Walker as its candidate for reelection, in spite of the fact that he had been forced to resign by charges of corruption and inefficiency. But the astute Jimmy Walker knew when he had carried a fight far enough.

All of former Mayor Walker's gushing about the certainty of his election on a vindication platform and his loyalty to the Democratic party may be discounted. He pictures himself as withdrawing from a race that he could easily win with an overwhelming plurality, for the sole reason that he does not wish to embarrass Gov. Roosevelt. If Mr. Walker had been nominated his campaign would necessarily have been a condemnation of Gov. Roosevelt. Of course, that would have been embarrassing to Gov. Roosevelt, but Mr. Walker was doubtless more concerned with the effects of such a clash upon his own career.

The nomination of Surrogate John P. O'Brien as Tammany Hall's candidate for mayor of New York does not arouse much enthusiasm. He is another Tammany man, having been faithful to the Tiger for 35 years. If he is elected, another Tammany regime can be expected. With Mr. Walker out of the way there seems to be no reason to anticipate that Mr. O'Brien will not be installed to succeed Mayor McKee on January 1. The one hope for the Republican party to win control of New York City's government seems to have passed with collapse of the proposed Walker vindication campaign.

Thousands of people both in and outside of New York will be disappointed that Mayor McKee is to be relieved so soon. His economy fight and his straightforward manner of meeting problems have attracted widespread support by the public. But such tactics alarmed Tammany Hall. By his vigorous devotion to the public welfare Mayor McKee eliminated his chances of obtaining the Tammany nomination. The people of New York would undoubtedly like to see him continue in office until his economy program could be put into effect. Already New York's financial position has been strengthened and its bonds have risen in price by a substantial margin. But New York is governed by the bosses of Tammany Hall and not by the people. After a brief respite, the metropolis appears to be doomed to four more years of Tammanyism.

ITALY'S COLONIES.

For half a century Italy has been a colonial power. Starting with Assab, a little city, chiefly important as a coaling station, and the 250 square miles surrounding it, the Italian government in 50 years has come to dominate more than 800,000 square miles, with a population of about 1,400,000 in its colonial empire. The first small colony, on the western coast of the Red Sea, was purchased from the Rubatino Steamship Company. Three years later the territory of Massawa was added, and in 1890 they were officially proclaimed an Italian colony.

Early in the Nineteenth century Italians began colonizing Tunis, but suffered a shock when France annexed the territory in 1881 by establishing a protectorate over it. This move hastened Italy's entrance into the Triple Alliance with Austria and Germany, and led her to annex Assab, which later was expanded into the colony of Erythrea. In 1889 she established a protectorate over the territory known as Italian Somaliland, which was annexed by degrees and then widened in 1924 by the addition of Transjubaland, which was ceded by England, according to the treaty of London in 1915, as a condition of Italy's entrance into the war.

The Italo-Turkish war gained for Italy the Libyan territory on the northern coast of Africa, which was divided into the colonies of Tripoli and Cyrenaica. This conflict also brought to Italy the islands of Rhodes and Dodecanese, which were formally ceded in 1923 by the peace treaty. Despite the extent of Italy's present-day empire she has little outlet for her overflow of population, as most of these colonies are unsuited for habitation by white races. In Africa only Erythrea, an extensive part of which extends into the Abyssinian hills with altitudes of several thousand feet, is suitable for European colonization. So it is that Italy's eyes are turned to other lands more fitted for contented settlement by her migrating sons.

GROWTH OF POPULATION.

In view of Malthus' experience there is not much encouragement for statisticians to predict the future trends of population. But they are still at it. The latest estimate for the United States is that the population will approach its maximum growth at about 150,000,000 in the year 1970.

This calculation is made by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. It seems to be based on the assumption that the present immigration policies will be maintained and that the present tendency for the birth rate to fall will continue for some time. Both of these factors are, of course, subject to wide variation. Conditions of life are changing so rapidly that within the next 40 years this calculation may be entirely upset.

Nevertheless, it appears to be a reasonable deduction from present trends. In 1930 the birth rate was 18.9 per 1,000 persons, and the death rate 11.4 per 1,000. This shows an excess of 7.5 births per 1,000 over deaths, but the statisticians hasten to point out that this figure does not represent the "true rate of increase."

High birth rates and heavy immigration to the United States two or three decades ago gave this country a large percentage of men and women in the reproductive ages of life. When children who are now coming into the world at the rate of 18.9 per 1,000 reach the stage of parenthood, the rate of growth in population must necessarily be curtailed, unless the birth rate should climb sharply up again, which is considered unlikely. The statisticians calculate that, were it not for the excessive number of young adults in the present population, the birth rate would be only 15.76 per 1,000 and the death rate would be 15.97 instead of 11.4 per 1,000.

It is apparent to the layman that an equilibrium of births and deaths must be reached in the not distant future if the present tendencies continue. The birth rate has fallen sharply since 1930 due to the depression. Probably some gains may be expected when more prosperous times are restored. Some diminution may be expected also in the death rate, although science believes that the possibilities of lengthening life are limited to a rather narrow margin. To a large extent both the birth rate and death rate will probably be influenced by economic development and scientific progress.

COMPLEX DISTRICT MACHINERY.

Corporation Counsel Bride has formally called attention to a growing and needless trouble in the complex machinery of the government of the National Capital. The multiplicity of separate agencies having to do with some phase of the government of the city has resulted in overlapping and contention over the functions and authority of each. This, Mr. Bride points out in his annual report, frequently causes serious delays in urgent matters.

Such a warning from the Corporation Counsel must not be disregarded. He has proposed that the governmental machinery be gone over carefully and the functions and authority of each agency be so sharply and clearly defined that there shall be no further dispute to interfere with the efficiency of the whole in serving the people.

This recommendation is a good one, but it does not go far enough. Study should be made of the whole business with a view to eliminating those agencies not absolutely essential. It is an open secret that ill-feeling and friction exist now. That too many cooks spoil the broth is as true of governmental agencies as of other things.

After he succeeded in getting his Philippine independence bill passed by the House in 40 minutes, Representative Hare has gone to the islands to study the subject.

Unless extradition treaties break down, the United States will soon add to its Insular possessions.

A law to prohibit machine guns is proposed. Wouldn't prohibition encourage bootlegging?

Exit the Pain Nerve

From the Boston Transcript.

Surgical progress is so rapid that it is almost impossible for the popular imagination to keep up with it. It is a surprise—we might call it a shock—to read that expert surgery has now advanced to the point of amputating the "pain nerves" and therefore relieving suffering. The "pain nerve" itself is no new discovery. It is simply another name for the sensory nerve fibre which leads to each particular part of the body. It is the nerve which warns us of an attack upon or disturbance by disease of any spot in the body. It is a surprise to most of us that the surgeons can with the knife remove this messenger of pain. Yet Prof. Francis C. Grant, of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School, described just this process before the clinical congress which has just been held at Yale.

We say it is almost a shock to be told that these messenger nerves may be removed by the knife, and a condition of insensibility thereby induced—a shock, because we thought it was a necessity of the body to be warned by the nerves when something in us is out of order. In other words, we thought that we needed to suffer. But Prof. Grant tells us that the removal of these complaining nerves makes possible the painless surgical treatment of certain diseases and troubles, and that the nerve amputation causes no loss of control over the affected area. In other words, we retain the nerves by which we telegraph orders to our muscles, but we permit no return message from the part. Just how, without that return message, we are going to know that something is the matter with us, is not yet made clear.

Certainly, with one development and another medical and surgical science is giving the coup de grace to what we used to call the "ministry of pain"—that is, the idea that a certain amount of suffering is desirable for our spiritual discipline. Once we were taught that we ascended to moral heights through the endurance of pain—that pain is rendered a blessing in disguise by its power to cleanse the soul of the desire for pleasure and comfort. But if the notion that this life, with all its pains and aches, is a sort of purgatory for our moral elevation, is a good doctrine, it is losing its hold upon the present generation. We abolish pain whenever we can. We reject its purifying ministry—if it possesses such a function. Suffering has no part in the religion of science. No doubt, if we can get rid of it altogether by the amputation of the "pain nerves" without detriment to the safety of the body, we shall have them summarily removed. Some will be glad to bid them goodby. Others, perhaps, will be incredulous, regarding a twinge in time as possibly saving them from deeper woes to come.

POST HASTE.

Two hundred mayors of French towns have resigned because of the declining price of wheat. That's something we haven't tried here.

Huey Long is visiting at Hyde Park, but they made him check his loud speaker.

Which is most democratic in a republic, for the five Tammany borough leaders to pick a candidate for mayor for 30,000 delegates or the five G. O. P. leaders to select one for 9,000 delegates?

"The trade of the storekeeper has fallen off in a large part because of a lack of purchasing power," was the discovery Gov. Roosevelt divulged in his latest speech at Hyde Park.

The governor also wisely said: "If we can stabilize the basic farm commodities—wheat, cotton, corn and tobacco—then the prices of other commodities will rise almost automatically." No one denied it and no one was rude enough to ask how he proposed to do it.

Ma Ferguson promises to give her undivided time to the governorship, and says: "Of course, my husband will help me, as he should." This leaves all the home chores for Jim.

France declines a formal treaty alliance with Japan and Manchukuo's delegate is snubbed at Geneva. Tokyo begins to feel the chill of the ice in isolation.

If the election is decided by a negative grouch plus a positive promise of economic experiments, such exercising of the franchise will not strengthen faith in democracy.

American authorities are making a thorough search to determine whether it is desirable to annex further Insular possessions.

When car loadings exceed 622,000 and increase over 26,000 in a week—well, what do you think?

Speaker Garner says some of the recent public building allotments are pork. This deserves special consideration, for he certainly is an authority.

Cleveland, shooting and injuring seven persons in the capture of two bandits, must take some lessons from Chicago.

"I would not say he promised to sign the bonus bill, but I certainly got the impression he was for it," says Mr. Nelson, of the Farmers Union, who talked with Gov. Roosevelt in Iowa. Glittering impressions from generalities were numerous on that trip. PAUL HUDSON.

OLD GRAY-BEARD ANNUALS.

The middle-aged perennials with all their labor done
Are gossiping like women in the warm October sun.
I think I hear them saying: "Grandpa Zinnia's very low
And the frost will surely take him in another day or so."

I walk about the garden in the early morning haze
To see the gray-beard annuals whose years are told in days.
Their youth is of the springtime and their prime is of July
But now it is October and they're old and soon to die.

The annuals late in autumn seem like people late in life,
All scarred and bruised by struggle and completely used by strife.
And, like the neighboring women when an old man's pulse runs low,
I think I hear the larkspurs say: "It's sad to watch them go!"

Forty Horses Can Pull a Forty-Horse Load Only as One Team

By ROBERT QUILLEN

WHEN the South seceded from the Union, it became in the truest sense a nation. Its people were united by a common purpose, a common belief and a common ideal.

The Germany of prewar days was truly a nation. Its people believed in the same things, dreamed the same dreams, and regarded themselves as a unit.

Our America is not a nation. We are merely a great number of individualists who happen to live in the same country.

We have no plan or goal, no common idea, no feeling of unison, no accepted leader, no purpose—nor even a common standard of morality.

Our vast energy is wasted in undertakings that contradict and cancel one another. We are like a great ship without a helmsman or a designated course. Chance alone determines where we shall drift.

That is our weakness, our fault and our trouble. And that explains much of our discontent and our restlessness.

The average man, no matter how jealously he guards his liberty or how boastfully he asserts his equality, neither desires nor enojys independence. Observe how reluctant he is to quit the jobless city and assume the responsibility of a farm.

He prefers having a "boss." He wants some one else to do the planning and take the responsibility when things go wrong. He feels secure only when he is obeying rules, following a leader and working for a cause big enough to give him dignity.

America enjoyed the war. It gave people a purpose, a feeling of unity, a sense of accomplishment and usefulness.

Now the land cries for a leader, an ideal and a purpose.

Are we waiting for a Messiah? Must we continue this aimless, puerile, unprofitable way of life until a Moses arises to lead us?

Why can't we get together and organize our forces to build a nation worth while?

We need a definite plan of progress, an accepted standard of decency, a course of training, an ideal that will serve as guide and goal, a high purpose that will tax and develop our manhood and womanhood. We need vision and purpose.

We are aimless individuals or selfish little groups in pursuit of childish gains, and those who see the truth are ashamed.

Must we wait for some vast disaster to give us a purpose and weld us into a nation?

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

John Sharp's Partisanship.
Springfield Republican.

Once, while Democratic leader in the House of Representatives, the late Senator John Sharp Williams delivered a speech complaining that the overwhelming Republican majority was abusing its power and robbing the helpless Democrats even of their constitutional rights. A new press correspondent, impressed by the pathetic eloquence of the speech but with some reservations as to its entire accuracy, sought the old man out, after the day's session was over, in his office deep in the bowels of the old Capitol Building, which was the best that Democrats could hope for in those days. It was terrible, suggested the correspondent to Mr. Williams, to think that Republicans could be guilty of such things as he had just been describing, but what would Mr. Williams himself be doing if instead of being minority leader he were leader of the majority? A gleam came into the old man's deep sunken eyes: "My well-known and amazing sense of devotion to the truth," he began with an elaborate irony, as impossible of reflection in the printed word as was his Southern accent, "compels me to state, sir, that in the delightful circumstances which you have described I should probably be committing similar outrages on the helpless Republicans."

An Astonished Candidate.
Topeka Capital.

A young veteran, David S. Ingalls, is the Republican nominee for Governor of Ohio, after having made a record in a Washington department. Seemingly Mr. Ingalls knew little of the ways of politics, for he made this statement the other night in a speech in Cleveland of what he is discovering in his campaign:

"I am astonished at the number of people who are willing to contribute thousands of dollars to the campaign if they are guaranteed State contracts or jobs. But I want to say I have decided not to be under obligation to any one. If I am elected you will have a new deal in Ohio."

Polite Swats.
Boston Herald.

Campaign interchanges between rival candidates, writes a political commentator, are less acrimonious than they used to be. Instead of giving tit for tat, we suppose, they are now content to just give tut for tut.

A Promising Candidate.
Minneapolis Journal.

On the basis of his utterances on his long campaign swing around the continent, which ended with his return to Albany, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt may be fairly regarded as the most promising nominee that either major party has put forward for the Presidency in the present century.

The trip, indeed, has been one long series of promises. The candidate has promised to solve every vexatious social or economic problem that burdens his countrymen, easily and effortlessly. But he has failed, in virtually each instance, to give more than a vague hint as to what his solution of a given problem might be. And he has failed to explain why he has not undertaken the solution of more of these problems while Governor of New York.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Republican Now Supporting Roosevelt Disparages Hoover Speech at Des Moines.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The Post characterizes Mr. Hoover's address in Des Moines as a fighting speech. Perhaps it was compared with his previous utterances, but few except the most rabid partisans noted any particular combativeness in the President's latest contribution to his own campaign for reelection.

While I am supporting Gov. Roosevelt this year with the same energy I poured into helping to elect Mr. Hoover in 1928, while living in lukewarm Pennsylvania, I was hoping that the Republican standard bearer would rattle some heavy missiles against the Democratic ramparts. As with most people, I do not like 13-2 baseball games, 56-7 football scores, boxing bouts that end in 20-second knockouts or other topheavy and lop-sided contests. So I was eager for Mr. Hoover to set off some resounding fireworks.

What happened instead? In a weary voice, Mr. Hoover presented a 90-minute defense of his administration, embodying in his speech another variation of that 70-year-old thesis, "The Republican party is the only party fitted to govern." He tossed a few pebbles at Speaker Garner, hinted that the Democrats were running some one against him, told the farmers they should be thankful they were no worse off and embroidered the whole address with a glowing and graceful tribute to the people of Iowa and the agricultural Midwest as patriots yesterday, today, and forever. It was a splendid job of its kind, but it reminded boxing fans of Jack Sharkey in the ring; missing as often or oftener than he landed a telling blow.

As a Coolidge Republican, it seems to me that the Hoover strategists have muffed a golden opportunity. Recall, if you will, what Theodore Roosevelt would have done with such a sounding-board! What a rattling of artillery Calvin Coolidge would have let loose under like circumstances! What headlines Charles Evans Hughes or Senator Borah would have drawn throughout the country had either been on the Des Moines rostrum instead of Mr. Hoover! Democracy would have been picking arrows out of its hide for a fortnight. Maybe the Democrats have a few bruises today but their faces are no longer than they were yesterday. Meanwhile, Alfred E. Smith and Mr. Roosevelt have buried the hatchet—publicly.

I think it will be increasingly evident, when the reaction to Mr. Hoover's speech becomes known, that well-wishers and opponents alike will be forced to agree that the mountain labored and brought forth a mouse—and that Mr. Hoover's forte is not stump-speaking in doubtful territory where a defeatist pall blankets the landscape. A. S. BEANE.

Roosevelt Obtained From Chaucer the Allusion to Senator Norris as a "Perfect Gentle Knight."

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: For the benefit of those who have forgotten their Chaucer, as too many of us have, let me remind them that Gov. Roosevelt's allusion to Senator Norris as "a very perfect gentle knight" had its origin with dear old Geoffrey, though the press dispatches modernized the ancient characterization, which is found in the prologue of "The Canterbury Tales," and reads, "He was a verry parfait gentil knight."

Now if any Democratic highbrow wishes to make some sort of defense of a presidential candidate sadly in need of it, he can at the least say, "Well, anyway, he knows Chaucer." Which might help some. B. M.

Herb Treatment Good for a Sick Patient—Tip to Possible New Doctor.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Even though the Democrats may not agree as to the efficacy of herb treatment, they must admit, however grudgingly, that a certain Herb has started a very sick patient well on the road to recovery.

If a new doctor is called in, let us hope he will continue the same treatment. WALTER E. BIRCH.

Suggests National Taxpayers' League to Fight Bonus Raid on Treasury.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I read with interest your editorial "Legion Loses Caste" in last Sunday's issue, and I fully subscribe to the purposes of the National Economy League and the new organization to fight payment of the bonus until it becomes due in 1945.

I do not believe, however, that either of these organizations has sufficient fighting defense to offset the powerful influence of the American Legion.

Since the Legion has abandoned all the high ideals set forth in their platform or constitution and are now banded together for political coercion and Treasury raids to the detriment of the taxpayers of the country, more drastic action is necessary.

Therefore I propose that an organization known as the National Taxpayers' Protective League be formed in all sections of the country, with equal or greater numbers than that of the Legion, and with sufficient fighting power to defeat coercive legislation and Treasury raids.

In order to limit the power of this coercive, bonus marching and Treasury raiding organization I would subscribe to an agreement not to support nor vote for any Legion candidate for office who stands for such principles.

The legion of taxpayers who have held the American Legion, composed of our soldier boys, in such high regard, will view with regret the fact that the "Legion Loses Caste."

TAXPAYER AND VOTER.

LUTHERANS GATHER FOR BIG CONVENTION

Eighth Biennial Meeting of United Church to Be in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Lutherans from widely scattered sections of this country and Canada gather here this week for the eighth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church of America—184 years after Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg formed the church's first synod.

Six churches in and about Philadelphia made up that early body, the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania, which was also the parent of the present United Lutheran Church in America, said to be the third largest Protestant denomination in the United States.

Five hundred and sixty-four clergy and lay delegates from 42 States and 7 Canadian Provinces are expected to attend the sessions, which open here Wednesday night and continue through the following Wednesday.

The opening service will be held Wednesday night in Holy Communion Lutheran Church. All business sessions of the convention, which start Thursday morning, will be conducted in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

An impressive feature of the convention is the scheduled vesper service in Philadelphia's large convention hall next Sunday afternoon. A choir of 800 voices, recruited from some 80 Lutheran churches in this district, has been training throughout the summer for this service.

Among the activities planned for the delegates is a pilgrimage to the historic Augustus Lutheran Church at Trappe, near here, the parish church of Henry Melchoir Muhlenberg, hailed as "the patriarch of the Lutheran Church in America."

STEEL PRODUCTION ABOVE EXPECTATION

Trade Magazine Says September Gains Are Likely to Continue.

Cleveland, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Improvement in the steel industry exceeded all expectations in September and there are indications October also will record substantial gains, said Steel today.

The daily ingot rate in September was 37,502 tons, as determined by the American Iron and Steel Institute, the magazine said in its weekly survey. This indicated an operating rate of 17.3 per cent, an increase of 3 points or 21.5 per cent over August and the highest since May.

"Production of pig iron, as of steel, last month registered its first gain since February, the daily iron rate of 19,788 tons being the highest since June and implying a blast furnace rate of 14 per cent, a rise of 2 points or 16 per cent," the magazine continued. "An increase of five in active stacks as of September 30, when 46 were in blast, was the first expansion of capacity since February.

"With October one-third gone, there is every indication that this month also will record substantial betterment. Steelmaking operations in the week ended October 8 gained another point, to 19 per cent, largely on the strength of expansion in the Chicago and eastern Pennsylvania districts, and a scheduled increase at Pittsburgh may put the industry up close to 20 per cent in the current week.

"While such major consumers of iron and steel as the automotive and building industries and the railroads are more active in the market, the rise in production continues a very direct outcome of numerous small, well-diversified commitments.

"The tonnage order is the great exception, which not only is a promise of further improvement but also connotes that the markets have a broad base.

"Outstanding in the week's business and exceptional for its size is the American Can Co.'s release of upward of 54,000 tons or 1,200,000 boxes of tin plate for delivery early in 1933.

"R. F. C. loans are expected almost daily to provide mills over 30,000 tons, chiefly plates, for equipment construction and repair programs by the Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore & Ohio and Central of New Jersey railroads."

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A group of Canadian investment banking houses plans to offer in the New York market soon a $4,000,000 issue of Province of British Columbia 5 per cent bonds, due October 1, 1935, at 96½.

Dividend meetings scheduled for next week include Nash Motors on Monday, Procter & Gamble on Tuesday, and Woolworth and Continental Can on Wednesday.

Canadian carloadings totaled 51,813 in the week ended October 1, a decrease of 102 cars from the previous week.

The short position on the New York Curb Exchange as of October 3, totaled 27,851 shares, against 28,418 on September 15.

The Gulf, Mobile & Northern Railroad has advanced funds to its subsidiary, the New Orleans Great Northern Railroad, to enable the latter to pay $12.50 for each deposited $1,000 bond, or the equivalent of six months interest on the new bonds issuable under the road's readjustment plan. The distribution will be paid October 17 to holders of certificates of deposit October 15.

Movement of American cotton "into sight" this week was smaller than a year ago, the New York Cotton Exchange Service reports. The total was 536,000 bales, against 922,000 in 1931. Forwardings to mills of the world amounted to 257,000 bales, compared with 306,000 a year ago. The world visible supply of American cotton is now 7,498,000 bales, against 7,219,000 a week ago and 6,412,000 at this time last year.

There were sixteen unfavorable dividend changes this week, as compared with 26 and 57 in the two preceding weeks, says Standard Statistics Co.

American Airways carried 9,840 revenue passengers in September, a gain of nearly 40 per cent over the same 1931 month. Airmail traffic showed a slight decrease.

New York, Oct. 9.—The volume of business on the New York Stock Exchange so far in October has been a disappointment to brokers who were anticipating a considerably longer run of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 share days. Commissions have become slimmer, but many of the brokers remain hopeful that the present lull in trading interest will soon give way to more activity under improving business prospects.

John F. Grimm, chairman of the Cheney Brothers reorganization committee, announced today that the company will be unable to meet the November 1 maturity on $462,000 of its 5 per cent serial bonds and to liquidate its bank indebtedness. The committee has worked out a reorganization plan under which holders of the present common stock are offered share for share new common stock without par value, represented by voting trust certificates. Holders of the serial gold bonds are offered for each $1,000 principal amount an equal amount of new 5 per cent five-year bonds and ten shares of new participating preferred stock without par value.

In the group of nonferrous metals, lead made the best showing last week as regards the course of prices. The leading seller advanced the quotation twice, placing the market ¼ of a cent a pound above the recent low. There was fairly active buying during the week, according to dealers.

General Motors Sales Drop to 34,694 Cars

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Sales of General Motors cars and trucks to American consumers totaled 34,694 units in September, as compared with 37,230 in August and 51,740 in September, 1931, the corporation reported today.

September sales to dealers in the United States were 23,545 against 24,151 in August, and 47,895 in September, 1931, while total sales to dealers, including Canadian and overseas shipments, amounted to 30,117 units against 30,419 in August and 58,122 in September a year ago.

ADEQUATE DEFENSE URGED BY JOHNSON

Legion's Nonpolitical Role Is Stressed by New Head in Atlanta Talk.

Atlanta, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Urging adequate armament for the United States, Louis Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, said here today he believed in the biblical assertion that "a strong man, well armed, keepeth his palace in peace."

In his first official visit as national commander, Mr. Johnson, a resident of Clarksburg, W. Va., spoke to a State-wide meeting of post and department commanders and other officers of the Georgia Legion and to representatives gathered here from nearby States.

"The American Legion believes in preparedness, not for war, but because preparedness is the greatest preventive of war," he declared.

Reviewing briefly the program of the legion, he pledged himself to serve the "rank and file," and said: "I had rather die in the effort than fail to make any attempt to carry out the desires of the rank and file of this organization."

"The American Legion," he said, discussing its recent national convention where he was elected, "passed some resolutions at Portland that do not please everybody." He referred to resolutions dealing with prohibition and the bonus.

"There are those who resigned from an 'honorary status' in the legion after these resolutions had been adopted—an 'honorary status' which you know and I know never existed."

The national commander said that "after November 8 I shall have more to say."

He explained that the legion as an organization is politically nonpartisan and added, "I do not want the American Legion to be accused of taking a part in this election."

Johnson said the "legion is going to pay a little more attention this year to immigration. This country doesn't want paupers and diseased persons. The legion believes those who come to our shores to live should come here to become good American citizens and that those who do not respect the flag should be deported."

MacWhite to Attend Virginia Exercises

Fredericksburg to Recall Religious Character of Washington.

Special to The Washington Post.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 9.—Michael MacWhite, Irish Free State Minister to the United States, has accepted an invitation to the celebration here next Sunday, commemorating the religious character of George Washington and the separation of church and state, the Rev. J. V. Brennan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church here, announced today.

Among the high ecclesiastics who have signified their intention of taking part in the three Catholic services are the Rev. W. Coleman Nevils, president of Georgetown University; the Very Rev. Mgr. Edw. Buckey, of Washington; the Rev. Edward McAdams, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Washington.

Seminarians from the Sulpician Seminary, Washington, will act as union officers at the military field mass at 11 a. m., which precedes the ceremonies at 2:30 p. m., in which all denominations and faiths will unite in celebrating the severing of church and state and commemorating the religious character of Washington.

Lone Star Flag Hung Upside Down at Fair

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Mrs. F. Schenkenberg, a daughter of the Texas revolution, has set authorities of the Texas State fair straight about display of the Lone Star Flag. State banners flying at the exposition opening yesterday were just a lot of distress signals, according to her viewpoint.

The Texas bunting is composed of one white stripe, one red stripe and a white star on a blue background. The State fair management figured the red stripe should be on top. Mrs. Schenkenberg, backed by other Daughters of the Revolution, picked the white. The white was up today.

Metal "Fish Lung" Life Saver Will Be Tested

Madrid, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A Spanish laborer, Adrian Alvarez Ruiz, announced today the marine ministry had agreed to an official test of his invention, consisting of a submarine cylinder equipped with the equivalent of "fish lungs." Ruiz claims his invention is capable of sustaining human life in a submerged position indefinitely.

The inventor declined to discuss the details, but said his invention has three compartments which filter oxygen from water, furnishing fresh air to the occupant of the cylinder. He said he had remained beneath the surface eight hours in his invention.

Gandhi Offered Freedom If He Ends British Fight

Simla, India, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Lord Willingdown, the viceroy, has received numerous telegrams requesting the release of Mahatma Gandhi, and is understood to have agreed to the Nationalist leader's freedom, but on the condition that his civil disobedience campaign be called off.

As Mr. Gandhi has, according to reports, told several close friends that civil disobedience is a "part of his religion," the prospect of his release seems remote. He is confined to Yerda Jail in Poona on a charge involving civil disobedience.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

A sketch of a Dah-ray design that was printed in this column three years ago, and the same gown, dyed, remodeled and brought up to date. (By Dah-ray.)

THERE is really so much difference between just "a lady" and "a lovely lady," and this difference is composed of a number of little things that are not at all difficult to learn and to establish as habits which in a very short while become so firmly fixed in one's mind that they are entirely automatic.

And I do not mean simply the little habtis of well grooming that are known to every well-bred person, but also habits, as it were, of instinctive superrefinement—which are born in some people and acquired by others. The conscious things can become the instinctive things with practice, you know!

It is all of these and a hundred more little things that go to make up a lovely lady. But do not for an instant get the idea that a lovely lady's time is entirely occupied in keeping herself well groomed—nothing of the kind is true. Instead, all these little habits of refinement become entirely automatic—a subconscious gesture that takes but a moment to perform, but becomes so a part of the personality that to forget one of them would be impossible and to neglect one would cause discomfort.

While you are merely thinking about what you are going to wear to the party tonight, a bit of cotton dipped in gasoline can be giving your satin pumps a new life. While you are reading that delightful new novel, your fingers can be automatically massaging your scalp.

It is simply a matter of teaching yourself the possibility of doing all these things subconsciously instead of consciously and thereby earning the irght to the beautiful title of "lovely lady."

If you wanted to know how to make a real parchment shade out of the real parchment skin, my deah—not the paper—where would you go to find out how to do it? Well, you might find a place that would teach you how, and when you did you certainly would spend plenty of pennies for the instruction! That's why I spent so much time and so many of my pennies finding out for you how to make these shades, so that my deah public could just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet! We tell you everything in this leaflet from the word go—and from the skinning of the goat—well, almost, to the finished millyun-dollah shade for your own home or for a gift. Better send for it!

Style is a funny thing. Again and again I am reminded that one has but to invest in good materials, expensive trimming, worth-while things—to get her money more than back.

So-o-o-o-o, just for that, I hurled scrapbooks around, flung trunks over my shoulder and dared spiders and lizards and whatevers in the studio the other day—to find you the sketch of a Dah-ray design made for you three years ago—and found it, and showed you in the illustration of today how such a gown could be brought up to date. The dress is white georgette, and the embroidered and beaded bands were most awfully 'spensive. Well, one would buy more georgette—the best possible match; then one would make the dress as in large sketch, using the embroidered bands. And have it all dyed black—and there you would exactly be!

Au revoir.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

IN my recent articles reporting my visit in Hollywood, I didn't tell you about my visit at the Fox Studios, and just recently I've had a lovely note from Elissa Landi. Perhaps you know that she is the granddaughter of Empress Elizabeth (although she doesn't discuss it). She probably is the most versatile star in Hollywood. Her third book, "House for Sale," had just been published when I talked with her. She is truly a walking atlas, she converses and writes in five languages, and has appeared on the stage in Italy, Germany and London. She is a beautiful horsewoman and can beat most of the men tennis enthusiasts two sets out of three.

Her Beauty Message.

Here is her beauty message to my readers just as she sent it to me: "At least eight hours of sleep every night. Night and morning baths, at least. Horseback riding and walking. I like particularly to take long rides on my horse, Darkey, and find that excercise restful and relaxing. I like to ride through the Hollywood hills. But many girls do not care for horseback riding, so I recommend walking for rest and relaxation, which are the chief aids to beauty.

"The crux of health and beauty recipes lies in the oft-quoted legend: 'you are as perfect as your feet . . . and your posture.' In this day of automobiles for nearly every home, girls do not walk enough. Good feet, it is claimed by athorities, should be able to walk at least five miles a day without a whimper. One should walk without jarring the body . . . without pounding the heels. The outside of the heel should be placed on the ground first; follow along with the small toe, and finally the great toe. This will throw the weight of the body away from the long arch and automatically relieve the strain upon it. If your feet are good you can swing along, with head up, convinced that all's well with the world."

No Diets.

Miss Landi does not need to make any specfic effort to keep slender. That is, she does not go on diets, or that sort of thing. She acknowledges: "I fancy my exercises keep me in good physical trim."

Here is her concluding message to you: "Keep an alert mental attitude toward one's activities and it will go a long way toward keeping one youthful."

How many of you have a favorite legend or pet slogan to buoy your spirits, and a favorite sport or amusement to keep you young? Why not adopt one?

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

FISHERMAN'S ERYSIPELAS.

PRESENTLY we will be hearing something of a new disease. It is a skin eruption, somewhat akin to erysipelas.

As a matter of fact it is not at all new. Men have had it for a long time, but there was not much use talking about it. It was never fatal. It always got well in two to four weeks. Why tell the doctors, since they knew nothing about it and what they prescribed had no effect?

Among fishermen it is know as fish poisoning. It is even older than that. The farmers know it as swine erysipelas. At one time, long ago, it was confused with their deadly enemy, hog cholera.

Dr. J. V. Klauder appears to have put it on a good working basis, so far as its relation to the human animal is concerned. It is due to a bacillus which is not of any disease producing family. This bacillus is at home in decomposing animal and vegetable matter. It is especially apt to be found in the slime found on fish skin, though by no means limited to that. The men who have most of it are professional fishermen. Amateur fishermen are less subject to it, and men who handle fish in markets and elsewhere removed from the base of supply are still less prone to develop it. It has been noted in butchers, men who work in meat packing establishments, cooks, veterinarians, meat inspectors, "a man who cleaned a rabbit," "a man who carried a possum by the tail."

A typical sequence is this: A fisherman was stuck by a fish spine. He got some of the fish slime in the wound. This erysipelatoid eruption followed.

After fish have been cleaned and skinned and their fins cut off they are less dangerous. Dead fish are less likely to infect than live ones. Well cleaned, ice packed fish are reasonably safe.

It can be contracted by butchers and cooks from handling meat, especially that from hogs with swine erysipelas.

The essential symptom of the disease is an eruption which usually starts around a wound on the hand and spreads for a certain distance over the hands and up the arms. As a rule this eruption looks like a mild erysipelas. Occasionally blisters form. In severe cases there is a swelling of a joint or two, and then acute rheumatic fever may be suspected. There is little or no fever, or other constitutional disturbance.

In most cases the man affected lays up about a week or ten days; not that he is very sick, but to give his hands a chance to get well. The rule is that in three or four weeks the skin is clean and he goes back to his job.

The ordinary treatments for eczema and erysipelas are of no service. The man who lets nature take its course gets well about as quickly as the one who applies boric acid dressings, gauze, ointments, and other remedies. If any local application does any good it is heat and light. Dr. Klauder advises the use of a serum prepared from the bacillus of hog erysipelas, the cause of this disorder. Cases injected with this serum get well in less than half the time required by nature to cure.

MAY NEED SURGERY.

Mrs. J. G. H. writes: 1. Is tuberculosis of the bone contagious?

2. Is there a sanitarium in the south or anywhere where this particular type of tuberculosis is treated?

3. The person I have in mind is over 60 years of age and has had this trouble since the age of 8. Would she be benefited by treatment?

4. What is astigmatism—the cause and cure?

REPLY.

1. It is when it is discharging. It is not even highly contagious then.

2. I know of none.

3. My guess is that she needs some bone surgery. Following that, exposure to sunlight.

4. It is an irregularity of the shape of that part of the eyeball through which light passes. It causes the images thrown on the retina to be out of focus in places. It is corrected by wearing properly fitted glasses.

FOOD COMBINATIONS.

Y. G. writes. 1. Will starchy and proteid foods combine?

2. Will bread mix with tomatoes or fruit?

3. Will starchy and acid foods combine?

REPLY.

1. You know they will. You eat bread and meat.

2. Yes. You eat tomato sandwiches

3. Yes. Strawberry shortcake is fine. So are berry pies.

What Today Means to You

"LIBRA."

IF October 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this day are from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m., from 4:30 p. m. to 5:45 p. m. and from 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger hours are from 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7 p. m.

Astrological aspects point to this day as one of unusual brightness. Cares, worries and doubts will be borne lightly today, and every one will tend to radiate good cheer. Forces are at work which will tend to make this a day particularly adapted to the making of lasting friendships. Those having affairs of the heart must be careful not to be carried away by their emotions.

Children born on October 10 will have natures that lean toward the artistic. They will be dreamers, and will early in life begin to transcribe their creative and idealistic thoughts into material forms. Children evincing great interest in music, painting, drawing, &c., should be encouraged along that line. They will be kind and considerate to both humans and animals, and will go out of their way to lend a helping hand.

People born on October 10 will find themselves living very full lives. Their activities and interests will be many and they will constantly find themselves with something new and interesting to do. Their lifework will usually not lead them into a routine existence, for they would chafe in the harness. They are endowed with a creative instinct and many artists of various sorts will be found among them. They have great energy and endurance and when working on some particularly appealing problem they will carry on for hours and even days with little or no thought for food, rest, or recreation.

Your interest is in living in every sense of the word. You want to know people, to see life in its various phases and to study all that goes on about you. In no sense of the word are you a thrill seeker, but for your own satisfaction you must see life at its worst as well as at its best. Money in itself means nothing to you and you are improvident. You have many friends and many seeming friends, and because of your kindly and sympathetic nature and your generosity these latter are inclined to take advantage of you. At times you appear a bit cynical, but you generally accept life as it comes.

Successful people born on October 10:

Joshua Bates, banker and statesman.
George P. Morris, poet.
Robert Gould Shaw, soldier.
Edna Dean Proctor, poet.
John J. Stevenson, geologist.
Nathan L. Miller, former Governor of New York.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

Ham With Sweet Potatoes.

1 slice of smoked ham, cut into sizes for serving.

3 cups raw, sliced sweet potatoes.

1 tablespoon butter or ham drippings.

2 tablespoons sugar

1 cup hot water

Brown the ham lightly on both sides and arrange it to cover the bottom of a baking dish. Spread the sliced sweet potatoes over the ham. Sprinkle with sugar. Add the hot water and extra fat. Cover the dish and bake slowly until the ham is tender. Baste the potatoes occasionally with the gravy. Brown the top well.

Pickled Pigs' Feet.

Place pigs' feet in salt pickle for several days. Then boil them for a varying length of time, depending upon the size of the feet. Take care to remove them from the kettle before the meat separates from the bones. Split the feet lengthwise, place them in a jar and cover with vinegar to which bay leaves, allspice and whole black pepper have been added.

Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb.

Have the shoulder blade removed, and fill the cavity with a stuffing made as follows:

2 cups dry bread crumbs
4 to 6 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon onion juice
1 teaspoon parsley or celery tops chopped fine
Small quantity of thyme

Melt the butter, add the other ingredients and mix well together. Stuff this mixture into the lamb shoulder and place in a baking pan. Sprinkle salt, pepper and flour over the outside of the meat and sear in a hot even. Reduce the temperature and cook for 1½ hours. Serve piping hot.

Roast Leg of Lamb.

Choose a plump, well-fatted leg weighing 5 to 5½ pounds. Wipe with a damp cloth. Rub salt over the outside of the meat and dredge with flour if desired. Place the meat, bone side up, in a heavy roasting pan, preferably on a rack, and put it in a very hot oven (about 500 degrees F). If it is roasted in this position the thick part of the meat will be most convenient for carving. Let the meat stay at this temperature for 20 minutes, or until it sears over; then let the oven cool to a moderate temperature (about 350 degrees F.). Continue roasting for 2 to 2½ hours, depending on size of leg. A general rule is to allow 15 minutes per pound, counting out the time required for searing. Do not add water. If desired place raw peeled onions around the meat when it is put in the oven. Sprinkle the onions with salt and a very little flour. Serve meat piping hot.

Culbertson on Bridge

MASTERS OF BRIDGE.

MANY Contract Bridge players preen themselves on their ability to throw a monkey wrench into the adverse bidding machinery by psychic bids. Other players have found psychic leads equally effective in encompassing the defeat of even sound contracts.

A spectacular example of a psychic Opening lead which resulted in the defeat of a game contract is given by Mr. Walter F. Wyman, of Boston, Mass., recognized as one of America's authorities on Contract Bridge. Mr. Wyman has been closely associated with Mr. Milton C. Work, and has contributed many ideas to the theory of Contract bidding. His skill as a player has been universally recognized. He is the card editor of the Sportaman and the Amateur Golfer, and the co-author with Mr. Work of a number of books dealing with the game.

The hand was played defensively in a Rubber game by Mr. Wyman, sitting North, and Mr. Donald A. Sherman, also of Boston, sitting South.

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Part-score: East-West 60.

	♠ A Q ♡ 9 6 2 ◇ 9 2 ♣ 10 8 6 5 3 2
♠ K J 5 3 2 ♡ 10 8 ◇ K Q J ♣ Q 10 4	N W E S	♠ 9 8 7 ♡ J 7 4 ◇ A 8 6 3 ♣ A K 4
	♠ 10 6 4 ♡ A K Q 5 3 ◇ 7 5 ♣ J 9 7

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♡	1♠	Pass	2♠
Pass	Pass	3♣	Pass
Pass	3◇	Pass	Pass
Pass

North and South did not feel that they could go further in defending the hand, although Mr. Wyman made a sound, if rather spectacular, bid of three clubs, which his partner felt he could not support.

The final contract was three diamonds, and Mr. Wyman was charged with the responsibility of the lead. After careful study, he selected what was unquestionably one of the most brilliant Opening leads made in Bridge history. Realizing that it was necessary to secure 5 tricks to defeat the contract, he decided that the only way in which 5 tricks could be secured would be to be able to ruff the third round of spades. How to do this was the question. North solved it by leading the Ace of spades, thereby creating in the mind of his partner and of the Declarer the impression that he held a singleton in that suit.

He followed this up with leading his top heart, which was won by South, who now returned a spade for North to ruff. Completely misled by the brilliant Opening lead, West finessed the spade suit and Mr. Wyman won with the Queen. A second round of hearts placed South again in the lead, and South now led his last spade, which was triumphantly ruffed by North and the defeat of the contract assured.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ A J 5 ♡ J 10 6 ◇ Q 4 ♣ A K Q J 8
♠ Q ♡ A K Q 9 5 ◇ 9 8 6 3 ♣ 10 6 2	N W E S	♠ 10 8 7 6 2 ♡ 8 7 2 ◇ J 2 ♣ 7 5 4
	♠ K 9 4 3 ♡ 4 3 ♡ A K 10 7 5 ♣ 9 3

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Washington Post, inclosing a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ELMER TWITCHELL ON THE NEW FOOTBALL RULES.

DEAR EDITOR: Well, I have been to a 1932 football game and I can truthfully state that spectators have no more chance of understanding what is going on than ever. Most fans gave up trying to follow football years ago and have been satisfied to get a general idea of what was going on by asking the usher or reading the Sunday papers, but I am just stubborn enough to think I have as much right to follow a football game as the rules committee.

* * * *

For one thing, the rules this year are going to mean more unemployment. They will throw most of the stretcher-bearers and team doctors out of work and make it so the driver and interne can sit in the white ambulance outside of Portal 18 and play rummy all afternoon without any chance of interruption.

* * * *

If a boy gets hurt on a football field this season he will be the sort of boy who would get hurt even in a chess tournament.

* * * *

First of all, the flying wedge, which every Saturday afternoon used to leave a few thousand athletes looking like Mickey Walker when Schmeling had finished with him, has been cut out. On the kick-off this year, half the team must wait on the 45-yard line until the ball is in the air, instead of charging down the field like an Ojibway scalping party and laying the receiver low with speed and dispatch.

* * * *

This makes it possible for a player so let a football fall into his arms without looking around to see where the ambulance is. It gives him at least a chance to start running.

* * * *

Secondly, the new rules completely wipe out those dramatic moments in football in which the fans were stirred by the sight of some determined athlete being knocked down five or six times before he would give in any say uncle. The 1932 rules specify that the play is finished the minute the runner hits the ground.

* * * *

Half the fun of football was to see some tough subnormal sophomore squirm out of a midfield brawl and get going again. I can remember when a football athlete who got up only twice after being knocked down and sat on was a big sissy.

But this year there is an anti-rising rule. Once off his feet he becomes flatter than yeastless bread. There is nothing he can do except call for a good clean book.

* * * *

There is one 1932 rule, however, that will bring nothing but cheers from the fans. This is the rule that bars a team from sending in substitutes except when time has been called for injuries or other reasons. In the past it has been okay to rush in a lot of substitutes whenever a coach could think of nothing else to do. It was often impossible to get a drive to the goal line under way because so many subs were running in from all directions. But this is over.

* * * *

Before a coach can send in any subs this year, somebody's got to get hurt or something, and I expect to see the game speeded up quite a bit.

* * * *

Well, I have outlined the changes to you and I hope you will enjoy your football. I wouldn't advise you to bother understanding the new rules, however, as they will be reshuffled and rescrambled this winter again, of course. Yours, truly

ELMER TWITCHELL.

COMFORTS OF HOME.

The United States Court has ruled that landlords can not be held responsible for violations of the prohibition law unless they have knowledge of the purposes to which their building is being put. This gives great comfort to those owners of brownstone fronts who, when they see crowds of people going in and out of the front door, mutter, "Apartment hunters!"

Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL.

THE Yom Kippur service, celebrating the Day of Atonement, will be broadcast from the Eighth Street Temple by WMAL at 11:15 o'clock this morning. Dr. Abram Simon will conduct the service.

AS LONG as Station WMAL is operated as an independent station after it leaves Columbia, which is now set for October 20, there will continue to be rumors. The one which has been circulated most freely is that the station might ultimately become an outlet for the N. B. C.-WJZ network programs.

A more recent report is that WMAL may devote part of its daily schedule to the programs originated by the Dixie network of the Columbia chain. A third story is that the station may be sold to a company which hopes to form a third national chain.

A description of the Montague Handicap will be on WMAL at 3:45 p. m. today.

"GEORGE WASHINGTON—the Farmer," a play written by members of the Princess Anne (Maryland) Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, will be enacted today (WRC, 12:30 p. m.).

The territorial possessions of the United States will receive the Parade of the States salute (WRC, 9:30 p. m.). Typical music of the Pacific Islands, Panama and Alaska will be included.

WILLIAM R. CASTLE, JR., Undersecretary of State, will discuss the disarmament situation during the National Radio Forum (WRC, 10 p. m.). Mr. Castle will take up the subject of "World Disarmament: Its Significance and the Developments of the Latest Discussions."

"Prohibition Reform," a campaign speech, will be delivered by Mrs. Charles H. Sabin (WRC, 8:45 p. m.).

The British novelist, J. B. Priestly, will speak "To a Highbrow" during the first of a series of weekly broadcasts from London (WMAL, 4:20 p. m.).

Ruth Etting will revive "It Happened in Monterey" and "Till We Meet Again," adding the newer "One More Kiss, Then Good-Night" WMAL, 10 p. m.). Shilkret will introduce his arrangement of the new coed song dedicated to "The All-American Girl."

JAMES A. REED, former senator from Missouri, will deliver an address in answer to President Hoover's Des Moines speech at 10 o'clock tonight from the Coliseum in that city. The broadcast will not be heard in the East. Among the stations over which it may be heard are WMAQ, Chicago, 670 kilocycles; WHO Des Moines, 1,000 kilocycles, or KSTP, St. Paul, 1,460 kilocycles.

FOUR editors of nationally known publications in Washington attending a meeting of the National conference of Business Paper Editors, will speak over WMAL at 3 o'clock today. They are Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age; Paul I. Aldrich, editor of the National Provisioner; Dr. H. C. Parmelee, editorial director of the McGraw-Hill Publications, and Ernest C. Hastings, editor of Dry Goods Economist.

Paul Wooton will introduce the speakers.

Radio fans want realism. Recently, when the "Myrt and Marge" script called for songs from the principals, trained vocalists were hired to double. At once there were protests. "It's good," several hundred fans wrote, "but it isn't Myrt and Marge." And so, in future episodes, Myrt and Marge will do their own vocalizing.

WHEN Jane Pickens, of the Pickens sisters, was in London, she asked, in her best Georgia accent, for a glass of water. The waiter, in obvious embarrassment, turned to her escort, a young Englishman, and inquired, "Is it a kind of cocktail, sir?"

Graf Leaves Again for Rio.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Graf Zeppelin left for Rio de Janeiro today on another of her regular trips to South America.

"PHANTOM PRESIDENT'S" PALS!

Jimmy "Schnozzola" Durante and Claudette Colbert, who support George M. Cohan in the hilarious political burlesque at the Metropolitan, as his medicine-show stooge and sweetheart, respectively.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

THOSE who remember George M. Cohan back in those remote days when The Four Cohans were rated foremost among a numerous roster of distinguished vaudeville headliners, that included such artists as Rose Coghlan, The Four Mortons, McIntyre and Heath, Ezra Kendall, Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance, James Richmond Glenroy, Louise Dresser, Cressey and Dayne, James and Bonnie Thornton, Ethel Levy, the first Mrs. George M. Cohan, and too many others to name in as brief an item as this, recall him as an agile, eccentric and tireless lad, scarcely out of his teens, whose dancing was the despair of imitators and the marvel of all who saw it.

It is doubtful if the George M. Cohan of those days weighed more than a scant 130 pounds. No one ever would have thought of trying to visualize him 30 years later—or more—as the dignified, self-contained, gray-haired and slightly portly entrepreneur of the present. He gave promise then of being the Peter Pan of the light musical stage—the dynamic young man who would never grow up. And now look at him!

But what I started out to say was that with all of the sedateness, the substantial growth in outlook and achievement and the high place he has taken in every branch of the American theater, George M. is still the Yankee Doodle song-and-dance man at heart. He would have to be put over the part of "Doc" Varney, the street faker, in "The Phantom President," currently bowling them over at the Metropolitan, the way he does.

It is no creaky old man who gets out on that wagon-show platform and sings those songs, dances those dances and waves those flags. It is a perpetually youthful artist, no older than he was back there singing "Give my regards to Broadway, remember me to Herald Square," a quarter of a century ago, with the flame still burning hot in his breast and the rubber in those joints as elastic as ever! Who else could do it?

Imagine James K. Hackett stepping out today and appearing once more in "The Prisoner of Zenda;" or Richard Mansfield, were he alive, going back and playing Ko-Ko in "The Mikado;" or even David Warfield, slipping back through the years to do his low comedy Jew, with Weber and Fields plucking out his whiskers one pluck at a time—"He loves me, he loves me not"—way back younder in their incomparable and never since equaled burlesques!

You can't imagine it? Well, neither can I, yet there is Georgie Cohan out there singing "Maybe Some One Ought to Wave a Flag," right before your very eyes—and how do you account for that?

It's a pretty shrewd piece of business, everything considered, this "Phantom President." While it is in no sense a satire on the prevalent practice of national politics, but a straightforward, sprightly and supremely funny burlesque, any attentive observer, nevertheless, may find strikingly vivid analogies upon which to hang his political prejudices. And that goes, no matter which candidate in the present race he happens to favor—if any!

Persisting in his habitual incorrigibility, Master Hardie Meakin, manager of RKO-Keith's, thumbs his nose at the dramatic desks and announces, as if he were doing them a favor, that "The Phantom of Crestwood"—as long as we seem to be on the topic of phantoms—will open on Fifteenth street two days ahead of the theater's ostensible opening day for its new attractions.

This is to say that instead of having to wait until Friday to view the picture that has been so much given the air through the bigger and better broadcasting stations these past five weeks or so, those with impatient natures and high blood pressure may enjoy the thrills of this exciting mystery beginning Wednesday, which is by way of being day after tomorrow by any man's watch.

The principals in this eerie celluloid, in case you had forgotten—or even if you hadn't—are Ricardo Cortez, Karen Morley, H. B. Warner, Pauline Frederick, Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Robert McWade, Mary Duncan, Sam Hardy, Anita Louise, Aileen Pringle and goodness knows how many more.

Another recommendation that Mr. Meakin advances in advocating large attendance at his opera house, come Wednesday, is that the bill will embrace the first of the Charlie Chaplin revivals, being engineered this season by the Van Beuren Corporation.

These disinterred reminders of the Great Clown's early triumphs are tricked out with synchronized scores and modern melodies in most amazing and amusing fashion. Having already previewed one or two of them, I am able to state that this musical treatment of two-reel comedies originally made as silent pictures, instead of being anachronistic, as the more suspicious of the public might have feared, adds appreciably to their enjoyment.

The first of the series, to be shown beginning Wednesday, is "Easy Street"—and who doesn't remember the bang he got out of that one?

Comes word from Mr. Ray Henderson, most steadfast of the stentors, that en route to Montreal from England aboard the S. S. Empress of Britain and, I trust, free, from the dreary desolation of mal-de-mer, is Clemence Dane, the British novelist and playwright, who sailed last Saturday for a lecture tour on this side.

Miss Dane has written a drama about the Brontes, at present called "How Clear She Shines," for Katharine Cornell. She never has seen Miss Cornell act, though the latter has appeared in three of Miss Dane's plays, "A Bill of Divorcement," just played on the screen with devastating effect by John Barrymore, Billie Burke and Katherine Hepburn, and Miss Cornell's first important success in New York; "Will Shakespeare," and "The Way Things Happen." Miss Dane plans to remain in America long enough to attend Miss Cornell's premiere of Andre Obey's "The Rape of Lucrece," which the actress will produce in New York in December.

As previously made known here, "How Clear She Shines," the title of which may be changed, will not be presented by Miss Cornell until next season.

It is a sorry commentary on the business acumen of many popular writers that is to be found in the surprising statement that when Edgar Wallace, author of "Criminal at Large," first known as "The Case of the Frightened Lady," which Guthrie McClintic is presenting in the Belasco Theater, New York, tonight, died in Hollywood on February 10 of this year his debts were over $300,000 and his assets, according to his widow, about $67,680.

Though Wallace earned much money by his prolific pen—and if his wasn't none ever was—Mrs. Wallace stated that because of his heavy racing losses and their living beyond their income, he died heavily in debt.

According to Variety, Wallace's jewels recently were sold in London for $1,200.

There's a thought. We can hock our jewels and get that typewriter ribbon we need—all but a little!

ARLINGTON AWAITS TALK BY COOLIDGE

Loud Speakers to Broadcast Speech Tomorrow From G.O.P. Headquarters.

ARLINGTON COUNTY.
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Republican headquarters in Clarendon will be open to the public to hear the address by Calvin Coolidge over the radio tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by Arlington County Republican Chairman L. C. MacPherson.

To take care of an overflow crowd, Mr. MacPherson said, arrangements have been made for the placing of loud speakers in order that the speech may be heard along Wilson boulevard.

A public luncheon sponsored by the Arlington County Democratic Woman's Club will be served at Clarendon Wednesday at 12 o'clock noon.

Mrs. Lester J. Pollock, founder of the woman's educational council of the Democratic national committee; John Paul Jones, a Washington attorney, and Senator Hattie Caraway will speak.

The Jefferson Civic League will meet tonight in the auditorium of the Jefferson Firemen's Hall at Virginia Highlands. Plans to strengthen the league's fight against the erection of the proposed rendering plant on the Washington-Richmond highway and Columbia pike will be discussed.

The Arlington County Republican committee will hold a special meeting Thursday night at its headquarters at Clarendon, the chairman, L. C. MacPherson, announced yesterday. Committee chairmen are expected to report what has been accomplished to date. Plans for carrying on the remainder of the campaign will be outlined.

The Margaret Hester Circle of St. George's Episcopal Church will hold its monthly luncheon and business meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. J. N. Stead, Veitch Summit. The luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

732-Pound Woman Dies in Richmond

Fat Trouper Wisecracks Upon Eve of Death; Was Internationally Known.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Alpine Blitch, whose picture has adorned many a side show banner above the caption, "World's Fattest Woman," died here today.

A trouper to the last, Alpine wisecracked her way through last night's performance and then went to bed. Early today she was found dead in her quarters on the Virginia State Fair Grounds. The 732-pound showwoman, who was more than 40 years old, contracted chills during an exhibition in Bloomsburg, Pa., two weeks ago, and rains and chilly weather here last week aggravated her condition.

Alpine, who acquired international fame as a fat lady and was featured by Walter Ripley, was an attraction at the Canadian National Exhibition last year. Her body will be sent to Morriston, Fla., where she was said to have relatives.

5-Day Week for Printers.

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—In order to aid unemployed printers, the Knoxville Typographical Union today began operating on a 5-day week basis. The plan was adopted by the union by a vote of 40 to 37. Every union printer now employed on a full 48-hour week basis will work only 40 hours.

Three-Year 6% Gold Notes due October 1, 1932

who have not yet deposited their Notes

The motion for a receiver for your Company recently made in the U. S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois has been denied by that Court.

This affords you a further opportunity to make the Plan of September 13, 1932 effective.

Holders of over 75% of the Notes have indicated their assent to the Plan.

Your management, which is making every effort on your behalf, is convinced, and it is generally conceded, that acceptance of the Plan is to the best interests of all Noteholders.

Without further delay you must decide whether you prefer the present precarious situation in which no cash payment is possible, or the consummation of the Plan which will enable the Company to pay immediately in cash the interest on the Notes due October 1 and in cash 25% of the principal of the Notes, and to deliver new Three-Year 6% Gold Notes for the balance.

Deposits should be made immediately with Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Depositary, 140 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

GEORGETOWN ELEVEN DEFEATS CANISIUS, 14-6

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

CLARK C. GRIFFITH, proprietor of the Washington Ball Club, has seen fit to intrust Joe Cronin with the management of the Nats for 1933, and the wisdom of his choice is apparent to this department.

Griffith long has been an admirer or his dashing shortstop, not yet 26 years old, a milestone he will pass on Wednesday, but I perceive in his appointment of Cronin an attempt by the Nats' owner to gratify a hope that Bucky Harris failed to fulfill.

Despite the pennant triumphs of the Washinugton team under Harris, the first boy manager of the Nats was a disappointment to Griffith in the later years of his term. Harris in 1924 and 1925 was the apple of Griffith's eye, the ambitious, hustling manager that Griffith had always sought and a fond hope began to beat in the heart of the Washington owner.

Harris Had Great Future Here.

Griffith had believed that Harris was the man to carry on for the Washington club not only on the ball field but in the business office. Harris was to be taken into the business of the Washington club. He was to have been given a desk in Griffith's own office, relieve the Nats' owner of a large share of the responsibility of conducting the big league franchise, and later perhaps to succeed him as president and active director of the Washington club's affairs.

But in the later years of Harris' term, Griffith changed his mind about the youthful manager who had started his career with sensational pennant triumphs in 1924 and 1925. Harris was intrusted with the management for three more years, but he wasn't taken into the business as Griffith had hoped. Whether it was the lack of business acumen or merely a change in Griffith's opinion of Harris' talents, I can not say, but it suffices to know that Harris was given his release after the close of the 1928 season.

Cronin to Go Still Further With Nats.

And now Griffith turns to Cronin. The Nats' owner does not intend to retain all of the responsibilities of directing the club's affairs for many more years. I think he is slightly weary of the job after nearly 50 years in baseball and regards Cronin as the answer to his hopes.

The opportunity that was Harris' now belongs to Cronin and Griffith is pleased with his selection. He was as happy as a lad out of school when he announced to the baseball correspondents his selection of the young shortstop as manager of the Nats. He beamed broadly as he recited Cronin's qualifications. His attitude was more than smug satisfaction with his choice. He was almost gleeful as he shook Cronin's hand with a rugged, paternal shake. Cronin was his choice, there was no doubt about it. It was the same sort of elation that Griffith felt when he announced that Bucky Harris had been given a 3-year contract at a $100,000 stipend, when Harris was slated not only to manage the club, but to succeed Griffith, in time, as head man of the club's affairs.

Shows Spirit in Making Comeback.

Griffith said he liked Cronin's dash and spirit. He liked Cronin's courage, too. He said Cronin had to have an unquenchable spirit to survive his hard knocks early in his baseball career. He pointed out that Joe had spent a full year with the Pirates only to be sent back to the minors, with the implication at that time that he would never be a big league ball player.

Griffith liked the way that Cronin disproved his early critics to come back to the majors and earn a high place as a shortstop. He said it pleased him when he won the most valuable player award in 1930. It showed Cronin's perseverance. He would make a good manager and baseball was his only interest.

I think so, too. Roy Van Graflan, the American League umpire, told me last spring, down in Biloxi, that Cronin was the likeliest managerial timber in the majors. The umpires thought he was the outstanding student of baseball in the league, Van Graflan declared.

When any doubtful play occured, Cronin it was who was invariably the first to want an explanation of the ruling. Nothing that happened on the field escaped his active mind, and the umpires respected him, Van Graflan said. That is the way those stern arbiters in blue feel about Cronin.

Evidently Griffith had reasons for his choice.

Cronin Plans No Changes In Nats

Present Regulars to Stay; Smart Baseball His Aim.

Base-Running to Be Stressed; Plans Trick Plays.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

THE Sabbath was a day of rest in name only for Joe Cronin, newly appointed "boy manager" of the Nats, and, despite the fact that he did not land the job until Saturday morning and that the first thrill of stepping into Walter Johnson's shoes had hardly worn off, he came through with a few ideas last night which shows that he is taking his new job mighty seriously and that it will not be his fault if the 1933 Washington Club is not a winner.

"Right now, I'm planning on standing pat with the persent make-up of the team," he said. "Our big lack has been the absence of a Jimmy Fox, Lou Gehrig or Babe Ruth, who will go up there in the pinches and give us a homer now and then. And, as clean-up sluggers of this type do not grow on trees and are hard to get, my idea is that we simply will have to make up in some other respect what we lack in this so-called 'power' hitting.

More Stress on Base-Stealing Planned.

"I have not had time to do much figuring, and I may get some additional ideas by the time we start spring training next February, but I already have doped out one or two plans which I intend to put into effect. In the first place, as a team we are the fastest in the league, yet we have not taken advantage of this speed. West, Reynolds, Rice, Manush, Bluege and Myer are streaks, and Kuhel is faster than the average, yet three other teams in the league stole more bases than we did last season.

"More stress will be laid on base-stealing, and not only will there be daily rehearsals at camp, but I think we can improve in the matter of runners advancing on hits. We haven't any lumbering players clogging the bases for us, and smart 'take-a-chance' baseball should give us a lot more of extra bases than we have been getting.

"Another bet for us, as I see things, which should help make up for our lack of slugging," Cronin continued, "is the practice of the hit and run. We have been using this play right along instead of sacrificing, but I think that we often have fallen down because of lack of practice in hitting behind runners. We're going to add this to our training routine.

Cut-Off Plays Get Place On Drill Routine.

"I think we could improve our defense with a little more practice on 'cut-off' plays—impressing the outfielders to make their return throws low so that they can be intercepted, and getting a better understanding as to about where they should be thrown—while I have hopes of getting up and practicing regularly a few plays which I believe might win a game for us now and then if we catch the other fellow by surprise.

"While I know that too many signs are worse than too few, because the players are likely to get their wires crossed and mess things up, yet I'm confident that we could add on a few more without causing any mental strains. Baseball is a team game and, as I see things, we can't hope to be successful unless all players figuring in plays know what each other has in mind and so we'll have a much more elaborate set of signals next season.

"There is not a 'dumb-bell' on the club and I believe that with steady and serious practice we can play smart baseball. This does not give you any home runs, but it does give you a big edge over a less wide-awake team and helps cut down the margin of advantage which the other fellow's homers give him. If we play smart, peppy baseball, added to our already tight defense, we're going to win a lot of games.

"And I can assure you we'll be out there trying," Cronin concluded.

Final Conference With Nat Owner Today.

President Clark Griffith and Cronin held a lengthy conference yesterday at which plans for 1933 were discussed in a general way. Another confab is scheduled at club headquarters this morning and the young Nat manager will board a train for dear old San Francisco at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Chicago Pro Elevens Battle to 0-to-0 Tie

Chicago, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Chicago's two National League football teams, Bears and Cardinals, battled today through a drizzling rain to a scoreless tie before 3,000 fans.

The Bears, handicapped by the loss of Red Grange early in the first period when he suffered a wrenched shoulder were unable to sustain their running attack, and the lighter Cardinals found the footing too slippery to outrun the heavy Bear forwards.

Dick Nesbitt, former Drake star, was the outstanding defensive player of the game, coming up to spill Cardinal backs for losses on end runs.

GRID OFFICIALS MEET.

A meeting of the District of Columbia Football Officials Association will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Lee House. Important business matters will be discussed and intricate rulings thrashed out. All members are requested to attend.

First Major Games in East Bring Minimum of Upsets

Syracuse and Penn State Victims; Princeton Beaten But Not Disgraced; Army and Navy Show Strength.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—A group of excitingly close games brought plenty of action, but a minimum of upsets to Eastern football fans who watched the first "big" games of the year under warm early October skies Saturday.

Only two teams, Syracuse and Penn State, were turned back by opponents of theoretically minor caliber, but some of the other little fellows put up stiff resistance and the games that were figured to be close fulfilled every promise.

Yale and Chicago, rivals in the leading intersectional battle of the day, played a 7-7 tie before 25,000 fans at New Haven; Columbia, checked on the ground, had to take the air route to defeat Princeton, 20 to 7; Dartmouth eked out a one touchdown victory over Lafayette, 6-0; Brown won from little Springfield, 13-6, and Rutgers gaves its old rival, New York University, a real struggle before going down for the seventh successive time, 21 to 0.

One flashing thrust in the first period—a series of long runs—sent the Elis off ahead, but a remarkable 40-yard pass, Zimmer to Sahlin, gave Chicago a tie in the second and at the end Yale was fighting hard to preserve its second tie of the season.

Fritz Crisler's much-improved Princeton team joined the beaten but not disgraced division by checking the powerful Columbia Lions in a bruising game. There also was little to choose between Dartmouth and Lafayette until a couple of tricky end runs enabled Sammy Fishman to score in the third period.

On the other hand, Syracuse contributed materially to its 19-12 defeat at the hands of Ohio Wesleyan by fumbling badly. A 44-yard run by Currie in the last minute of play enabled Waynesburg to chalk up the other "upset," a 7-6 triumph over Penn State.

The service schools, Army and Navy, both showed improvement over last week. The Cadets walloped Carleton, 57 to 0, while the Midshipmen came back from defeat to beat Washington and Lee, 33 to 0.

The East got an even break in three other intersectional games as Cornell ran over Richmond, 27 to 0; Alabama returned the compliment with a 28-6 victory over George Washington and Kenyon and Hobart played a 13-13 tie.

HAWKS TIED, 7-7, IN GRID GAME

Maryland All-Stars Rally to Tie Count in Third Period.

THE Mohawks almost won a game yesterday, but the visiting gentlemen from Baltimore, the Maryland All-Stars, saved the Hawks from the stigma of victory by scoring in the last minute of the third period and converting the point, to tie the score at 7-7, which it remained until playing time had been exhausted.

Dick Allen ran 70 yards to the All-Stars' 10-yard line after receiving Bucky Miller's punt in the first period, putting the Hawks in scoring position. Chessy Antos, star of the Apaches last season, oozed through the line for the touchdown after Snyder had failed to make the slightest impression in a stab at the visitors' right tackle.

Wellinger snared Clary's pass off Eddie Dugan's arm and jogged the remaining 10 yards to the goal to register for the Marylanders' touchdown. The visitors' only other threat was made in the final period when a penalty, imposed for clipping, set the oval back on the Hawks' 1-yard line. Howard kicked out of danger as the fray ended.

Engle, Barnett and Usinger, all linesmen, played bang-up games for their team. Engle usually was on the bottom of every pile of players in scrimmage and muscled in on approximately half of his team's tackles. Lee Hensley, ramrod of the Hawks' back field, was by far the most consistent ground gainer of the game. Hensley never failed to make less than 4 yards every trip with the ball.

Braves' Pro Gridmen Defeat Giants, 14 to 6

Boston, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Although outrushed by a considerable margin, the newly organized Boston Braves today defeated the New York Giants, 14 to 6, for their first national professional football victory.

An 80-yard march which ended in the second period paved the way for the first Boston score, which came when Jim Musick carried over through the Giants' line. The first half closed the Giants put on a similar parade and Jack Agerty threw a scoring pass to Red Badgro, after the Giants' running game was checked three times on the Boston 1-yard line.

Ernie Pinckert, the Braves' ace, raced 50 yards for the second Boston touchdown after intercepting a triple pass started by Red Cagle, former Army star. Henry Hughes kicked both extra points for Boston.

Russo Auto Winner; Accidents Mar Race

Woodbridge, N. J., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Joe Russo, of Indianapolis, flashed to victory today in the 25-mile feature of an auto racing card that was marred by accidents.

Russo's winning time in the event was 25 minutes, 57 4-5 seconds. Bob Sall of Paterson was second, and Jimmie Patterson, of Kansas City, finished third.

In the forty-third lap of the race the car of Johnny Hannon, of Conshohocken, Pa., burst into flames. Harris Insinger, of Philadelphia, who was following close behind, smashed into the blazing car, catapulting Hannon onto the track in the path of the other racers. Hannon rolled down the track, out of the way of the wheels of the other cars.

He suffered only minor bruises and lacerations. Insinger was not injured.

K. O. CRISTNER SIGNED.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—K. O. Cristner, of Akron, and Frankie Wine, the Montana blacksmith, have signed for a 10-round fight here November 1.

2 PUNCHERS TO FEATURE IN RING

Banovic-Weiss Promise Real Fight Tomorrow Night.

WITH BINGO JOE BANOVIC, pride of Binghamton, New York, on the scene of battle, and Sam Weiss scheduled to put in an appearance here today, the Alexandria Day Nursery is ready to stage another slam-bang boxing card at Portner's Arena tomorrow night.

Bingo Joe, fresh from Max Schmeling's training camp, and his manager, Jersey Jones, firmly predict Weiss will not last ten rounds, the scheduled distance.

Weiss may upset the dope, however. His fights here with "Reds" Barry Pete Latzo and Bob Godwin have stamped him as a tough customer and one who can take punishment as well as give it.

Irving-Raymond Bout Promising.

Local boxing fans are somewhat interested in Henry Irving, Northeast middleweight, who battles Joey Raymond, Baltimore, in the semiwindup. Irving has shown new life recently. His victory over the rough Sammy Britt and his draw in Baltimore with Joe Finazzo proves Henry is back to his former fighting self. A victory over Raymond would put him back on top again.

Buzzer Ryan starts a new fighter tomorrow night. He is Sammy Sweet, Cincinnati, Ohio, flyweight. Averlino Martin, Baltimore youngster, is his opponent.

Other fours bring together Patsy Lewis vs. Sammy Hogan and Marino Marini vs. Cary Wright.

Green Bay Packers Rally to Win, 15-10

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—The Green Bay Packers., national professional football league champions, today executed a last period rally to defeat the Portsmouth Spartans, 15 to 10.

The Packers scored their first touchdown in the first period by blocking a punt in the Portsmouth end zone.

The Spartan touchdown came in the third period when Ebding counted after taking a pass from Clark. Clark kicked the extra point to tie the score. A few minutes later the Spartans were again in Packer territory and Clark booted a field goal.

In the final quarter Clark, rather than punt a wet ball from his end zone, gave the Packers an intentional safety, making the score 9 to 10 in favor of the Spartans. But that strategy was doomed to failure, for the aroused Packers put over another touchdown, Hinckle carrying the ball.

Landis May Rule Today On Hornsby's Appeal

Chicago, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Rogers Hornsby, ousted manager of the Chicago Cubs, may get action tomorrow on his plea for a share of the Cubs' world series prize, Baseball Commissioner Landis is expected to return to his office, after a week's illness due to a cold, to consider Hornsby's appeal.

Lon Warneke to Lose His Tonsils This Week

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Lon Warneke, youthful pitching sensation of the Chicago Cubs during the past season, will undergo an operation for the removal of his tonsils next week, he said at his home in Mount Ida today. Lon said he would not "bother" with an anesthetic.

Since the world series Warneke has been hunting in the Ouachita Hills near his home.

Hair led MacCallum, 1 up, going to the eighteenth, where Mac topped his second shot and Hair drove into a trap. They finished with fives.

Dr. John Shugrue, with 40—39—76, annexed medal honors in the qualifying round of the annual Congressional Country Club championship, pacing a strong field of 123 golfers.

MOTRICO RACE WINNER.

Longchamp, France, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Visconte M. de Rivaud's Motrico won the classic Prix de L'Arc de Triomphe at 2,400 meters here today. Motrico led Marcel Boussac's Goyescas to the wire by half a length to earn the major share of the purse of 500,000 francs (about $20,000). Jean Prat's Macaroni was third. The winner paid 24 to 5 in the betting.

Hagen Flashes Old Form To Win in St. Louis Open

six strokes behind Armour with 36 holes to play, shot 69 and 65 to win the St. Louis open yesterday. The veteran pro star was 6 under par on the final eighteen holes.

Climaxes Great Rally With Subpar 65; Armour Fourth.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Walter Hagen, of Detroit, swept to victory in the St. Louis open golf tournament today with a par-cracking finish in which he shot a 65 on the last eighteen holes, six under perfect figures, to win over a field that included several national stars.

Hagen's card was 281 for the 72 holes of medal play, five better than his nearest opponents, MacDonald Smith and Toney Manero, of New York, who tied for second place with scores of 286 for the 72 holes.

Trailing in a tie for fourth place were Tommy Armour, of Detroit, who started as leader in the final, and Abe Espinosa, of Chicago, with scores of 287 for the tournament.

Smith and Manero had the championship well within their grasp until Hagen wound up with his par-shattering play for both the final rounds. He earlier had carded 69, two under par, for the eighteen-hole semifinal. He scored only a 75 for the opening day's play of the tournament but gradually gained on the leaders each successive day to clinch the championship.

Bill Schwartz, of St. Louis, with a card of 288, finished sixth. Close behind him came Joe Kirkwood, of Chicago, and Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., with scores of 290. Dudley cracked on the last eighteen holes and went five over par after holding first place at the turn with a total of 210.

Hagen's card for the last eighteen holes, and par:

Par, out	4	5	3	4	3	4	4	3	5	—35
Hagen, out	4	5	3	4	2	3	3	3	6	—33
Par, in	3	5	4	5	4	4	3	4	4	—36
Hagen, in	3	4	4	3	3	4	3	4	4	—32

Tommy Armour, who paced the field as it went into the last day, destroyed his chances by going two strokes over par in the morning round and just equaling perfect figures in the afternoon, carding a 73 and a 71, while Hagen was knocking eight strokes off par.

Hagen, who was six strokes behind Armour as the 36-hole finale got under way, made up for his putter work, which failed him in the first two days of play, and he also clicked with his drives and fairway shots. He turned in four birdies and an eagle on the last eighteen holes, and

Mrs. Vare, Miss Hicks In Hot Springs Golf

Hot Springs, Va., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, of Philadelphia, and Miss Helen Hicks, of Hewlett, Long Island, will renew their traditional links rivalry tomorrow with the opening of the twentieth annual Hot Springs golf tournament.

Both Mrs. Vare and Miss Hicks have played over the Hot Springs course, and it was here in 1928 that Mrs. Vare won one of the five national championships to her credit.

The men's tournament will be played over the Cascades course and the women's tournament over the less difficult Homestead course.

Carl H. Langemerg, of St. Louis, got off to a good start in a practice round today by sinking his tee shot for an ace on the 194-yard eleventh hole.

Playing with him were Robert L. Beeckman, former Governor of Rhode Island, and W. H. Wallace, jr., of Augusta, Ga.

British Football Star Kicks 2 Wrong Goals

London, Oct. 9 (U.P.).—A rarity, believed unprecedented in British soccer football history, was the subject of wide discussion in sports circles today as fans considered Herbert Roberts' amazing performance of scoring two goals against his own Arsental Team in yesterday's game with Derby County.

Roberts, reputedly England's greatest half back and nicknamed "Policeman" because so few forwards ever pass him, sent the ball twice into his own goal within two minutes.

Both mistake-goals apparently were caused by the muddy ball slipping off his boot as he attempted to clear long wing passes.

10,000 Racing Pigeons Off on Futurity Race

Nearly 10,000 racing pigeons rose on fleet wings from the Washington Monument grounds yesterday in the take-off of a novel event—the Bicentennial Racing Pigeon Futurity.

The birds, some capable of a mile-a-minute clip, sped away in all directions, for these are homing pigeons, and the finish line for each will be its own home lot, within a 400-mile radius of Washington.

After several days of checking and figuring, the winner will be computed on a miles-per-hour basis.

Bradley Hero Of Buffalo Victory

Full Back Scores Two Touchdowns Before 7,000 Crowd.

Safety Allows Hilltoppers to Break Tie Near Half.

Special to The Washington Post.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 9.—A stalwart Canesius College line, playing brilliant defensive football, was unable to stop Georgetown's Hilltoppers here this afternoon, and the Washington team drove to its second victory of the season, 14 to 6.

Georgetown encountered unexpected difficulty and was unable to run up an expected four-touchdown margin over the Blue and Gold, keyed up for its only game against major opposition. The Hilltoppers' attack was stopped dead inside the 15-yard line twice during the last half.

Georgetown threw three speedy backs against Canisius, managing to shake them loose occasionally for dashes to place the ball in scoring position. Dick Bradley, heralded as the Washington squad's best running back, lived up to his reputation by a dazzling showing, scoring both of the invaders' touchdowns, the second after a dash of 27 yards through the Canisius left side, shaking off several tacklers en route.

Short Gain by Kelly.

Al Kelly, dash expert, was unable to get loose for any exceptional runs, an alert Canisius offensive hemming him in whenever he got the ball, but he drove off tackle for many short gains. Charlie Parcells, sophomore half back, whipped through the locals in the second half in spectacular fashion.

The opening quarter contained most of the thrills of the afternoon. An exchange of kicks gave the Hilltoppers the ball on the Canisius 36-yard line and a series of line bucks and sweeps inside the ends led to a touchdown in short order, Bradley taking the leather over after he and Kelly had carted it most of the way into the scoring zone. Donoghue missed the goal point from placement, a fact that loomed larger a few minutes later.

Wally Potter, Canisius end, started the rally by recovering a punt as it bounced off a Georgetown half back's leg 36 yards from the visitors' line. Three smashes by Turgeon and Rustich, the latter carrying the ball twice, brought 15 yards.

Open Passing Attack.

Gene Obert sent in Hovey and Rybak, his other pair of half backs, and they opened up a passing attack. Hovey tossed to Varella for 4 yards, then made a brilliant catch of Rybak's pass to scamper a few yards for 6 points. Gavin's placement went a trifle wide.

A break led to Georgetown's safety in the second period. Canisius, backed to its 18-yard mark in a punting duel, decided to kick out of danger, but Joe Myleck, playing despite painful minor injuries, got off his only bad pass of the game, Hovey being downed by a flock of visitors in the end zone before he could start getting the ball away. Undaunted, Canisius came right back, and a 36-yard march, with Turgeon running 14 and Gavin catching Rybak's heave for 10, was interrupted when Georgetown held for three downs and Gavin missed from placement from the 25-yard line.

Canisius' sterling defensive play was the principal feature of the second half, a 15-yard penalty for piling on helping the Hilltoppers in their only score over the last 30 minutes. Canisius twice held for downs in the third period, once on the 16-yard mark and again on the 25, stopping the speedy Parcells, doing most of

Dodgers Beaten, 7-6, By Stapleton Pros

New York, Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Stapleton handed the Brooklyn Dodgers their first defeat of the national professional football league season today, winning a 7-to-6 decision at Ebbets Field.

Brooklyn scored early in the opening quarter after Karcis, Dodger full back, blocked Ken Strong's punt and recovered on the Stapleton 25-yard line. Jack Grosaman made 20 yards on the next play, and Benny Friedman tossed a pass to Grossman for the touchdown, but missed the try for point.

Early in the second quarter, Strong and Wycoff smashed away at the Dodger line in a 40-yard march that took the ball to the 3-yard line. Ledbetter, sub back, went through for the score, and Frahm kicked the point that gave the Stapes the game.

Jockey Silvio Coucci Reinstated by Stewards

Laurel, Md., Oct. 9 (A.P.).—Completing his term as apprentice jockey today, Silvio Coucci, under contract of the Greentree Stables, was back in the good graces of the Laurel Race Track stewards and eligible to ride in the meet's races, starting tomorrow.

Reconsidering their suspension of the youngster Monday for grabbing another horse's saddle cloth, the stewards yesterday reinstated Coucci. They said his age and his straightforward story caused them to reduce his suspension to one week.

GRIDMAN BREAKS NECK.

Central City, Nebr., Oct. 9 (A.P.). Asa Mohr, 26, received a broken neck during a football game between the town teams of Central City and Harvard today. 18 OF 42 FAVORITES WON DURING FIRST WEEK AT LAUREL

Slow Course For Meeting Assured

Easton Handicap and Steeplechase Top Today's Card.

Jones, Gilbert and Hanford Tied With 4 Winners.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

FAVORITES waged a good battle during the first week of fall racing at Laurel which ended last Saturday, despite the track conditions. In the 42 races during the week, the public choices were first to the wire as their backers expected in eighteen of the contests. This performance is considered outstanding over a course that has both horsemen and turf fans groggy.

Times for the races have been the highest since the days of Bowie's old sand track. True, the rain came up last week to muddy the course, but the chief trouble has been the new cushion, or top soil.

In present condition, the track is covered by a foot of loose soil and even when termed "fast," few horses can make respectable time, most of them weaving at the finish from ploughing through the dirt.

Track Records Safe.

A few more rains will serve to pack the soil and improve the course, but for this meeting it looks like every track record, with the exception of the steeplechase marks, is sa'

However, competition at Laurel has been close, as a whole, with a number of stirring nose finishes.

This week will bring a number of fixtures to be climaxed on Saturday with the Maryland Futurity and the Laurel. Both are $5,000 added races and both are assured fine fields.

The Easton Handicap is the outstanding contest for today, sharing interest with the Bucklands Steeplechase.

Bobby Jones, Johnny Gilbert and Buddy Hanford are staging a neat duel for the riding honors. Each has four winners to his credit. Coucci, out of the battle because of suspension, gets back in the running starting today.

Sonny Workman canceled his mounts Saturday to see the Alabama-G. W. football game. He was too heavy to ride The Darb at 106.

Episcopal High Wins Over Augusta, 14 to 6

Fort Defiance, Va., Oct. 9.—Episcopal High School football team won their first victory in prep school titular play when they defeated Augusta Military Academy eleven here yesterday, 14 to 6.

Tucker and Brookings tallied the touchdowns for the winners on aerial leaves from Gooch and Woodruff. The game was very spectacular, and the work of Janney and Gooch played an important part in the Alexandrians' victory.

This win places the Episcopal High team, coached by Bick Cardwell and Gus Kaminer, one up in the State series.

LAUREL RACE TRACK.

DEAR AL:

Jockey Eugene James, who had the mount on Burgoo King which won both the Derby and the Preakness, left for his home in Louisville Saturday. He will not ride until next spring. James weighed 122 pounds which was the main reason he packed his tack. The stewards came to realize they had been a little too severe on Coucci and the boy was reinstated. He will start riding again today after losing a week of action due to protecting himself by grabbing a horse's saddle cloth. If you crave a gamble today, try these.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—But for interference PARLANCE would have won a race at the first asking, it is my belief. Bobby Jones will ride the Coe youngster. LUNA MICA, which caused the interference in that race and was disqualified, appears second best. MOPPET may be the third one.

SECOND RACE—ESCAPADE won two in a row and appears to be the class of this group of jumpers. RIDGEWAY'S last was a good effort. Should take the place. SHYLOCK may have needed that last.

THIRD RACE—SNAPLOCK did not break with his customary speed the last out and as a result his stretch speed was of little value. This one likes the going and a more alert ride today should account for the purse. ILLUSIVE ran well at the Graw. CRAZY JANE for the show.

FOURTH RACE — GAY PARTY comes back today off a good sprint performance and may win at this distance. It looks like KNEEHIGH and GENERAL LEJEUNE, both at tops now, will battle it out for the place award.

FIFTH RACE—There seems no good reason why HYGRO should drop this purse. Did all that was asked the last time. JACK HIGH is the one to beat. CURACAO showed a big improvement in the last and will be the upsetter if such materializes.

SIXTH RACE — DON TASKER seems excellently suited in this race and can not be overlooked. Would score easily on races back in his charts. TUFFY G. is consistent and has a good chance. LITTLE STOKES did well last out.

SEVENTH RACE—MERRY FOX showed such excellent racing the other day that he can not be kept off the top of this heap. NIGHT PATROL is a consistent sort. DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH showed a neat turn of speed at the Graw and may be primed for a surprise.

MARIONS 6-0 VICTORS IN LEAGUE

Blocked Kick Paves Way for Defeat of Mercury Eleven.

SCORING the lone touchdown of the game early in the first quarter, the Marion gridderas defeated the Mercury eleven, 6-0, in the opening game of the Independent League yesterday at Gonzaga Field. A large crowd saw two rivals from opposite ends of the city open their season.

The Marions took the opening kickoff on their own 40-yard stripe and marched to Mercury's 1-yard line on a series of line plunges with forward passes sandwiched in between. Hoff and Childs threw the aerials, with Licarione and Bergling on the receiving end. The Southwest aggregation rallied and held for downs when the Marions were within inches of scoring. Suit attempted to kick out of danger on the next play, but Shorb, Marion tackle, broke through and blocked the punt, recovering the oval behind the goal line for a touchdown.

Mercury penetrated to the Marion 15-yard line in the second period before its advance was halted. A desperate aerial attack in the final period failed to produce a score for the eventual losers.

Fine work by the Marion forward wall featured the game.

FIRE ELEVEN WINS FROM DEL RAY

Engine Co. No. 5 Cops, 12-0, in Alexandria Game.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 9.—Del Ray Athletic Club football team was defeated today on Duncan Field by the Engine Company No. 5 eleven, 12 to 0, before a huge crowd which overflowed the field, in the first local game of the year.

Engine Company warriors scored in the third period when Sullivan passed to Ross to place the ball on the Red Birds' 8-yard line. Sullivan scored after three smashes at the line. The final touchdown was registered when the ball from the kick-off was downed on Del Ray's 2-yard line.

Fields Falls on Ball Back Of Rival Goal.

On a bad pass from center, Utterbach was forced to make a quick kick which only went to the 5-yard line and bounced back of the goal line, where H. Fields fell on it for a score. Both tries for point after touchdown were halted.

Del Ray Athletic Club played a fine defensive game, the work of McCullough, Brewer, Parsons and R. Prinks standing out.

The Fire Fighters showed power at times, but on the whole their play was spotty and inconsistent, from an offensive standpoint. They played excellently on defense. The work of Elliott, Sullivan, Felds and Ross stood out in the back field.

12,000 See Celtics Defeat Arrows in Richmond, 13-0

Barry, District Boy, and Kresge Heroes; First Defeat for Virginia Eleven Since 1929 Season.

Special to The Washington Post.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 9.—Pepco Barry, from the Washington sandlots, flashed across the Stadium gridiron this afternoon and with Joe Kresge, All-American guard at Wisconsin in 1929, providing the power in the line, the St. Mary's Celtics handed the Arrow Athletic Club its first defeat in three years. Nearly 12,000 fans watched the 13-to-0 battle. The Apaches, of Washington, won from Arrow in 1929, 21 to 7.

Barry, the only sandlotter in a group of college stars making up the Celtic eleven, scored both touchdowns—the first with a sweeping run around end in the first quarter. Again in the final period he intercepted Peterson's pass on the 26-yard line and streaked down the sidelines for the goal. Leary added the extra point with a place kick.

It was Joe Kresge who stopped every Arrow thrust at the line and who piled up plays aimed at his side. He broke through to throw Arrow runners and led almost perfect interference for Barry in two 35-yard sprints.

The Arrows made one serious threat in the second period. After Leary had punted outside on the 50-yard line, Pick got 5 yards through the line and on fourth down threw a pass to Peterson, good for 8 yards and first down. Haase and Pick, in three thrusts got another first down on the 26-yard line. Pick passed to Haase on third down, the Arrow full back being stopped on the 1-yard line. Haase's two tries failed to net any gain through the line and the half ended on third down with the ball 6 inches from the goal line.

After that one threat the Celtics kept Arrow on the defense throughout the remainder of the battle, McMinemin, former William and Mary star, punting out of danger when the ball got too deep in Celtic territory.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

ALTHOUGH she never knew what it was to look at a map, or see a sketch on a blackboard, or speak to a pupil, or hear a voice, Laura Dewey Bridgman was an able leader and teacher among the blind and deaf-mutes in Boston.

She was born in Hanover, N. H., in 1829, and at the age of two lost her sense of sight, hearing and smell during an illness. She studied at Perkins Institute in Boston, becoming proficient in algebra, history, geography and needlework. Later she became a teacher, leading other blind and deaf persons in the study of subjects of which they could neither hear nor speak, nor see.

A battle to death between a spider and an 18-inch moccasin, with the former as the victor, was witnessed by B. D. Hodges in a pumphouse in Greensboro, N. C., several months ago. The spider bound its struggling prey securely in its web, then attacked it. The battle lasted four hours. Although the snake weighed many times as much as the spider, the latter was able by maneuvering the strands in its web, to lift the snake.

18 OF 42 FAVORITES WON DURING FIRST WEEK AT LAUREL

Slow Course For Meeting Assured

Easton Handicap and Steeplechase Top Today's Card.

Jones, Gilbert and Hanford Tied With 4 Winners.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

FAVORITES waged a good battle during the first week of fall racing at Laurel which ended last Saturday, despite the track conditions. In the 42 races during the week, the public choices were first to the wire as their backers expected in eighteen of the contests. This performance is considered outstanding over a course that has both horsemen and turf fans groggy.

Times for the races have been the highest since the days of Bowie's old sand track. True, the rain came up last week to muddy the course, but the chief trouble has been the new cushion, or top soil.

In present condition, the track is covered by a foot of loose soil and even when termed "fast," few horses can make respectable time, most of them weaving at the finish from ploughing through the dirt.

Track Records Safe.

A few more rains will serve to pack the soil and improve the course, but for this meeting it looks like every track record, with the exception of the steeplechase marks, is safe.

However, competition at Laurel has been close, as a whole, with a number of stirring nose finishes.

This week will bring a number of fixtures to be climaxed on Saturday with the Maryland Futurity and the Laurel. Both are $5,000 added races and both are assured fine fields.

The Easton Handicap is the outstanding contest for today, sharing interest with the Bucklands Steeplechase.

Bobby Jones, Johnny Gilbert and Buddy Hanford are staging a neat duel for the riding honors. Each has four winners to his credit. Coucci, out of the battle because of suspension, gets back in the running starting today.

Sonny Workman canceled his mounts Saturday to see the Alabama-G. W. football game. He was too heavy to ride The Darb at 106.

Episcopal High Wins Over Augusta, 14 to 6

Fort Defiance, Va., Oct. 9.—Episcopal High School football team won their first victory in prep school titular play when they defeated Augusta Military Academy eleven here yesterday, 14 to 6.

Tucker and Brookings tallied the touchdowns for the winners on aerial leaves from Gooch and Woodruff. The game was very spectacular, and the work of Janney and Gooch played an important part in the Alexandrians' victory.

This win places the Episcopal High team, coached by Bick Cardwell and Gus Kaminer, one up in the State series.

LAUREL RACE TRACK.

DEAR AL:

Jockey Eugene James, who had the mount on Burgoo King which won both the Derby and the Preakness, left for his home in Louisville Saturday. He will not ride until next spring. James weighed 122 pounds which was the main reason he packed his tack. The stewards came to realize they had been a little too severe on Coucci and the boy was reinstated. He will start riding again today after losing a week of action due to protecting himself by grabbing a horse's saddle cloth. If you crave a gamble today, try these.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—But for interference PARLANCE would have won a race at the first asking, it is my belief. Bobby Jones will ride the Coe youngster. LUNA MICA, which caused the interference in that race and was disqualified, appears second best. MOPPET may be the third one.

SECOND RACE—ESCAPADE won two in a row and appears to be the class of this group of jumpers. RIDGEWAY'S last was a good effort. Should take the place. SHYLOCK may have needed that last.

THIRD RACE—SNAPLOCK did not break with his customary speed the last out and as a result his stretch speed was of little value. This one likes the going and a more alert ride today should account for the purse. ILLUSIVE ran well at the Graw. CRAZY JANE for the show.

FOURTH RACE — GAY PARTY comes back today off a good sprint performance and may win at this distance. It looks like KNEEHIGH and GENERAL LEJEUNE, both at tops now, will battle it out for the place award.

FIFTH RACE—There seems no good reason why HYGRO should drop this purse. Did all that was asked the last time. JACK HIGH is the one to beat. CURACAO showed a big improvement in the last and will be the upsetter if such materializes.

SIXTH RACE — DON TASKER seems excellently suited in this race and can not be overlooked. Would score easily on races back in his charts. TUFFY G. is consistent and has a good chance. LITTLE STOKES did well last out.

SEVENTH RACE — MERRY FOX showed such excellent racing the other day that he can not be kept off the top of this heap. NIGHT PATROL is a consistent sort. DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH showed a neat turn of speed at the Graw and may be primed for a surprise.

MARIONS 6-0 VICTORS IN LEAGUE

Blocked Kick Paves Way for Defeat of Mercury Eleven.

SCORING the lone touchdown of the game early in the first quarter, the Marion gridderss defeated the Mercury eleven, 6-0, in the opening game of the Independent League yesterday at Gonzaga Field. A large crowd saw two rivals from opposite ends of the city open their season.

The Marions took the opening kickoff on their own 40-yard stripe and marched to Mercury's 1-yard line on a series of line plunges with forward passes sandwiched in between. Hoff and Childs threw the aerials, with Licarione and Bergling on the receiving end. The Southwest aggregation rallied and held for downs when the Marions were within inches of scoring. Suit attempted to kick out of danger on the next play, but Shortt, Marion tackle, broke through and blocked the punt, recovering the oval behind the goal line for a touchdown.

Mercury penetrated to the Marion 15-yard line in the second period before its advance was halted. A desperate aerial attack in the final period failed to produce a score for the eventual losers.

Fine work by the Marion forward wall featured the game.

Engine Co. No. 5 Cops, 12-0, in Alexandria Game.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Oct. 9.—Del Ray Athletic Club football team was defeated today on Duncan Field by the Engine Company No. 5 eleven, 12 to 0, before a huge crowd which overflowed the field, in the first local game of the year.

Engine Company warriors scored in the third period when Sullivan passed to Ross to place the ball on the Red Birds' 8-yard line. Sullivan scored after three smashes at the line. The final touchdown was registered when the ball from the kick-off was downed on Del Ray's 2-yard line.

Fields Falls on Ball Back Of Rival Goal.

On a bad pass from center, Utterbach was forced to make a quick kick which only went to the 5-yard line and bounced back of the goal line, where H. Fields fell on it for a score. Both tries for point after touchdown were halted.

Del Ray Athletic Club played a fine defensive game, the work of McCullough, Brewer, Parsons and R. Frinks standing out.

The Fire Fighters showed power at times, but on the whole their play was spotty and inconsistent, from an offensive standpoint. They played excellently on defense. The work of Elliott, Sullivan, Felds and Ross stood out in the back field.

12,000 See Celtics Defeat Arrows in Richmond, 13-0

Barry, District Boy, and Kresge Heroes; First Defeat for Virginia Eleven Since 1929 Season.

Special to The Washington Post.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 9.—Pepco Barry, from the Washington sandlots, flashed across the Stadium gridiron this afternoon and with Joe Kresge, All-American guard at Wisconsin in 1929, providing the power in the line, the St. Mary's Celtics handed the Arrow Athletic Club its first defeat in three years. Nearly 12,000 fans watched the 13-to-0 battle. The Apaches, of Washington, won from Arrow in 1929, 21 to 7.

Barry, the only sandlotter in a group of college stars making up the Celtic eleven, scored both touchdowns—the first with a sweeping run around end in the first quarter. Again in the final period he intercepted Peterson's pass on the 26-yard line and streaked down the sidelines for the goal. Leary added the extra point with a place kick.

It was Joe Kresge who stopped every Arrow thrust at the line and who piled up plays aimed at his side. He broke through to throw Arrow runners and led almost perfect interference for Barry in two 35-yard sprints.

The Arrows made one serious threat in the second period. After Leary had punted outside on the 50-yard line, Fick got 5 yards through the line and on fourth down threw a pass to Peterson, good for 8 yards and first down. Haase and Fick, in three thrusts got another first down on the 26-yard line. Fick passed to Haase on third down, the Arrow full back being stopped on the 1-yard line. Haase's two tries failed to net any gain through the line and the half ended on third down with the ball 6 inches from the goal line.

After that one threat the Celtics kept Arrow on the defense throughout the remainder of the battle, McMinemin, former William and Mary star, punting out of danger when the ball got too deep in Celtic territory.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

ALTHOUGH she never knew what it was to look at a map, or see a sketch on a blackboard, or speak to a pupil, or hear a voice, Laura Dewey Bridgman was an able leader and teacher among the blind and deaf-mutes in Boston.

She was born in Hanover, N. H., in 1829, and at the age of two lost her sense of sight, hearing and smell during an illness. She studied at Perkins Institute in Boston, becoming proficient in algebra, history, geography and needlework. Later she became a teacher, leading other blind and deaf persons in the study of subjects of which they could neither hear nor speak, nor see.

A battle to death between a spider and an 18-inch moccasin, with the former as the victor, was witnessed by B. D. Hodges in a pumphouse in Greensboro, N. C., several months ago. The spider bound its struggling prey securely in its web, then attacked it. The battle lasted four hours. Although the snake weighed many times as much as the spider, the latter was able by maneuvering the strands in its web, to lift the snake.

SCORE IS INJURED BY CAR CRASHES IN CITY AND ENVIRONS

Eight Persons Hurt When 2 Autos Collide in Brookland Near Trinity College.

More than a score of persons were injured in automobile accidents in and near the District yesterday. Eight of the casualties resulted when two cars were in collision as they rounded near Trinity College, on Michigan avenue northeast, in Brookland.

The most serious of the day's accident sufferers was a 15-year-old boy, riding tandem on a motorcycle which swerved and struck a parked car at Sherman avenue and Park road northwest, throwing driver and tandem rider to the roadway.

The tandem rider, Rogers Venable, was taken to Garfield Hospital by Tenth Precinct police, as was the driver, Robert A. Moore, 21, of 905 G street northwest. Parents of young Venable, who live at 517 G street southeast, refused to allow him to be admitted for further treatment at the hospital, although Dr. B. C. Waters declared it was highly advisable. He was treated for lacerations to the head, and Moore was treated for a wrenched knee, bruises and lacerations.

Eight Taken to Hospital.

Those injured in the Michigan avenue accident were all taken to Sibley Hospital except the driver of one of the cars, James Hagerty, 22, of 2206 F street northwest, who was treated at Emergency Hospital for cuts and bruises. Other passengers in Hagerty's car were Miss Margaret Daly, 18, 2134 O street northwest, who suffered cuts and bruises about the face; Margaret Hagerty, 19, 2206 F street northwest, cuts and bruises, and Agnes Genoe, 18, 603 Twenty-second street northwest. The other car was driven by Charles H. Rool, 58, 132-A Q street northwest, treated for lacerations of the forearm, cuts about the face and body bruises. Passengers in Rool's car were treated as follows; Mrs. Clara T. Lilly, 54; her son, Joseph Lilly, 128 Twelfth street northeast, both treated for cuts and lacerations, the former also having two teeth broken; Mrs. Charles H. Rool, wife of the driver, possible internal injuries.

A trio of tourists from South Orange, N. J., were injured when their car overturned after swerving to avoid a collision on the highway from Winchester to Washington. Brought to Emergency Hospital here by Virginia State police, all were admitted for treatment. They are Mrs. Zella Michaelson, 66, multiple bruises and shock; Harold G. Michaelson, 42, fractured rib and lacerations of the right side, and Mrs. Christine Michaelson, 29, driver of the car, bruises and shock.

Other Accidents.

Anne J. Brady, 60, of 2900 P street northwest, was treated at Georgetown Hospital for cuts about the head suffered when a car in which she was riding, and driven by her son, Glen F Brady, 16, was in collision at Thirteth and N streets northwest with a machine driven by Thomas Lyons, 18, of 2910 M street northwest.

Three persons were treated at Casualty Hospital early yesterday as the result of injuries received in an accident near Chapel Point, Md. They were Samuel B. SHRINE DEDICATED IN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Mrs. J. B. Connell's Gift to Immaculate Conception Blessed During Rites.

The Seven Statue Shrine, recently completed in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, was unveiled with special ceremonies yesterday afternoon during the radio broadcast service from the church.

The Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor, presided at the ceremony and dedicated and blessed the shrine. He was assisted by the Rev. J. Kelly Reese. The shrine was unveiled by the donor, Mrs. John B. Connell. The gift is in memory of her deceased husband. The Rev. Francis X. Cavanagh, pastor of the Church of the Assumption, in his dedicatory address, declared that as the State puts up statues, monuments, and various memorials to honor the country's heroes and to commemorate their sacrifices, so the church does the same in erecting images of the saints to honor the friends of God and to remind the people of their lofty examples of courage and sacrifice.

The shrine is executed in burnt oak of Manuel De Meza. It is made of one great arch with three smaller intersecting arches divided into seven niches. The center niche is occupied by the statue of Our Lady of Loretto; the other six niches contain the statues of Ste. Anne, St. Christopher, St. Blaise, St. Patrick, St. Lucy, and St. Francis Xavier.

The service, broadcast from the church through the Washington Catholic Radio Hour over WOL, included also the Blessing of the Sick and the Solemn Lourdes procession which included 65 girls in blue and white dresses; twelve monks of the Friars of the Atonement and 24 altar boys in blue and white cassocks.

The music of the service, under the direction of Harry Wheaton Howard, included Florence Yocum, soprano; Fred Nolan, baritone; Ann Arlen, violinist, and the Boys' Sanctuary Choir. The service concluded with solemn benediction.

The Immaculate Conception Church will celebrate the newly established Feast of the Maternity of the Blessed Virgin on Tuesday, with a solemn high mass at 9 a. m. Other masses will take place at 6:45 a. m.; 7:30 a. m., and 12:15 noon. This will be the first time that the feast will be celebrated since it was established, but recently by the Pope.

B. Swormstedt, former manager of the Community Institute Course, which will not be offered this winter.

No man living knows the theater as well as Daniel Frohman, and probably no man living has managed so many famous plays and players, including Mary Anderson, Richard Mansfield, Sir Henry Irving, Ellen Terry, Langtry, Sarah Bernhardt, Maude Adams, John Drew and Otis Skinner.

Prominent organizations in the city are cooperating in the event, notably the League of Republican Women and District of Columbia Federatoin of Women's Clubs. Statement of Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the Board of District Commissioners, on the observance of fire prevention week:

"Today we begin our active observance of fire prevention week. This event has been urged by President Hoover and is being participated in by thousands of other cities throughout our country.

"Your Board of District Commissioners are particularly anxious that Washington's fine record in reducing losses in life and property be continued with ever-increasing success.

"In calling this matter to your attention, may I urge that each and every District citizen, during the current week, and thereafter, keep prominently in mind the fact that most of our fire losses are preventable and apply this knowledge on every occasion so that Washington may lead in this intensely practical as well as humanitarian movement."

TWO CAPITAL ACTORS TO BE 'WASHINGTON'

Harvest Festival Pageant to Be Seen at Monument Tomorrow.

Two Washington actors, James Otis Porter and Richard Stringfellow, will appear as "George Washington, Planter," envisioning the future harvests of the country, in the harvest festival pageant, "The Vision of George Washington," to be given tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday nights at 8 o'clock at the Washington Monument, by the District of Columbia Bicentennial Commission.

Richard Stringfellow will appear as the youthful Washington, dreaming of the "task of making improvements on the earth, rather than the vainglory of ravaging it by conquest," and James Otis Porter will appear as the older Washington, in his home at Mount Vernon, surveying his own fields, as symbolic of future harvests.

They said they found nothing that would indicate Mr. Detwiler was struck by an automobile.

It was decided to transfer some of the lot to another precinct station. The Sixth Precinct Station was picked and 37 prisoners were loaded in patrols and moved to new quarters.

Inadequate facilities at the Second Precinct Station have long been a problem. The personnel has often complained of insanitary conditions throughout the station.

BIBLE SCHOOL WORK IS URGED BY PASTOR

Religious Benefits Stressed by Rev. Godfrey Chobot in Sermon.

"Every member of the church ought to be a member, or a part of the working force of the Bible school," said the Rev. Godfrey Chobot, pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, preaching yesterday morning.

"All lovers of the church ought to seek its growth. Anything that tends to the growth of the church ought to have their hearty support.

"The Bible school not only feeds the church with quantity but also with quality of members. The training of the Bible School betters that brand of the church member.

"As officer, as teacher, as musician, as helper, as visitor to the sick, as seeker for new scholars, the Bible school gives the Christian a chance for doing much good. Were I a layman that is the department of the church in which I would enter. An organization tried and true and equipped which puts into the hand of the worker the sword of the spirit and helps him to win triumphs for the Son of God.

"I have been talking about all classes of membership being in the Bible school. But there are some particular classes which ought to be in the school without fail. First, the children whose time in the school can be a delight, whose life can be influenced in a large degree as to what their future life may be.

"The next class is that of the young man. And why should he be a student in the Bible school? Because the Bible is a virile book, and it tends to produce virile men. Then another class, the young women. Young womanhood owes a great deal to the Bible, and to Christ of the Bible who turned the searchlight of truth upon cruelty and superstition and made young womanhood what she is, and what she enjoys today.

"Still another class is that of the parents. We can easily say that children are good imitators. They like to follow their examples. Then there are those who can not come because of sickness. How can we reach them? We can reach them through the home department."

YOUNGER MEN TOLD OF EVILS IN STAYING OUTSIDE OF CHURCH

12,000,000 in U. S. Should Make Study of Sin, Says Rev. C. B. Austin.

"Let us pray that some philosopher will be able to challenge the twelve million young men between 16 and 30 in the United States, who are outside the church to make an earnest study of sin, which separates men from God and destroys their usefulness for good in the Nation," declared the Rev. Charles B. Austin, preaching yesterday evening at the West Washington Baptist Church.

Taking as his text, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord," Mr. Austin said in part:

"What does Jesus want men to think of sin? In the first place, He wants them to learn to recognize the nature of sin, that they may avoid it or overcome it. What is sin? I am going to give you two answers to the sin question by two brilliant writers that will help you to see the tragedy of sin. Joseph Baxer, of Pennsylvania, has written a sermon on 'The Devil's Pay' or 'The Wages or Sin' that every man ought to read. He says, to show you what fools we mortals be, I propose to rehearse for you some of the deaths we die in sinning. But before I do so I want you to remember that sin in the Bible means more than theft, adultery, lying and murder. There are a thousand hidden sins for every discovered one, just as there are a thousand hidden sores for every one that is seen.

Sins of Mind.

"'The sins of the mind, such as envy, hate, jealousy, lust, indolence, resentment, arrogance, are legion, and they are all included under the term sin. So is the refusal to accept God's plan of salvation, when you accept His plan of air, water, sunshine, food, love, home, country and the innumerable blessings that He gives you. Sin, in the Bible meaning, includes everything that isn't right, whether it is away back in the secret chambers of your mind or blazing from a murderer's pistol.'

"If I had the power to write a sermonette on the sky in large letters of gold that every man could read, I think I would write Ashley Chappell's definition of sin. He has truly said: 'Sin is a great troubler. It is your trouble. It is the trouble of millions of restless souls who travel the ways of life with feverish uncertainty. Back of every sorrow that can not be cured is the awful fact of sin. Sin is devastation. It lays waste. It robs the life of peace. It brings night into the soul with no promise of a 'winsome tomorrow.' It slays hope, destroys faith and crucifies love.'"

"In the second place Jesus wants men to think about the tremendous power of sin to wreck the individual life, the home and the Nation.

"Listen to this awful word. 'In my pastorate at Abilene years ago in a great revival which I was holding in my church, I went, as my custom, was, to see the people. I went into a hotel, which was under a new management. I went into the office and invited the proprietor, who had just come to the town, to make our church his church home. He was a big, fine-looking man. He looked me in the face and said, "I am," and for two or three minutes I stood and heard him swear and curse preachers and churches and Christians. Then he walked back into the private room of his hotel.'

Scene on Death Bed.

"'During that meeting God led back from 27 years of backsliding, led there by this wicked man, his wife. I led to Christ his Son, who now, thank God, is preaching the gospel in California. I led to Christ his daughter, who is a student in our training school at Fort Worth. When that meeting was over, one day my telephone rang. That wife at the other end of the line said, "Come." I went to that hotel. I went into that family room. There stood the weeping wife and the sorrowing children. There lay that big strong man on his bed breathing his last. He had been suddenly taken with an incurable disease. His lips moved and his wife said. "Put your ear to his lips and hear what he says." I am sorry I did. A thousand times his dying words have rung in my soul—"Dying without hope; dying without God; dying without Christ—hopeless, hopeless!" For 25 times, I guess, his strength enabled him to say it; and then he went out into eternity.' This story of Dr. L. R. Scarborough's visit to a dying hotel proprietor ought to warn lost men everywhere to turn from sin and follow Jesus Christ.

"In the third place Jesus wants men to think of the Divine cure for sin. There is just one way to overcome sin. There is only one Saviour and Lord who can overthrow the adversary back of this dark picture and dark reality. The Bible says, 'Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.' If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 'For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.'"
